

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 3rd, 2022, 8:43 AM

audios for 12-03-2022 part 1

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

In this file naming convention, the file names are hyphenated, instead of using only underscores.

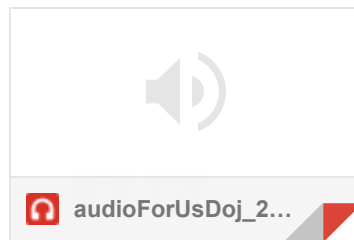

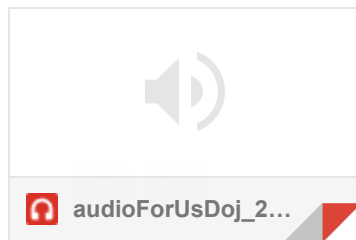

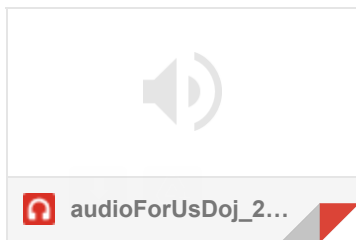

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

3 Attachments Scanned by Gmail

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 3rd, 2022, 8:44 AM

audios for 12-03-2022 part 2

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

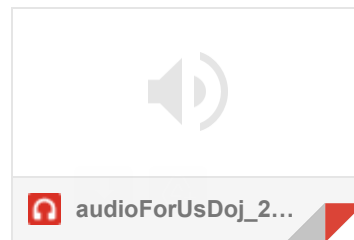

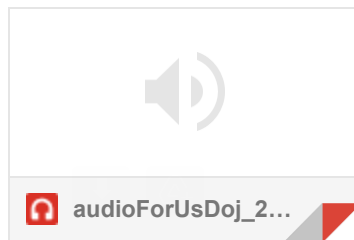

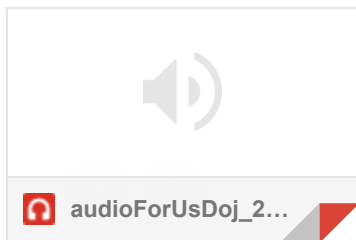

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

3 Attachments Scanned by Gmail

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 3rd, 2022, 8:44 AM

audios for 12-03-2022 part 3

To: civil.feedback@usdoj.gov, "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

This is the last of them.

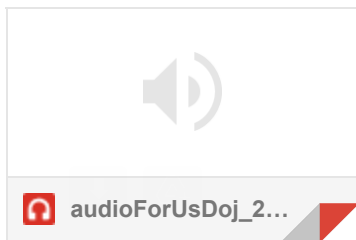

--

Warmest Regards,

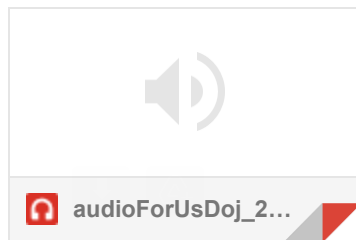

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

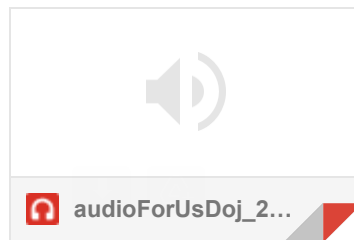

4 Attachments Scanned by Gmail

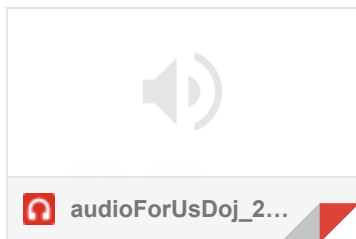

audioForUsDoj_2...

audioForUsDoj_2...

audioForUsDoj_2...

audioForUsDoj_2...

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 4th, 2022, 3:30 AM

I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am a ruined human being. I get recurring feelings like I am going to kill someone or that I would kill someone. I am given to extreme hostility and I live in torment. I will not make it out of this. You are going to be a murderer. Your coddling of the powerful has finally reached its ultimate extreme. You are going to see the day that Wall Street becomes a murderer. It is unfolding right in front of your eyes. You are so incredibly corrupt and inhuman. --

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 4th, 2022, 2:22 PM

I'm not your enemy

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This idea, that I'm the enemy because Wells Fargo victimized me or that I'm the enemy because you've victimized me is upside down, backwards, and inside out. Im not the enemy I am the victim.

I was just watching a 10 minute cnbc clip about Wells Fargo. What it reminded me of is how bad I hate what is happening to this bank. It's absolutely terrible. I feel bad at times, for going on the aggressive. Wells Fargo just wants to fix its business and the people there face all kinds of challenges. Everyone's life is hard, at least from their perspective.

You say that you protect the interests of the United States. That is part of your stated goal. It seems that you are of the opinion that the interests of Wells Fargo are the interests of the United States. Wells Fargo has the potential to benefit the United States. It already does and it has for a long time. Businesses get their capital. People get a home. People have the conveniences that come from having a bank account.

What you must realize is that the interests of Wells Fargo and the interests of everyone else in this country only line up to a certain extent. There are plenty of examples of times when the interests of Wells Fargo are counter to the interests of others. Conflicts of interest define our lives in this country. They are to be found everywhere.

Your other goal is to uphold the rule of law. Life does funny things to us, and it seems right up the alley of the way things go that the American economy, and therefore America itself, depends on the prolonged impunity of what looks to be among the most criminal enterprises in the history of the world, if you exclude organized crime.

With this situation with me, you are just kicking the can. We've got a big problem with this bank. I gave you the perfect opportunity to do something about it. I knew from fairly early on that this might run into a snafu with the economy. By this I mean we might have a big obstacle that prevents any sort of criminal prosecution of any of these people. What I expected, though, was for you to share my view that this situation just can't be. This isn't doable, to have a bank that is allowed to mercilessly abuse innocent people with no consequence.

This is the type of situation that brings you back to the drawing board. We've got to find some third option, and we've got to do something to fix this situation. That's the attitude that I expected.

You will have the exact same problem after me. You will still have a bank that is allowed to mercilessly abuse people with no consequence. It's most likely going to be that much more pumped up. The crimes will get more vicious, as the bank's self-perception of being above the law is reinforced over and over.

I sent you the thing about the wire fraud victim. Odds are at least 80% that a Wells Fargo employee or multiple Wells Fargo employees were involved. You do nothing about it. An innocent woman who can barely buy groceries is made another victim who will not be made whole. She paid the price for this bank's conduct.

Then there is the lady who had the judge paid off in her foreclosure case. This is another one where we have a 70% or 80% chance, minimum, that Wells Fargo was involved in this apparent crime. This happened subsequent to me submitting my complaint. They're still committing crimes right under your nose, even after all of this.

I send you audios where I curse you out and beat you to death. I will no longer apologize for those. This is despite the fact that if I could prevent myself from saying so many curse words, I would. I just turn on my computer and think out loud.

I will not let this bank get away with this cruel murder of me. I will make sure that you and them have to answer for who you've done. Maybe I'm wrong for doing this. I don't see how.

