Hey you got a sec?

Sep 3, 2020, 5:23 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Hey I need to speak with you

Jul 6, 2020, 4:12 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

The point is it will absolutely murder her to know we are speaking of this. One reason is she is continually paranoid of her ex's extended network. Doesn't matter if you like her ex or not. She has put me on ignore for that reason.

Jan 12, 2020, 4:13 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

To follow up on what we talked about. Make sure it never gets back to Jenny. She is pitiful and has bad mental health issues. It would send her into a terrible fit of panic and pain if she knew I was talking to anyone about this.

Idk if you know but she was gang raped brutally at app state around age 18 to 20. It traumatized her. She also claims to suffer from trauma over her ex husband, if I remember right. She made an attempt on her own life years ago and succeeded. Her dad called the police and she was dead when Ems got there. They shocked her with those things they put on your heart and were there just in time to bring her to life

Jan 12, 2020, 4:12 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Hey Brandie, I'm a mess in life and you're busy, but I will call you later

Jan 12, 2020, 4:08 AM

Jan 8, 2020, 3:14 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Yes thank you

Jan 8, 2020, 3:14 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

I hope like hell the answer is I didn't hurt her that bad at all, but the truth is what I am after

Jan 8, 2020, 3:01 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Jan 8, 2020, 2:59 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

You can be honest as you want

Jan 8, 2020, 2:59 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

I've reached out to her for 7 years. Reached out to her mom at least once in the past 2.

Jan 8, 2020, 2:51 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

I mean no harm at all and will keep it between you and I

Jan 8, 2020, 2:51 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

I get the idea now that this is a topic that everyone is dead set on avoiding

Jan 8, 2020, 2:51 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

What's your number

Jan 8, 2020, 2:50 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

She doesn't care to hear about it, and I don't want to bother her with it. It's selfish of me at this point. I will let her be because that's obviously what she wants. But any input you could give I would appreciate

Nov 28, 2019, 10:38 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

It was a very cruel thing to not care about her crying and to instead accuse of her throwing a pity party and trying to make people feel sorry for her.

And she did have this trait. She did always seem to get gratification from people feeling sorry for her, but I don't blame her.

It was later in life, around age 19 or 20 when I started to reflect on this. Then even more at around age 22 and it became something that was increasingly on my mind.

I have extreme difficulty sorting this out in my mind. At this point I hate to say it is about me again. I've reached out to her dozens of times over the past 7 years or so over this.

She was talking to me on Facebook as a friend and then I mentioned this and she stopped talking. Looking at it now I think she'd just rather not think about any of it and I brought it up.

For whatever reason, she doesn't care to hear about it, get an apology, have me put it in writing that she wasn't lying and that I was. I am pretty sure I've offered her money if that would make her feel better at some point. Right now I have no way of doing that. I am in deep financial doo doo.

So in my mind I try to work out why she doesn't want to talk about it or hear about it. It may be because she doesn't think it is a big deal and thinks that I'm living in the past. It may be because she has had some much pain related to that sort of thing. It may be because she doesn't think I'm a good person.

The response that everyone I've talked to about this has given has all been along the lines of "boys are going to do that" "you are beating yourself up over nothing" "you didn't force her to do anything and I was doing the same stuff with a 17 year old guy when I was that age".

There is no divide among male and female, although I've talked about it mostly to females. I figured they would have a more accurate idea of how someone would feel.

Men and boys seem to as a rule underestimate the effect their behavior can have on women and girls.

But I feel like I'm beating a dead horse, because I cannot get anyone to tell me I did anything wrong, except one person who said that it was wrong but that we all did that sort of stuff as kids.

But the last thing I remember from her in regards to this situation was that someone told me she had cried.

So I feel like I am not doing anyone any justice until I hear it from her or someone who she has confided her feelings about this with.

I look back and I do think that she told her about me not for my sake, or at least my sake alone. I think that she saw me as the person she could tell about, like the weakling or the low hanging fruit, and that hopefully this would trigger intervention in general terms. I'm sure it bothered her more and more how many boys were all over her.

I think that she knew that the other kids parents would fight back like hell, and that I was frail and not intimidating like the others, and so I was her ticket to get the adults to zero in on the broader situation.

It would do me a world of good to hear from her or someone who knows how she feels to say that it wasn't a big deal and I didn't hurt her emotions and she didn't hold it against me. It would do me less good but still good to hear that I caused her bad emotional pain.

Every single person I have talked to, mostly females, I have given the details exactly as I remember them. I don't Sugar coat or alter the details to make me look better than i was, and I still get the answer not to worry about it, did nothing bad, etc.

