

The next pages are images of accolades/nominations for awards I got from Wells Fargo. I was the most decorated employee of Wholesale Loan Services. They repaid me for my sacrifice and extremely hard work by treating me like toilet paper and then murdering my soul.

Clint,

You have done an outstanding job covering the food & Ag Group. You have been proactive in working with the deal team to deliver timely spreads and compliance. You are always responsive to the questions of the front office. We are very impressed with your willingness to work late nights and on weekends to deliver exceptional service.

Thank You!

Moments of Truth Award nomination

Clint Williams

Nominated by: Shana de Oliveira

For exhibiting collaborative, execution focused, results focused, and customer centric principles

Clint Williams is not only a hard worker but excels in customer service. A few months ago, Clint was asked to take on a complicated portfolio. The portfolio he received was complex and required a high attention to detail and in addition to all of this, the office was in need of someone who could provide great customer service. Clint quickly accepted the challenge. Within the few months of learning a new portfolio and getting to know the offices and their needs, he has been able to take a strained relationship from bad to GREAT. I have received numerous emails from the front offices commending him on his excellent attention to detail and his ability to stay up to date with their high demand. From one front office: "... I have not seen any (mistakes) in the work he has completed for us. He makes sure things are handled timely to completion, and he demonstrates a willingness to learn about the processes and our customers." Many evenings you will see Clint working late to complete tasks for the front office and he always does it with a positive attitude. We are very fortunate to have Clint in our department as he is an excellent analyst, hard worker, and a joy to be around. He is truly deserving of this recognition and I am so grateful to have him on my team.

Moments of Truth Award nomination

Clint Williams

Nominated by: Zack Blades

For exhibiting the results focused principle

Clint is consistently doing a great job in delivering accurate and timely spreads to the Food & Agribusiness Central Division (Mountain/Southwest AU). If there is a question on how specific categories should be spread based on our LOB, Clint is not afraid to pick up the phone and call the lending office to discuss. He has done an excellent job prioritize customer request and goes above and beyond our expectations.