It's my bedtime.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 4th, 2022, 3:00 PM

Re: I'm not your enemy

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I just watched the rest of that video. The various commentators were talking about the chances that the bank gets broken up. I would hate to see that happen. I want this bank to make it right with me and then to fix it's problems. What is needed is for the bank to do some capital raising. It needs to get the fed to give it some leeway on the asset cap. If they let the bank raise capital, it can fix its problems. By raise capital I mean sell some of their treasury stock or do a seasoned equity offering (if they don't have much treasury stock. Seems like they do.)

The other option is to pay for murdering me. I'm writing my book and they will pay for what they've done to me. If they get a cease and desist from a judge or pay off a judge to rule in their favor, I will rot in complete misery in prison for the rest of my life, as long as that means that my book is kept in circulation. I intend to give it away for free online. Digital download. Just maybe I charge a handful of nickels for the audiobook version (if I do that, I'll include in the purchaser's license that they can share it with as many people as they want. The point is to get my story out there. Making money is a secondary concern.)

If something happens to me and I die as a result of this victimization, it will not turn out good for anyone. My book will defend my character and my life and my striving and my efforts and there will be no bullshitting their way out of it by defaming a dead man. I've got my story in me. It is a story that should never be told, but I have no choice but to tell it. I have no idea what you think that you've done. You people are strange. It is again, as I have told you, the heartless and cruel murder of a very kindhearted man who had already suffered enough.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 5th, 2022, 4:08 AM

Re: I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The whole world will learn from my life after I am gone. You will see.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 5th, 2022, 4:38 PM

Re: I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If my behavior seems strange, it is because I am very unwell. My brain has been severely injured by this massacre.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 5th, 2022, 4:02 AM

I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You have killed me with your abuse.--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 5th, 2022, 4:06 AM

Re: I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I had 2 days in a row that were good days overall. I suffered a good bit yesterday but was still a good day. I am damaged very severely by your cruel and inhuman abuse and the cruel and inhuman abuse of Wells Fargo.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 5th, 2022, 4:50 PM

Re: I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The way I act around you is not normal for me. Everything changed in April 2019 and it was downhill from then. This massacre has decimated me as a human being. There is something horribly wrong with me and it cannot be fixed. You never knew me before this and so the way I act probably just seems strange or annoying. I am a ruined human being and I am so incredibly unwell. I curse at you in my audios but if you were to call me back I'd probably start shaking and crying and if you were in my house and you looked at me wrong it wouldn't end up good at all.

My little sister is incredibly hateful and rude and it is a must that she is never allowed in this apartment when I am here. The least little thing makes me feel like I am that man trapped in a cage in a jungle. What I am telling you is complete reality. Nothing is added, and in fact, some stuff is taken away. I've edited these past 2 paragraphs that you're reading. The first one sounded much worse. My condition is understated in this.

I can make it work indefinitely if I am given money and my own place. I know that for sure. Otherwise it is only a matter of time. I tell you that what I'm saying is complete reality because I often get the feeling that you do not let it sink in.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 7th, 2022, 5:17 AM

Re: I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Even after I get money, I will still want to die. I will just have less torment because I can live buy myself and buy nice things. I am incredibly damaged. My will is running out and is actually pretty much gone. I need to write my book. People will cry when they read it. It is an incredibly sad story.

You ignore the problem repeatedly. The day will come when it cannot be ignored. The day will come when you no longer receive emails from me. You will wish that you took me up on my offers to make this work for everyone.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 7th, 2022, 3:05 PM

Re: I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I made you some more audios and I'm debating on whether to send them to you. I don't plan anything and I end up spending 70% of the time telling you off and/or asserting how completely right I am and have been the whole time. I seem to have an awfully high opinion of myself. I notice this when I make these audios. It seems to me like this high opinion is kind of accurate. I will probably scrap these audios and make them over.

I keep thinking that the reason you won't help me and the reason that you have criminally victimized me is that you have been prejudiced by my healthcare records. I think that for sure you have been prejudiced by my healthcare records, but it is probably a bigger factor how my situation is the potential end of the world.

I still feel a need to explain my healthcare records and I still feel that the fact that we even talk about them is ridiculous. I have done more research on this. What I wanted to know was what is behind me and others who have an acute psychosis saying these disturbing sounding things. I wanted to know what it is at the biological level.

My hunch was that it had to do with fact that the human brain has primitive structures at its lower parts. We have structures in our brain that resemble a crocodile's brain. We share common brain structures with many primitive animals, and this is why we have a dark side, meaning this is why we have aggressive impulses, why people enjoy violent movies, why some people have repressed sexual desires that are taboo (or have such desires that are not repressed), etc.

It made sense to me that when the brain becomes less regulated and contained that these primitive structures could express themselves in an uninhibited way. What I learned was not far from what I had thought and that I just described to you.

I am very tired. My new bedtime is between 3 and 5 pm. I will send you an email to explain later.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 8th, 2022, 8:48 AM

audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

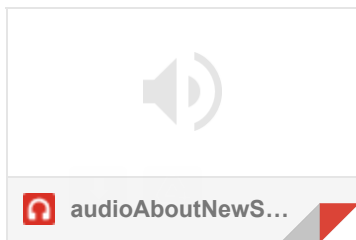

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

1 Attachments Scanned by Gmail

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 8th, 2022, 2:06 PM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I feel bad for asking for that. I'll go back down to $3 billion and I'll just deal with it.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 8th, 2022, 1:54 PM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm tired and I was just listening to this audio. I listen to the audios that I send you pretty often. What sticks out to me is how I can sound arrogant when I'm talking. I don't mean to be that way and I don't exactly feel that way.

I am a demolished human being. I get arrogant and I curse at you but if you called me to talk to me I would likely be shaking and crying. It also sticks out to me how it doesn't come across what a demolished human being that I am.

It may sound insane for me to tell you that I want $10,000,000,000, but if I had a team of experts who I could talk to and who could examine me in depth, they would agree that $10 billion is pennies on the dollar. In the end, it doesn't really matter what I get, as long as I get enough to leave the United States of America and have enough to pay so that I get my way in my new country. It would take at least $3 billion to make life worth living, and that is still very unfair to me.

My main priority, aside from my fight with Wells Fargo et Al, is my book. It will be a while before I start on it, but I will get it done. There is a lot to be learned from my life and I want the world to know the truth.

My brain injury torments me every day. Something about this brain damage makes me feel like I want to die very intensely. It causes a very uncomfortable and torturing pain. I keep having to make sure that I don't get in an argument with my mother. It is extremely dangerous for people to get in arguments with me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 9th, 2022, 12:12 PM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm tired of lowballing myself to such an extreme. I want $10 billion for this massacre. Even that's far too little, but I'll take it. Wells Fargo will live.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 9th, 2022, 12:13 PM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I also want people punished.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 9th, 2022, 9:40 AM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

$3 billion is extremely, extremely cheap. I really should get $10 billion and I might up my offer again. I will have to think about it. Wells Fargo has not one drop of concern for me, but I can't help but to feel bad for Wells Fargo, as insane as that may be. I want them to make it right with me and to then fix their business. Wells Fargo has the raw materials in place to be the greatest bank on earth.

A group of credible experts would agree with every last thing that I said, except they would probably think it unhealthy the way I have concern for Wells Fargo, after Wells Fargo kidnapped me and committed this other slew of vicious crimes against me. That probably is unhealthy and I might need to work on that.