And when I replay the facts in my mind, it seems that way to me too. I have no doubt that she had some amount of emotional distress over what she and I did. I do not think I did something good. I think I did something bad that was potentially very hurtful and hard for her to deal with, and may possibly even bother her to this day.

But when I look back, it was me and everyone else, on her and all the other girls. It was the kids on the school bus doing the same sort of stuff.

I cannot defend my actions but I cannot defend theirs either, and I think that is part of the difference of being a kid and an adult. So judging me by an absolute standard I fail. But judging me relatively next to all of the other kids my age, I'm just another kid doing mischief he has no business doing like most of them. And I can't help but bring up that I'm the only one out of all of them who is beating himself up over it 26 years later. And I never forced her to do anything, like others probably did. And what she and I did was minor compared to everyone else.

Nov 28, 2019, 10:36 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Regards to me and they all called her a liar in regards to themselves

Nov 28, 2019, 10:02 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Hey Brandie, getting you on the phone is not going to happen. You are apparently very busy.

So I'll just try to leave you messages and we can go back and forth on here.

I have not been doing good for a good bit now. I have times where I am better but I have been having extreme emotional pain. I've been in a place where I'm trying to tie up all of the lose ends in my life.

It has bothered me over the years on and off what happened with me and Mandy when I was a teenager. You were there that day the whole thing went down and I imagine she has confided in you about it if she has with anyone.

I've ran this series of events by quite a few people over the years, and they think I'm beating myself up over nothing. I feel that way too much of the time.

And if you're at all confused, I'm talking about Jeremiah McClains step sister from the trailer park. And I'm talking of this whole thing where I told her something along the lines that I would let her watch a movie if she let me feel her up. She told her dad that day and you were there.

I remember it as she had the facts wrong in some way, but I can't remember what it was. It was like she said I told her she could watch a movie and something was slightly different.

Whatever she said it was 99% true at minimum. And she told him of how she and I had been doing sexual stuff for some period of time.

I was mad and accused her of lying. You were there. You obviously believed her and of course she was telling the truth.

We'd been doing this stuff in private and hiding it for months here and there if I remember right. I was the initiator and I had to talk her into it a good bit of the time when it happened. I have described it to others as "I pressured her into ..." and that is pretty much it.

And by the way, for her sake please keep this conversation private. I couldn't care less about people knowing this about me, but she is someone who has had a lot of pain in life and I get the sense that things of this sort are not a thing she cares to talk about or think about at all.

She may have told you the background, but I'll tell you again. When I first moved to the trailer park at around age 9, there was a lot of precocious sexual stuff going on from the get go.

We all seemed to be ahead of our age in that regard, meaning mostly the boys. I remember one of the first days I was there another boy told Mandy to show us her stuff. I will try to not mention other people's names if I can avoid it.

She did it as soon as she was asked. At that time I felt guilty and wouldn't look. The other boy wasn't concerned at all about doing something wrong.

We did this sort of thing with all the girls around as time went on. Would hijack them when they got out of the shower and yank their towel. Sometimes they would do stuff willingly. There seemed to be a curiosity among everyone, but on balance the boys were the initiator far more and the girls usually only complied after some amount of psychological pressure or pestering.

But Mandy became a target for this I think, in particular. A year or so before this time where she told, I'd talked her into letting me feel her up while we were watching tv. It was very brief and I remember feeling bad and awkward about it. It was like a idea that I kind of got on a whim and I didn't feel good about it.

Then we picked this up again several months before she told her dad that day. It was an on and off again thing, and then it got more persistent, and it didn't last long.

She had told me right before she told her dad about it that another boy who lived nearby was doing the exact same stuff with her. Said "you and so and so are just alike". Said that they had "almost went all the way."

She and I had only done much more minor stuff. I have reason to believe that a third friend of mine had done the same thing with her, and she mentioned at least one more, so we are up to 4 boys total that were doing stuff with her so far, and I would imagine that most of the boys who came to her house after a certain age were doing along those lines.

She had also told me about yet another boy who had "tried to have sex with me" and spoke of this as if it was a forced attempt that failed.

I thought about that much later in life, and it is very unlikely that this boy failed. I do not see her being 1/10th as physically strong as she would have needed to be to fend for herself.

I accused her of lying, but told several of my friends at school and they jokingly referred to me as "molesting Mandy".

I remember that she cried the day she told. I didn't see or hear it but I was told that she did. And you have no idea how much it rips me to pieces to type that.

At the time I was totally self centered in regards to the situation. I was not at all in any kind of mindset to apologize or come clean to her dad or do anything other than to tell him that she lied. I don't see myself as being abnormally selfish, because the other kids mostly called her a liar in regard

Caught you online

Oct 23, 2019, 7:33 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

I know you are extremely busy and I won't keep nagging you about it, but please give me a time that you can talk when you have time.

