

Call 1:

Mom claims to never talk to my doctors, just the people that answer the phone.

Mom says my doctor won't talk to her. She left a message with the person who answers the phone.

Mom says that she knew my doctors name "for a few days" "some kinda way" from when I was at the hospital (she is referring to my 4/21/2019 to 4/24/2019 stay at Atrium).

Call 2:

Mom claims to have told the people at Atrium that I am in a psychotic state.

Mom says that she doesn't know Jenny. She says that I accuse say that she plots and ploys with the people at Wells Fargo.

Mom refers to me saying "your friends at Wells Fargo"

Mom doesn't think that she told Atrium that I said BHC was "out to get me"

Mom says that my hospital won't talk to her. They are not allowed to.

Mom says that Atrium told her that she can leave a message but that they can't talk back

Mom says Atrium didn't tell her to have me IVC'ed

Mom says Atrium didn't tell her the process for how to IVC me.

Mom says they just write down what she says.

Call 3:

In this call, I try to catch mother in more lies. I tell her that Atrium's notes say that Atrium told mom to bring me to Novant. At first, mom seems to agree. Then she changes her story.

Mom claims to not know which hospital is which (this is bullshit).

Mom now claims that Atrium told her to bring me down there (to Atrium).

Mom, at first, claims it was her decision.

Mom: "I do think that they do say that if I felt like it was in your best interest, they could have you involuntarily committed. I don't remember them saying anything about the other place"

Mom claims that they told her she can go to the magistrate.

Mom now says that they can't tell her anything personal about me.

Mom says they wanted me to come talk with them.

Mom says that they told her that she could IVC me if she felt that it needed to be done.