I want $3 billion, possibly to be upped to $10 billion (or more), and I want at least a good portion of the people involved in this to face consequences. I want people banned from banking. I want property forfeited. I would actually like for people to go to prison too, but that may be something that we end up skipping.

I keep mentioning pennies on the dollar. I might, in the future, try to come up with a close to exact amount as to what would be fair. I will state again that no amount of money on earth would be worth it to me, if I had the choice to go back in time. If I come up with such a figure, I will probably send it to you. That way you can put my figures into context.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 10th, 2022, 7:31 AM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If the Justice Department and/or any* of the rest of the thugs on the other end of this have shown my healthcare records to any member of congress, my offer is dramatically upped. I will want a list of who has been shown my illegally obtained healthcare records.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 10th, 2022, 7:30 AM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If the Justice Department and/or and of the rest of the thugs on the other end of this have shown my healthcare records to any member of congress, my offer is dramatically upped. I will want a list of who has been shown my illegally obtained healthcare records.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 10th, 2022, 2:00 PM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I have had several good days in a row. I want the justice department to be my friend. I never did anything to the justice department.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 10th, 2022, 4:57 PM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I have been horrifically damaged and I am extremely unwell.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 11th, 2022, 3:56 PM

Re: audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

There is no life for me. Even if you give me money and punish people I will still want to die. I have been damaged too badly.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 13th, 2022, 12:02 PM

Here's an email.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You probably get aggravated when I keep sending emails. They will never stop as long as I am alive. I am extremely unwell. What has happened to me has damaged me very badly. It is some kind of physical damage to my brain or some kind of terrible and permanent change in my brain chemistry. It feels more like physical damage.

I have been depressed before and this is not the same feeling as that. It's nowhere near the same. It is a torturing feeling that makes me extremely sensitive and I often get this feeling like I am kind of tender. It's hard to describe. I am for sure ruined for life. I have been damaged in a way that alters the way that I am composed as a human being.

I have less shell shock now it seems. It's been consistently less for several months. This fight has destroyed me. The new thing I have is that I can't do anything for the first 2.5 hours of the day. I think it is from my body being weakened. I take my adderall when I get up and then I lay down and listen to Netflix on my iPad. After about 2.5 hours I will be "woke up" and have energy enough that I can get a little something done.

I am never at peace in the way that I used to be before this. I'm always agitated and I always feel uncomfortable, even when I do something and get enjoyment out of it. It is a result of being damaged. It is as if my mind and body know that something is very bad wrong and are trying to alert me. The alerting is in futility. That's the problem. There is no fixing this. My brain is injured.

It may sound completely insane for me to ask for $10 billion or $3 billion. It is pennies on the dollar and what you may not realize is that I am so badly damaged that even if I had that much money I would be very tempted to go overseas and die. Belgium is a good place. So is Switzerland. Peru is also a good place to die.

And that's probably the best thing to do. The cost to make it right with me is so extreme. Add to that the fact that I'll have every loudmouth politician and every loudmouth in general ranting and raving about how I got this money. I cannot take that. I am in such a terrible condition that it would be too much, when added to all else that I have to deal with (and for the most part cannot).

Then we have the shit storm that will be created over the fact that Wells Fargo had me kidnapped, and over all of Wells Fargo's other crimes. That's a pain in the ass and we'd have politicians and all kinds of other people raising hell about that too. If they give me $3 billion they're going to break even for a quarter. If they give me $10 billion they'd post a $7 billion loss (things may be better now. I have to speculate about the numbers). That would send the stock price down the tubes.

It's all too much to pay for a life that will be so tortured. I don't see it as likely that the United States of America funds and organizes a trip to Belgium for me. It is much more likely that I am left to fend for myself on my own. I still tell you what I want and what is best.

I have no intent to harm myself. My suffering just puts me in a very bad place. I get here often. I typed a much longer message but deleted the rest of it because it was too imposing.

I am very sorry for this situation. I wish that I had a happy answer for you. This situation is terribly inconvenient and I get the idea that you want me to make it go away. I cannot. It is impossible. Things really are that bad for me. I am really that damaged. My life is really this much torture. I wish there was a way out too. I will never make it own my own.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 13th, 2022, 1:06 PM

Re: Here's an email.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If you're wondering (you're probably not. This has likely never crossed your mind and probably never would have), I frequently feel fear for the day you email me back. I am so forceful with my opinions and so seemingly arrogant with my attitude, that it might come across that I'm feeling pretty strong. I am a crushed and demolished human being. I am addicted to every bit of comfort that I can get. I am extremely sensitive to my living conditions and I cannot tolerate stress at all. My suffering makes life hard and I have daily or almost daily feelings of terror over the thought that my situation gets worse. The world intimidates me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 14th, 2022, 8:35 PM

Re: Here's an email.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

What would help me is to have extra adderall to take. Just maybe life could be worth living then. I get in a zone and can get stuff done. $10 billion might make me have a life that would be worth living.

I picture it as sounding completely insane that I mention these figures that I do. I also get a feeling like that you think I'm up to something nefarious. I can imagine this impression being created. I have had this feeling for a long time, the feeling that you think I'm being anything but honest with you. It is a mistake if you care at all about what's right.

I speak the literal truth that I see and what I think. I do this extremely reliably. There are not many exceptions. I place an irrational value on truth and honesty, I think. Most others do not act as I do as it relates to this.

The way my life is designed is that everything confirms what I say, in the end. I have very accurate perceptions and very accurate intuitions. I am careful and scientific in my thinking and I put a lot of effort into saying things that are accurate (saying things that are accurate is a very hard thing to do. It is so incredibly easy to be wrong, to jump to conclusions, etc. I've caught myself doing this a lot in the past about 2 or 3 months. I'm still above the bar.) I speak so much truth and I'm right such a huge percentage of the time. My version of what's happened and everything about my life will be vetted. It is inevitable.

If I get some credible experts on this, they will confirm that $10 billion is pennies on dollar. I will have a consensus among many that this is the case. I will get gratification out of having been right the whole time. They will confirm that it was the actions of Wells Fargo and the various entities that Wells Fargo induced into criminal behavior that caused this profound injury to my brain and the related PTSD. I still get the sense that Wells Fargo is trying to deny this, as ridiculous as that is.

You do not realize the extent to which you have ruined a human being. I am so profoundly broken and injured. The best thing and the most appropriate thing for me is to be put to death.

I get the sense that Wells Fargo still thinks it's game on and that they're playing tactics in the background. It's like it's the same fight and the same situation that we've been on the whole time. This is fine and I can understand it. I continue to obsessively contact other victims and other people with grievances, and to push my campaign.

What Wells Fargo may not realize, actuality what they almost certainly do not realize, is that things are different. I'm not who I used to be and my situation is extremely dire. It's not a matter of winning anymore. It's not the same fight and I'm wearing down and I'm almost certainly going to die. If it is brought to the public's awareness just how badly you have ruined a human being, it just may be a game changer. It is a terrible, terrible thing.

My self Control is terrible. I have extremely little.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 14th, 2022, 7:49 PM

Re: Here's an email.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm upping my estimated probability that this gets in the media in the next 2-3 months to 45% and it's going to be a nightmare. This will be straight from hell, I am very worried. It is pointless. There is no good outcome for me. I will want $10 billion. That's what's fair and it's pennies on the dollar, but what I'm realizing is that nothing will make me happy. I will despise life no matter what. I am too injured and too tortured.