Please do not mention this to people but I have health problems and am uncertain how much longer I will live. I see it as possible that I am not here within the next 3 years.

I will do whatever I can to pay you back. I am uncertain if I did any wrong and I don't know how to think of this situation. But if there is a great wrong somewhere in my life, this whole thing is the only candidate. I have done many things that were wrong, but none that destroyed people the way that things can destroy people. Hurt yes but murdering souls I have not done. I need someone to help me understand it and I want to make it right however I can if I have done any wrong. If that is the case I want to make it right sooner rather than later, because later is less and less probable to exist for me as time goes on

Oct 2, 2019, 1:15 AM

Is it possible you could talk today

And also, for the time being, please keep this between you and I. I have a lot to deal with at the moment and would rather the public at large doesn't know that we are talking about this immediately

Apr 15, 2019, 9:26 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Hey I want to talk to you. I'm trying to resolve things from the past. I want to talk to you about the situation with Mandy from back when we were kids. You recall this well I am sure and were the closest involved friend in that situation. If you are open to talk about that could you please message me with a rough idea of a time you could talk. If you can't let me know that too and I will ask someone else.

Apr 15, 2019, 9:19 AM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Hey we never had our phone call. I'm sure you're just busy and believe me I understand. I would still be very interested in talking to you. I know all about cell phone hacking and that jazz if you're worried. There is something that I have wanted to talk to someone about for a long time and you are one of the few people who would have anything to say about it

Feb 16, 2019, 4:27 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

How you been Brandie

Jan 4, 2019, 8:15 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

I mean it's like 3 weeks between texts. I live next to my phone. Just an observation. I'll still help you with your cell phone spies when you need it. You just have to catch me at the right time. I would really like your input on something that I think you are possibly the best person on earth to answer

Oct 28, 2018, 6:57 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Hey dude you must stay buried with stuff to do

Oct 28, 2018, 6:55 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Got any cell phone spies? Watch out for those apps. The ones that have the "this app would like to access your camera and photos" permission thing come up can be used to watch you remotely all day long. Someone could be watching everything you do through your cell phone

Oct 17, 2018, 1:35 PM

I wait until long after the newest iOS comes out to install it to avoid all the headaches, but I accidentally clicked install on this one and it bit me in the ass instantly. Apple is every bit as bad as I've made them out to be. They prove it over and over

Oct 3, 2018, 6:53 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

But these iOS updates are often just an installation of a bunch of pain in the ass bugs

Oct 3, 2018, 6:52 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Phone was in sight so 2 minutes after they called I seen the little pop up

Oct 3, 2018, 6:52 PM

Oct 3, 2018, 6:45 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Oct 3, 2018, 6:45 PM

Brandie McCoury

Holy cow!

Oct 3, 2018, 6:45 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Yes I would love for you to call me. I will help you with your phone and in exchange I need to talk to you about something.

Oct 3, 2018, 6:44 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

And there are a zillion hackers out there. It is largely people with much more time than money. It's worth it to them to spread their stuff all over the place.

And a majority of the hacking attacks come from automated bots the hackers have came up with.

I am developing a website right now that will require storing customer info on a database. I have to secure it in multiple ways, because there will be literally thousands of attempts to hack it every single month by bots

Oct 3, 2018, 6:44 PM

Brandie McCoury

It's hard 2 text everything!U know?

Oct 3, 2018, 6:43 PM

Brandie McCoury

I've got a Samsung Galaxy Note 8!I only use wifi @ home!Could I maybe call u sometime & talk 2 u

Oct 3, 2018, 6:43 PM

A big no no is entering your information when you’re using unsecured networks

Oct 3, 2018, 6:41 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

And what type of phone do you have?

Oct 3, 2018, 6:41 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

What crazy stuff does it do?

Oct 3, 2018, 6:40 PM

Brandie McCoury

Because my phone does crazy stuff,it's a long story!!I'm not sure why they r!Maybe it's just because they can!

Oct 3, 2018, 6:36 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

What are they spying on specifically?

Oct 3, 2018, 6:33 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Why do you think so?

Oct 3, 2018, 6:32 PM

Brandie McCoury

I know it sounds crazy!

Oct 3, 2018, 6:29 PM

Brandie McCoury

No,well~Idk,I think someone may be spying on me!

Oct 3, 2018, 6:29 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

You looking to spy on someone?

