

These are a selection of my emails from my Gmail account to the United States Department of Justice. I have pulled the data off of Google's servers, through the Gmail API, and loaded them on to a custom HTML template that made. I use the Gmail API, because it offers an easier way to automate tasks like printing emails or searching my inbox. The text, profile photo, images, and other content are exactly the same as the originals. The only difference is the appearance of the background elements & some of the styling.

This abuse is killing me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)"

This latest round of abuse has triggered terrible symptoms. The stress of my life tanking has worn me down extremely. I am extremely weak and there is something wrong with my heart. This is your problem. You did this to me. You disabled me for life, such that I cannot work to make an income. Without an income, I cannot stop my life from tanking. So my relentless stress and hell and suffering goes on day after day after day, because you will not do anything to help me. It wears me down over time, and it will wear me down forever. You have the full power to stop this stress and suffering, but you will not.

I need a trier to not fight with me. I was making some audios to explain this appointment from the other day, but then this profound weakness set in. I cannot take any more victimization. I am likely to die if they start more of this shit. I am beaten and destroyed and extremely weak.

Sorry to be so blunt. I don't mean to be rude. It is just that I am suffering extremely and am on the verge of collapsing. I've been trying to get you to help me for 10 months. I wanted you to end this hellish stress and suffering.

I will send you the audios that explain my behavior in that appointment when I am well. I still have one more to take. It is 3 audios or a few more long. If it is a concern to you, my audios will explain.

I really need atrium to help me. I was not out to get them in that appointment. I just got pissed off all of the sudden and brought up this topic. I was trying to explain that what is wrong with me is that I am handicapped and cannot make my own way in life. This is the point that I have been trying to get across.

This "pep talk" approach does nothing to address this reality. There is no pep talk that will cause me to no longer be handicapped and cause me to have the ability to make my own income and manage my own life. Going to the ER does nothing. When I leave the ER, I am still handicapped and unable to fend for myself in life. I am still not able to make a living income. I am still powerless to stop my life from tanking.

The difference is I have another hospital bill that I cannot afford to pay, and that will create more taxing tasks in my daily life. What I need and have needed is to get money to compensate me so that I can fund my life. I am powerless to make my own money, because I am handicapped.

I am getting long winded, but the point is that I was trying to explain this to atrium. They talk to everyone else on the other side of this, and so maybe they can explain it to you better than I can. The problem was that as I do that, I start to feel hostile about what has occurred. That's why I brought that up and it mushroomed from there. I was not out to get them.

I have taken one action after another to try to prod people into helping me. I've been doing this for 10 months. Over and over. I need this suffering and stress of my life tanking and of my helplessness that results from my being handicapped, I need this suffering to go away. I can't take it.

As I suffer, I have to sit and wonder why it is that I am not getting help. No one will tell me what I need to do to get help. Every concern that I can think of, I address it. I tell you of the dire nature of my circumstances. I try to get the media involved to see if that can make things go faster. I tell you that you can blame it on me that there is no criminal trial. I explain that my family is lying about my abuse and has been. I emphasize that I am honest. I try one approach after another with you.

As I am doing this, I tell you what I'm up to, so that you are in the loop. It is your situation and it is my situation, and I try to work together as a team. As I take this approach, my suffering goes on and I am baffled as to what I need to do and what is holding you up and why you won't help me. I on and off get mad, over my suffering, and I end up screaming at you.

If you are getting weary of hearing about my suffering, I am also getting weary of telling you about it. I have wanted the day to come that I do not have to tell you about it, because I am being helped. That day never comes and so I am consumed with this situation and figuring out how I am supposed to get help. If you would have helped me end this stress of my life tanking because I am handicapped, you would not be receiving these communications.

I've wanted to speak to you directly for a long time. You could just tell me what I need to do. I am good at understanding the instructions of others. I am also sharp and talented in thinking of ways to address or get around any road blocks. I could help you find a way to help me. And you can believe me, that I will do what you say.

It is inaccurate to say that I have tried one approach after another. More like I have addressed one potential concern after another. As I do this, I am extremely honest with you. Honesty is a consistent theme in my interactions with you.

Your abuse is killing me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)"

This new medication regimen is horrific. I have something wrong with my heart, as a result of the horrific relentless and terrible stress of this battle. My heart is weakened. When you take away my adderall and load me up on sedating medications, this makes it worse. I have felt like I'm going to die several times today.

It is more, though, just the fact that I am being abused and massacred. I cannot take any more abuse. You have nearly killed me with this last round of abuse. I am not sure if I will survive it. I can tell you that one more round of abuse will kill me. I will not survive. I am extremely weakened. I have been getting massacred with abuse for almost 2.5 years. This is by people who outweigh me extremely and who outnumber me dozens to one.

I am a human being. I have a finite capacity for how much massacre and abuse I can take. You have pushed the limit as far as it will go. Any further abuse by you and/or Wells Fargo will kill me. I can't take any more. I will die. Your actions will have been those of a deliberate murderer.

Make this right for me so that this horrific stress can be lifted and that I can live. Please, I am begging you, in humiliation, for my life. Above all, please stop abusing me. I need some kind of short term relief if I am to for sure make it any further. This last round has put my life in jeopardy.

I ask for relief and I often do not seem to get it, but I ask anyways. I'm telling you that I need it and that my life is at stake. I need rent for sept. That would help. It is $1,065. I also for sure need to get more adderall. Sept rent I may be able to come up with from government programs, but if I had it in the bag it would help my situation. Same thing for a handful of money for things like groceries.

Your tactic is to take away the one medication that helps me the most, and then load me up on another one that has long been documented to cause me extreme cognitive impairment. This solves your problem in the short term, but it ignores the fact that I am a human being and that I can only take so much.

Please help me. I can't give you a week off because I might not be here next week. You need to understand how dire my condition is.

Instead of asking you to help me, I'm going to ask you to relent in your abuse of a disabled man. I am in hell right now and having bad withdrawal symptoms. This is what happens when you take away a disabled man's medication. Why do you do this to me? Just stop it. --

And FYI,

I will mourn AU girl for the rest of my life. I'm so sad as I type this. If I can get back to work, I can build a life that she may want to join.