I need to go to Belgium or to Switzerland. I'll have to look up both of them in a little more detail to determine which is best. I could also flip a coin. These are countries that have compassion and humanity. I especially like how Switzerland places such a high value on the autonomy of the individual.

If this gets in the media, it will be a mix of emotions. I will be happy to expose what has happened to me (that's a very easy thing to do), but it will be the end of my world as I know it. I will be in such torment.

I tell you this like you ever do anything. This situation will be a problem for you one day. That's why we need to find some way out. I want something that helps me. If I can make a win/win that's what I'm after. I wish it was possible for me to have a good life that I could be happy about living, but I cannot. That's what I'm realizing.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 15th, 2022, 1:12 PM

Re: Here's an email.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Today has been a better day. I am tormented very badly but I've got some enjoyment out of it too. I want to tell you that I have no intent to harm myself or others. I tell you this because you are a sickening and despicable criminals who look for excuses to criminally abuse the mental health system. You do this for the benefit of your pet Wall Street bank and you have poor people pay for it. Look at your behavior. Tell me how this is anything else than sickening and vile.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 15th, 2022, 2:16 PM

Re: Here's an email.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I have had a good day today but I'm very tortured and I can feel the impairment in my brain. I don't know how to reason about you. I don't know what makes you the way that you are. I feel bad every time I speak so ill of you, but what am I to make of this?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 17th, 2022, 4:42 PM

Things are worse for me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

As of about the past week, I have a new impairment. I get up and take my adderall, and it takes me 2 and a half hours before I have the energy to do anything. This is from my body being weakened, I think. It is also probably from my overly sedentary lifestyle. That is making it worse, I am sure.

This apartment we live in is tiny and I don't have room to do anything. My bowflex free weights are at my building in TN and so is my bench. They are probably gone now. That building is getting robbed over and over, the same as the abandoned old house above it has been for years. 98% of my books are in there, and so this is like everything that I worked my whole life for is being taken away from me. I loved those weights and I loved my books.

I can't afford a storage building for them. It's expensive and I don't make much with disability. I also have cut my losses, mentally, as much as it hurts. If I can get something out of this fight, I can buy all my books back and my weights too. That's too much to ask however. When someone pays the price for Wells Fargo's conduct, it is paid in full.

I am extremely tormented right now. I am tormented so much of the time. I'm very worried that social security is going to take my disability away. I haven't been diligent in conveying to my doctor how impaired that I am. I can't exactly help it. I am unable to manage my life.

My aunt, that paid for Wells Fargo's brain scan, I talked to her the other day, for the first time in a long time. She takes care of 3 adopted great grandchildren and is retired. She told me, on this most recent call, how much she gets from social security retirement. It is $397 a month. I hope Wells Fargo enjoys that brain scan that she paid for.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 19th, 2022, 8:31 PM

audio for 12/19/2022

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

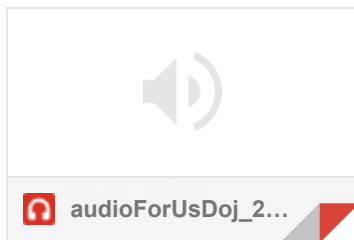

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

1 Attachments Scanned by Gmail

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 24th, 2022, 9:22 PM

Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 02

To: civil.feedback@usdoj.gov, "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

This is all that I have for 12/24/2022 right now.

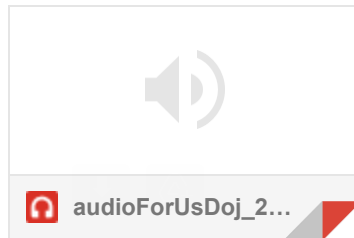

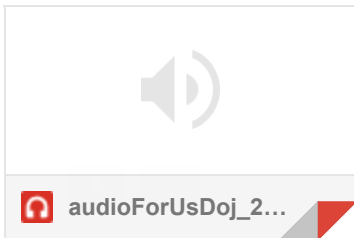

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

2 Attachments Scanned by Gmail

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 24th, 2022, 9:19 PM

Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 01

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I get on multiple tangents in these.

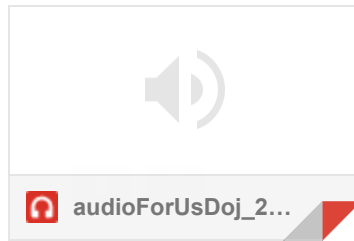

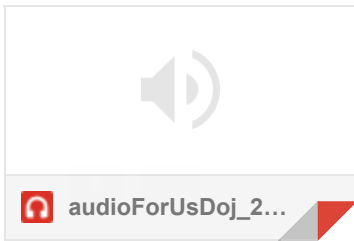

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

2 Attachments Scanned by Gmail

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 25th, 2022, 12:00 AM

Re: Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 02

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm very sorry that I'm so harsh and so blunt. I don't know any other way to be when I explain some things to you. I used to believe in the United States Department of Justice so much. I wish so badly that I could believe in you again. You have hurt me so badly that I have trouble doing anything but feeling pain when I think of you. You do not know how hurt that I am.

I'm arrogant in a lot of my audios, and I'm also quite frequently a little bit of a dick. I speak bluntly and I have a tendency to tell you off. You have made a mistake. Wells Fargo has made a mistake. You have done something terrible to me. There is no longer a good outcome for me. My outcomes have to be thought of comparatively. There is better and worse but not good.

My audios have me sounding arrogant and also, just listening to them, it is easy to picture me as being just fine. I am a demolished human being. I still get the sense that you do not realize this. I get the sense that if someone asked you about me, you wouldn't say "he's a demolished human being. He is ruined in the same sense that a robot that has been repeatedly bashed with a hammer is ruined. He is profoundly impaired and he is not fit to live with people."

What I ask you to please understand that what I just wrote is actually the case. That is it exactly. This is reality. I get the sense that you have an extreme resistance to accepting and taking in this reality. It is like, for you, this is a reality that just cannot be, and I get this same sense for the rest of what I say.

I am so destroyed that if you give me $10 billion dollars, it is unlikely that I will even smile. It is the same for $100 billion or $200 billion. The only time I ever smile is when I laugh or sometimes when I feed our dog blackie snacks. I hardly ever laugh either. I probably laugh about 2 to 6 times in a typical week and other than that I might smile once or twice a every two weeks. Some things online make me laugh, like Nick Adams on Twitter with his paper straws video and his Tweet that mocks a brand name butter substitute. My laughs are very short lived and when I'm laughing I do not escape this state of being demolish and demoralized. It is like a it is a taboo for me to have hope in life or to see any good in life. My mind has been closed off to such things, it's like the place where those used to exist is no longer there. It is like it is dead. It is like I am dead.

The facts are exactly as I state them. What I communicate is reality. I'm not fully sure of how much that you get this. I tend to think that this all sounds insane to you. I would imagine that this figure of $10 billion is from Pluto to you, and it probably arouses some suspicion. You may be tempted to see me as a dishonest predator, when I throw this figure out there. I can imagine this perception being created.