Oct 3, 2018, 6:28 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

I don't know how to do much of it, but I know a lot about what to look out for

Oct 3, 2018, 6:28 PM

Brandie McCoury

WOW,I did not know that!Thanks so much,really!So do u know a lot about scam or hacker stuff w/ cell phone!! know it's a weird question!Just curious!

Oct 3, 2018, 6:28 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

That is or is not your neighbor's kid? That's what I was asking.

I am guessing it is not, and these things are scams FYI. Sometimes these will have viruses or malware attached to them. No one is going to pay based on how many messenger forwards a photo gets for numerous reasons, one being that there is no reliable way to count how many times it got forwarded.

Oct 3, 2018, 6:21 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

You said she is my neighbor's kid

Oct 3, 2018, 6:19 PM

Brandie McCoury

Idk,I guess so!I didn't really second guess it!Why?

Oct 3, 2018, 6:18 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Is this for real?

Sep 27, 2018, 10:01 AM

Brandie McCoury

She gets a dollar for every pic that's shared on messenger it goes towards her kidney transplant.... you gotta share plz she is my neighbors kid

Sep 26, 2018, 9:31 PM

Leonard Clinton Williams III

That's awesome!! Idk if you heard by I got on drugs pretty bad from about 16 to 18, and it ended up causing me to have permanent brain chemistry problems. I lost reality and was in Broughton for a few months up until a little after my 19th birthday. After I got out I've been trying to make it big in life since and work has dominated my life totally for going on 20 years. I first wanted to play pool for a living and saved up money for years to have a garage built and a professional table to put in it. Then that got derailed unintentionally when I went into real estate. I planned on doing both but real estate got me into a struggle and I had to quit pool. Then in 2007 the market tanked and I went to college. I got a finance degree from app state and moved to Charlotte to work for the banks up here. Was jobless for 6 months and then got on at Bank of America. Survived every layoff in my Dept except the last one. Was the #1 producer every month for the last 12 months I was there. Then went to Wells Fargo. I was the top producer in that job too. I was assigned the most complex commercial and corporate loans in the bank. I had all the agribusiness loans for 2/3rds of the United States, over 320 customers in total, with loans ranging from $3 million on the extreme low end to $1 billion or more on the high end. Did that for years, but my debts caught up to me and they cut back overtime over and over. I started doing web development on the side last year to make up the difference . Then 3 months ago, After being put through hell for the past 2 years by them, I told them to fuck off and walked out on them. Now I'm doing web development solely now. Looking like I'll have to get another finance job to hold me over until I get my business going, but I'm very excited because I've been happier the past 3 months than I've ever been. Working for myself is exactly what I need

Leonard Clinton Williams III

Hey just making sure you didn't misinterpret the email I sent if you read it. I would have been tempted to say we'll have it up to test within a few days, but have given previous deadlines that were similar but were overly optimistic. So I'm not quoting anything other than we will be fully up and running on your url by oct 1st.

But when I say that, that doesn't mean my estimate that we will be up to test is moving from a matter of days to a matter of weeks. It is still a matter of days at most.

And I'm having a blast consolidating these boxes to determine dimensional weight. I'm not being sarcastic. It is just the kind of puzzle I like solving.

The online store now for Xmas looks good, but you may want changes. I have all the products on one page, and they extend down farther than the text you and I made for the store.

If you want I can just come up with something to fill in the gap, and/or put the products on 2 pages instead of 1. Right now we have 12 product listings, with several of the products having 2 to 4 sizes, and the wreaths often having single and double options, making a total of up to 8 sizes each.

It's totally up to you how much involvement you want in terms of tweaking the appearance. I will welcome any feedback you have and most likely implement it if it doesn't require an unusually large amount of effort.

Right now I have the shopping cart set to calculate shipping based on 9 lbs billable weight. That is obviously wrong in most cases. I just plugged that there so that it would do something, while I work out the box consolidation.

I really hope this makes you happy when it's done. I think it will. I think you will look back a year from now and it will seem worth it. At the very least, I am hoping it will automate your orders that current come via mail, and also cut down the legwork you have to do to see who has cheaper shipping.

And I'll offer again- if you have concerns reach out to me anytime.

That you for the advice. I did find her on Facebook. It's a shame she's been known to do that. she used to be the perfect sweetest little girl, or seemed that way to me many years ago last time I seen her

Hey Brandie, I'm a blast from the past I'm sure. Hope you're doing well and sorry for intruding in your life. I've been talking to your sister about potentially cleaning my apartment for money. I'm getting a little impatient because I've asked about a million people and they keep flaking. She was all about it the other day but I thought I had someone. Can you message or call her and ask her to message me ASAP? I wish now I would have just told her to come on instead of counting on the other girl.