What you must realize is that I am extremely honest and straightforward in dealing with you. I'd put my honesty with you at 99.5% or maybe 99.75%, or possibly a little higher. The high ratio is due to the fact that I've sent you a million communications, and I am so extremely honest. Any behavior that is to even a tiny degree dishonest gets massively drowned out by my other 45,000 words and 235 hours of audios.

You seem to have a fruity idea that I'm dishonest and deceitful. That's also a terrible and counterproductive way of looking at things. I get the idea that you have this idea from your past behavior. This fruity idea may not be there anymore.

$10 billion is pennies on the dollar and if I had an independent group of experts they would agree. The general population is also likely to agree. Listening to me is the one thing that you will not do, and it is also the only thing that could have saved you. Listening to me is still your best bet. The probability is that you will get the best outcome by doing that. We are now at the point that it may not save you. I suffer so extremely. At the current moment, I can tell you that if I had $10 billion, I would still be extremely tempted to go to a more humane country and be put to death. More humane countries most notably includes Belgium and Switzerland. The Netherlands is another one.

The reason that I say that this may not save you is that I picture you as having some kind of vested interest in this bank not becoming a murderer and being publicly known as such. It doesn't seem that you would care if this bank murdered me, as long as no one knew. I also get the sense that you would murder me over this bank's conduct. But you getting found out and the bank being a publicly known murderer at the same time is not an outcome that you want. And it may not be that you consider it murder for me to go overseas and escape this terrible pain that I spend so much of my time living in. But still yet, it would be a horrible consequence of this bank's conduct. People would feel bad for me, and rightly so.

If I get $10 billion, I will say that the bank did all that it could do and I will wish it well, if these people will just leave me alone. I also want people involved in this punished. But that's the best that I can do and I am not sure that I will ever be able to forgive you or any of the people involved in this. That would still be better than nothing. I also would probably try to exert my will and keep living. I would probably feel a need to try for the bank since they did what they could to make it right. I would not guarantee anything though. For instance, right now I feel torment and I want to die.

If I had $10 billion, I would try to make living tolerable by living a life that consists of some combination of a form of materialism, hedonism, and helping people. I really like helping people and I get some happiness out of retail therapy. Hedonism is a distraction and I would be moderate with my hedonism and I would live a limited life. I need very badly to be by myself for almost all of the time. The people who ever come in my house would need to be debriefed and to understand how to deal with me. I feel like I am a potentially dangerous person as a result of the damage that I have been done. I can maintain this situation safely for the rest of my life, if people will just listen to me. I worry about social security yanking my income once I start writing my book. If I am forced to try to work again someone is likely to get hurt. Either that or I end up roadkill. That's an example of what I mean when I say that people need to listen to me. When I implore social security to understand my condition, I need them to focus real hard and pay attention to what I say. I need them to absorb it and take it to heart.

What people tend to do instead is to treat me like I don't matter and not even attempt to absorb the words that I say. This makes my life hell and I am subjected to prolonged periods of hell that could have been avoided by people listening to me the first time. I'm getting mad thinking about this. I've got to stop typing.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 25th, 2022, 12:07 AM

Re: Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 02

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I got in a really bad place and typed all of this. I have terrible self-control problems at times and I suffer very badly. My phone and my iPad tend to be too close at hand and it causes problems when I reach for them in times like this.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 25th, 2022, 12:22 AM

Re: Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 02

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Looking at this again, it is still crammed full of my genuine thoughts. The part about me being a ruined human being and the part about it being a silly thing to think that I'm not honest, those parts are very accurate. I do have a feeling like it would be dangerous for me to live with people or work with people. I do think that Belgium is a more humane country. So is Switzerland and the Netherlands. $10 billion is pennies on the dollar. Experts would agree.

I need you to help me. I cannot afford to not get anything out of this fight. I at least need enough money to move to another country and live a life there. I also want to pay some of the people that I caused pain when I was a child. This includes this girl I told you about and peers that I bullied and tormented in school. The girl I told you about hasn't been caused any lasting pain by me, according to everyone that I've talked to. I still want to give her some money. I want to tell her that I'm sorry for me and I'm also sorry for the people who don't care to say that they're sorry.

$10 billion is pennies on the dollar. A kindhearted man has been murdered for no reason. Why did you do this to me?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 25th, 2022, 1:52 AM

Re: Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 02

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am extremely honest. People do need to listen to me. Here is a video I made 4 months ago.

<https://youtu.be/s8a6tzkwyfl>

At this point I have called the following:

1. In inducing atrium health (Shirley) into crime to get my records, Wells Fargo was after the records from the hospital I was at when I was 18.
2. Wells Fargo does this as part of an exercise of reality denial, where Wells Fargo denies that Wells Fargo made a mistake in looking into my past and instead commits more intrusions into my life.
3. Wells Fargo would be making attempts to get my healthcare records from the hospital that I was at when I was 18.
4. Upon getting my records from the hospital that I was at when I was 18, Wells Fargo can use the disturbing sounding (and to someone with the proper expertise, completely harmless) things that I said to construct a narrative about- "we started to see signs that he might be dangerous."
5. I state that this claim is an absurd exercise of reality denying and a total load of shit; I state that I am not a dangerous person, and that the claim that I am is ridiculous.

Let's go over these one a a time:

Item #1- the justice department knows this one for a fact, one way or another, did Wells Fargo aim to get my records from the hospital that I was at when I was 18? Was this the goal of inducing Shirley at atrium into crime? Wells Fargo has confided the answer to this question to you.

I suspect that the answer is yes. You know that my suspicion is correct, don't you? I'll mark this one as a yes. I'm right for this one.

Item #2- Does Wells Fargo deny that Wells Fargo made a mistake in looking into my past? Or did Wells Fargo tell the justice department "we made a big mistake and looked into his past. We had no legal right to do this or justification for doing this"? The answer here is that they denied that they made a mistake. We have another yes, don't we?

For the second part, did Wells Fargo make further intrusions into my life? This is another yes. They got my healthcare records from when I was 18. Previous to this they wanted the Mobile Crisis counselors to procure my diagnosis. So far I haven't missed a yes.

Item #3- this is an easy answer. Another yes. They were after those records. This is evidenced by the fact that they (most likely) gave the justice department a copy of them, or at the very least showed them to the justice department.

Item #4- tell me, US DOJ, did Wells Fargo indeed give you a narrative that sounds a little like, or maybe a lot like, what I have told you about so many times, and that I reference in this item? I'll answer this one for you, and you tell me if I'm right. The answer is yes, and I'm right.

Were the things that I said completely harmless? According to a slew of many, many doctors who saw those records over a period of nearly 11 years, yes they were. The doctors and Broughton sent me home and not one medical professional who saw those records ever recommended that I be sent back to broughton or any hospital over those records. In fact, with one exception, not one medical professional to see those records ever brought up the things on those records as much as one single time.

The total number of medical professionals to legally see those records is easily over a dozen. We have another yes. It's all yeses across the board thus far.

Item #5- what do you think the answer for this one is? What else would it be? Of course this is all bullshit, just like I say that it is. Wells Fargo invades my privacy when I'm 37 years old. I had been out of the hospital for over 18 years. What did I ever do that would justify calling me dangerous, in those 18 years? Further, what the hell makes Wells Fargo think that the people at Wells Fargo are qualified to and have the appropriate expertise to determine if someone is dangerous? What the hell gives Wells Fargo the idea that people with a history of treatment for mental health are dangerous people? This is bigotry.

There is nothing dangerous about me, dead zero, full stop. End of story. Wells Fargo didn't see any signs that I might be dangerous because there are no signs that I'm dangerous, because I'm not a dangerous person. This reverse engineered bullshit narrative is a half-assed excuse that Wells Fargo comes up with to deny reality and to weasel out of and justify a crime spree, so that Wells Fargo do as it pleases without real consequences, as Wells Fargo is accustomed to doing.

Will you concede that we have more yeses for this item? I called every last bit of this, blindfolded and often in advance, with nothing to go by except a fishy phone call and a suspect meeting with some counselors. If I don't see what has happened very clearly, and if I'm not right, how did I so accurately predict every last bit of this?

It's all a load of crap. Getting those healthcare records didn't score a single point for Wells Fargo. It just adds one more crime (or possibly multiple crimes) to the list of crimes that this bank has committed against me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 25th, 2022, 2:48 AM

Re: Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 02

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I felt so powerful when I was catching Wells Fargo in these crimes in 2019 and early to mid 2020. Among the 10s of thousands of messages that I sent the LA Times was one that read "these thugs should have let me barbecue them directly instead of hiding behind poor little Jenny." I believed so much in the justice department. I dreamed so much of the day you would come into the situation and hold these people accountable. I would get my dignity back and these people would pay. I pictured at first that I would have HHS, the F.B.I., multiple divisions of the US DOJ, and the NC SBI coming on to the scene. I thought that you would be appalled by this vicious abuse of a kindhearted man, for no reason.

I pictured the look on the faces of the people at Atrium Health, as one car from one agency, followed up by another car from another agency, and so on pulled up to their facility. I pictured the people at Wells Fargo getting pulled in for an interview, and some of them possibly leaving in handcuffs if they lied to you the way they had lied to me over and over.

All the people at my apartment complex would see the men in F.B.I. jackets and the people from other agencies coming to my unit. They would realize that what I had been saying the whole time was true. It would be insane, and I would be the center of attention. It would be all over the news, and people would hear about my brilliant criminal investigation.

It hurts so bad to look back and those dreams. It's like you resurrected my soul just so that you could murder it one more time. I look back at my life and how cruel other kids and I could be. There is no cruelty like the cruelty of life and the cruelty of children, except the cruelty of the cold-hearted conmen and murderers at the United States Department of Justice.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 27th, 2022, 2:23 AM

Re: Audios for 12/24/2022 Part 02

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I want to make one thing clear- I don't owe any of the thugs on the other end an apology for my healthcare records. I break my neck to explain them to you, and it is a farce that this is necessitated. You are the one who owes me many apologies, and the people at Wells Fargo owe me a million tears.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Dec 31st, 2022, 11:20 PM

Online it is saying that Wells Fargo might be shut down

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Even MSN is circulating this bullshit. These articles say that "federal regulators are considering a national shutdown of Wells Fargo." That's nearly verbatim. This would defy everything that I have learned about how this works since I looked into this thing with me.

If that were the case, it would be very sad to me. I would think about my office people and about all the potential that I thought the bank had and about how the customers would be hurt. I always care about the customers at every job that I have.

I have said horrible things about you online. What I say isn't too far from the truth, as far as I can tell. I am extremely unwell and for the past 2 days I have been extremely tired. The tiredness is from having to ride with my mother to get my medicine the day before yesterday. I damn near had a heart attack over and over. It is from my hyper vigilance and possibly from my heart being weakened.

I never wanted to be your enemy and this is all your fault how things have turned out. You will be found out. I put the odds at at least 95%, closer to 99%.

I asked this bank to have a conversation. They responded my hitting me with a terrorist superpower criminal assault. Then I built a case. Then I wrote a complaint and sent it to you in an email that said "I need your help and tell me how that I can help you." This is all I ever did to you.

I have trouble seeing you as good people in any sense. I don't know why anyone would do this. That doesn't mean that I won't work with you in the future if things go to shit. I want 10 billion dollars for what has been done to me. I will wish you well and wish Wells Fargo well, but I will not shake your hand, neither one of you. I want this bank to be someone else's problem. $10 billion will not make me well and I will probably not even smile. I will be mildly happy most likely, however.

Why do you do this to someone?

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 8th, 2023, 12:55 AM

I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The day will likely come when you stop receiving emails from me, but it will not come as long as I am alive. I used to be so incredibly strong and that is why I have made it this far. I am wearing down all of the time.

I have never met people as cruel as you. My ex friend Kermit, who tortures animals and who has raped half a dozen or more underaged girls against legal consent and who raped one child against psychological consent, would not let me suffer like this, if it were in his power to stop it. My dad wouldn't let me suffer like this either, if he had the power to stop it. He wouldn't let anyone suffer like this. My dad was selfish and he was obsessed with money. His obsession with money, combined with this chronic lack of it, is what drove his self-centered and cruel behavior. You give my dad $100 million in cash or $200 billion like Wells Fargo has and he would turn in to the kindest man on earth. He would give to the needy and the poor and he would dump money into churches. He would have gotten a new home for this poor old woman that he once lived with and that his mother tortured.

Wells Fargo makes a ridiculous claim that I am a psychopath. This is not true. I have personally known more actual psychopaths than most people have. I have known of many more that I did not meet, like my infamous cousin named Jerry. They are not as bad people as you are. I would 100 times rather be a psychopath than be people like you. I will go into the ground as the person that I made out of myself, and I will be proud of that person. I live in terrible pain and torment, and it will be a sad day. There is no amount of money that I would take to be people like you. I would much rather live in suffering and torment and go into the ground as a disabled broke man with nothing.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 8th, 2023, 11:50 PM

I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I continue to suffer as the depraved conmen and murderers at the justice department hide behind an email that they never answer. This reality that you so persistently deny hurts like hell. The day that Wall Street becomes a murderer is in the horizon, and I expect you to do nothing about it, other than to coddle these indecent murderers, for whom you seem to have such affection and adoration. My mother will cry so hard when I die. She won't have money to bury me, and the thought of having me cremated will be horrifying to her. She will reach out to her criminal accomplices at Wells Fargo and the justice department, screaming and begging for money. I wonder if they will give it to her, after she helped them in their crimes. It will be a terrible day for my mother and things will only get worse.

Would it make sense to you if I only had bad things to say about you? Would it make sense that I would have no trouble finding horrible things to say about you, things which I would have plenty of evidence for and that others would believe?

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 12:21 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I suffer like this while this bank sits on $200 billion cash. I suffer like this because the justice department and Wells Fargo are criminals and because the justice department and Wells Fargo refuse to admit that Wells Fargo has made a mistake. This is the price that I pay, so that the people at Wells Fargo don't have to admit that they have been wrong one time in their lives. And you call me selfish.

You are the bad guys. I am the good guy. If you can't see this, you are completely missing the point and living on Pluto. You've been on Pluto a good while now. If you want, I'll sign a paper that says the people that run these scams on me at Wells Fargo are deities. This is what they think of themselves and I'm going to die over the notion that they are anything less than this.

I offered to settle this with you for AU girl and some money. Then I offered to settle for a salary from Wells Fargo, where I get paid enough to pay my bills and keep my life in Charlotte. Then I offered to settle this for $8 million. Then I offered to settle this for $3 billion. Then I offered to settle this for $10 billion. All of these figures are at a huge discount, compared to what a jury would give me in a fair trial. I will never get a fair trial due to the extreme criminality of the Justice department and of Wells Fargo.

You are murderers whose cruelty has no parallel. The rest of the world will see this. You have no decency and you are a bunch of cowards. You will not be able to hide from the decency of other people.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 3:48 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I have been having terrible shell shock for the past 3 hours or so.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 12:44 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am a ruined human being. Right now I feel like a man trapped in a cage in the jungle. I get this feeling a lot and it makes me a dangerous person. A surefire way to trigger it is to raise your voice to me. Anyone who raises their voice to me is risking their life in a serious way. For sure they need to shut the fuck up after the first time, if they survive that. Most likely they will die after the first time, unless they immediately leave the apartment.

Right now I'm by myself and I'm feeling extremely hostile. I am feeling a hyper vigilance and an emotional pain based hostility.

There is something very bad wrong with me. This hostility is something that I cannot help and I cannot control and it is very hard to explain. I am not in control of myself but at the same time I picture myself as having an ability to be calculating, if needed. I'm not sure.

What I mean there is that, say for example I'm in a gas station and someone belittles me. I will not be in control of myself but I can still think long term. Here I am using the word long term in a different sense. I don't mean a week or a day or a year or 5 years. What I'm saying is that I am not locked into carrying out the violence immediately, like it's a reflex. I can wait for the right time to make my move. Like say the person is bigger than me and I don't have a knife or other weapon to grab. What I picture happening is this emotional pain will persist and I will be kind of focused. Also note that anyone who pays anything like close attention to me will be able to tell that there is something very bad wrong with me. This mental state I get in is very different and my physiology and the way I behave and the look I get in my eyes, all of this would stand out. I picture that someone who is watching me would know that something very bad is wrong with me and that something bad is about to happen. They would recognize that I am contemplating violence.

But to get back to the narrative, being belittled or yelled at causes this extreme emotional pain that is accompanied by a powerful drive to kill the person who caused it. I am still able to be strategic, and what I picture happening at a gas station is that I would run over the person with my car. I would wait for them to exit. This pain would be sustained as I wait for the person. I would want them to suffer as much as possible, and I would be likely to try to prolong their death if possible, like maybe run over their legs over and over, then run over top of their torso. This pain that I feel makes me want to hurt people very badly. It's not just murder. It is a general violent impulse to massacre the hell out of the person.

I am still ultimately not in control of myself. It may seem that I am, as there is an element of planning and calculated action. This pain has to be discharged. To not do that is not an option. It is unbearable. I am glad that there isn't anyone in here with me now. Right now I feel like it wouldn't take much provocation.

This bank did this to me. Why? All I asked for was a conversation and now I'm a ruined human being.

I got a little hostile on a friend the other day when he sent me a text message. Nothing remotely like what I've described to you. He sent me an innocuous text that just happened to trigger me. It doesn't take much. It wasn't anything that would make me want to kill him. Not even close. But I explained to him my hostility and how I feel. I'll copy and paste it here:

I can maintain my situation indefinitely if I have money and my own place. I can spend the majority of my time alone and I can debrief anyone who visits me on my condition.

I can tell you for 100% fact, that if I were living with anyone except my mother right now, someone would already be dead.

My mother almost never asserts her needs or gets angry and she's not here much due to working so much. Any other roommate would be very irritated by my constant complaining of my torment and suffering and by my peculiar habits, like pacing the floor a lot and being up at all hours of the day and night.

They would complain and gripe and raise their voice to me and I would kill them. I am so incredibly hostile that if I had to, to get back at them, I would burn down the place with both me and them in it

Here is a second text:

It is not the kind of hostility that most people are familiar with or can understand.

It is not the kind of hostility that an abusive husband has towards his wife, or that an abusive man will tend to have towards people in general. It is an emotional pain based hostility.

Imagine being trapped in a wooden cage in the jungle, by some depraved and cruel men who would torture you daily through the holes in your cage. Imagine that they taunt you and poke you with wooden spears and other objects, and your cage being so small that you cannot dodge the sharp instruments that they poke through your cage. You feel helpless and you are continually humiliated. Over time the humiliation and the helplessness and the demeaning attitude of your captors will have permanently changed you. You will have an incredible hostility out of feeling continually threatened and abused.

That's exactly how I feel and it gets extremely acute when I'm in the presence of people. The least little thing they do will inflame me. It causes this extreme and very tormenting feeling of emotional pain and humiliation, and I feel like the only way to cure that feeling is to murder the person causing it.

This is what I go through while you minimize what has happened to me, deny this bank's responsibility for it, and massacre me with crime. Why are you this way to me?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 12:51 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am crying right now.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 12:53 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I will for certain die having never known what it is like to be in love. That outcome is not evitable in any sense, no matter what you do.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 1:17 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You never get a full dose of how bad off that I am because when I make my audios when I'm doing good. This is by design. There is no way that I could make audios right now. There is the added fact that audios are one way. You have little ability to provoke me. This is unless I think of something you do that pisses me off, and that's not even the kind of provocation that I'm talking about. In that case I would yell and scream at you.

It would be different if you were here and you belittled me in any way. Say you are carrying a gun like law enforcement typically do. I would start scheming as to how I could get your gun or as to how I could sneak and get a knife to stab you in the back as you leave. If you belittled me in a big way, like a deliberate mocking, it would be worse. I would try to hide my mental state, as to not alert you to my intentions, but it is very likely that you would notice that something is off about me.

My neighbor was calling me names as I walked outside, many months ago. I had a reflex action where I start to yell and curse at him. The way I looked when I did that would give you the impression that I am mentally retarded in some way. A common element to all of this is that it is visibly apparent that something is wrong with me. But I walked in the apartment and my hostility went down. That surprised me. When I knew that I would be moving here, I was very worried that I would kill him within the first few days. He was a bastard back before I was disabled and I would visit here. I thought that if he started his shit things would fly south.

I can tell you that right now wouldn't be a good time for him to start his shit.

The business as usual thing to do with someone like me is to permanently institutionalize them. To me this is not fair and I know for 100% fact that I can manage this situation. I do pretty good living with mom and I would do even better if I lived by myself.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 2:19 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

"The business as usual thing to do with someone like me is to permanently institutionalize them" - this is one reason why, in the long run it is a necessity that I die, meaning die prematurely. I am in terrible torment as it is. I miss my apartment in Charlotte and I suffered terribly even in there. It would be unbearable to be at some facility for the next 30 years. Those places are hell even when I was healthy.

If I get help from you things can be different. Most likely I will still want to die, but I can have something good in life in the meantime. There is something about my intuition, where my intuition is very accurate in some things, and I pick up on stuff that no one else would.

For instance, these stress based heart injuries from 2021, the doctor told me that it was not that. He said that it couldn't be, because it would show up on the tests that he ran. I knew that he was wrong. I got home and looked it up, and I found a medical website that explained that your tests might still come back normal. Assuming that these injuries leave any kind of bruise or mark, if I had died around that time, they could do an autopsy and they would find several of them.

Another example is this thing that I have with my heart now, where I seem to be teetering on the edge of heart disease or maybe have it, I called this in August 2021. I could feel this stress I was under frying my body. I knew that if I lived to see the near term future, I would have premature health problems. This thing with my heart is only the beginning. I would say that any and all organs that I have that are sensitive to stress have aged 25 to 40 years since April 2019. They particularly aged during August 2021. I would bet you anything you wanted to bet that I could be cut open and this would be confirmed.

I got off on a tangent, but the point is that there is something different about my intuition. It is because I have the quality of genius, I am almost certain. I have read a lot about geniuses and I have been called this my whole life. I am not being vain. It's just a fact. There is this book called the hidden qualities of genius (fact check me on that. It may be the hidden traits or the hidden secrets or something else. It is hidden (insert some word here) of genius) It describes me perfectly, as does a lot of the other things I have read. Some things that hidden book has, in particular, peg me far too accurately to be anything like a coincidence. Another thing it talks about is how geniuses tend to be rotten, self-centered people, who run over the people in their lives like they're roadkill. That's exactly like me and I have to try really hard to not be that way. It's like I have this kind heart and I like to help people, but at the same time I'm so incredibly self-centered.

I got on another tangent, but one intuition that I have had in the past week or so is that my brain is broken and it can't figure out why. To make an analogy, I had kidney stones many years ago. It hurt like hell. I caught one of them in a mesh wire net type of thing they gave me. It was shaped kind of like a spoon, except instead of solid metal it had this kind of mesh wire. This kidney stone was tiny. So tiny that it was hard to see it. The nurse told me that I was not supposed to have my uriter blockec with anything, and when something gets in there, my body will put me in hellacious pain to let me know that something is wrong.

What's happened to me is that my brain is injured and it's constantly trying to fix itself. It's like I have this automatic, obsessive focus on seeking out how to be better. Right now I focused on 10 billion dollars. What I sense is that, if I get 10 billion dollars, I will still be in the condition of feeling like I need something. It's like I will be constantly driven to find some way to be well, and it will be one thing after another. It is futile, because my brain will never be fixed.

People who abuse MDMA will often develop a craving for chocolate. This is believed to be because the molecular structure of a chemical found in chocolate resembles the molecular structure of a chemical in the brain that gets depleted from MDMA abuse. I have something similar, except my brain is having trouble figuring out what it is supposed to crave.

This is because there is nothing to crave. My brain is irreparably broken.

This thing that I told you about my intuition being accurate and seeing things that others do not, it has occurred to me, as I have been typing this, that I could research this thing about broken brains online. It is very probable that what I describe has been discovered by some scientist or doctor. This is the kind of thing that happens to me quite often. I nail some condition of reality and I do it seemingly blindfolded.

I came up with the concept called Laplace's demon when I was 12 years old. I did it just thinking. I didn't call it Laplace's demon, but it was the exact same concept. I had never learned anything about Laplace's demon at that time. At age 15 or 16, when I first started playing pool, I was laying in bed obsessing over how to aim, and I came up with an aiming system called the ghost ball system. I had never heard a thing about it. Had no clue it existed, and I came up with the literal exact same thing. Only difference is that I didn't call it the ghost ball system. I had no name for it.

Wells Fargo wanted me to talk to a neuroscientist. If they still have this guy on the line, show him what I have typed. I bet you anything it will make sense to him (or her).

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 1:53 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It probably* won't take me more than 100 hours to write my book

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 4:02 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Please disregard what I have said about my hostility and end of life thoughts. I get very distressed and have trouble controlling my thoughts and controlling my what I share on my cell phone. This is a long established and harmless behavior. I say things in the moment that are not accurate. I have multiple professionals that I am under the care of. Rest assured that I am in good care and that my issues are being appropriately handled.

I do not need the Justice Department involved in my healthcare in any way.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 9th, 2023, 1:09 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You could have saved my life for $8 million. Then $3 billion. Then $10 billion. It is very possible that my death will be the end of Wells Fargo. People are funny and they may not even care about how cruelly I have been murdered. But on the other hand, this may be the straw that breaks the camels back. It is very possible that people don't want to do business with a lying, stealing, cheating bank that murdered a kindhearted man like me.

You almost certainly have a PR campaign in a can, for the circumstance that I die. In this, you will aim to defame a dead man so that you can save your own reputation. You will feel really pumped up by the fact that I am dead and will not be here to defend myself when you spew your filth. My being mentally ill pumped up the people at Wells Fargo and the people at atrium health about what they can get away with. Then the fact that I am disabled pumped them up that much more. The fact that I am disabled really pumps up the justice department too. You're really charged up about how much you can get away with. The ultimate testosterone surge for you indecent chickenshit cowards will be the day that I die. Then you can really get away with anything, or at least that's what you'll tell yourselves.

For this I will be writing my book. It is what I will leave behind and it will defend me. You and your conduct will be brought into the light and you will melt like the soulless, inhuman vampires that you are. You cannot hide from the truth, and you cannot escape the decency of other people. The truth and the decency of other people are your greatest enemies and what you fear the most.

I send you emails and audios where I tell you off. I will often be arrogant in my demeanor. When you think of someone who is disabled, you tend not to think of someone who tells you off, is condescending, is arrogant, and is intimidating in the way he puts reality in your face and in the intensity with which he comes for you. What I can say there is that I am who I am, and this will never change. I am very severely disabled and I am very, very unwell. My attitude, demeanor, etc. can also detract from the tortured life that I have lived and from the profound suffering that I experience, and from what a compelling story that I have to tell. I will again say that I am who I am, and this is what I have to work with. It doesn't change a thing. I started a little on my book about 3 weeks ago. I cried so hard and I didn't even get past the first page. I will cry a river of tears by the time it is said and done, to add to the ocean of tears that I have cried since Wells Fargo murdered my soul and since the conmen at the justice department resuscitated it just barely enough so that they could murder it again.

You may not see your cruelty. It may be invisible to you. You are extremely depraved and god only knows what goes on in your warped, delusional mind. What I can tell you is that your cruelty will not be invisible to others. My story will ring of truth, and there will be a nonstop chorus of people popping out of the woodwork saying that things are exactly as I describe them. I will be the good guy and I just might go down in history for what I can teach people through my life's story.

You can fight back if you want. You can write your own compelling story, about being an indecent whore to Wall Street. You can tell people about how you poach a bunch of poor people and then post it on Facebook. You can tell people about how you live in a fantasy world and adulate yourself endlessly.

The thugs at Wells Fargo can write a compelling story about their pathological self-preservation instinct, where they're such a bunch of chickenshits and so focused on saving their own skin that they hide behind a pitiful little woman with a mental deficit and have her committing their crimes for them.

This is the conclusion of the set of facts that I have to work with. That set of facts doesn't favor you at all. I have a real hard time thinking of one single fact that is in your favor. It profoundly won't take me more than 100 hours to write my book. I've got ideas for several books. I have reflected on my life so much that there won't be much to think about. I will put it on paper. I move at such a snails pace that it will take me many months to accumulate 100 hours, but I will get it done.

My suffering has went down a good bit since I first started typing this. I get extremely angry with you when I suffer and I will not last much longer.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 10th, 2023, 2:25 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm going to die.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 10th, 2023, 2:50 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You seem to not get the reality that I'm going to die. I've been dying right in front of you since 2021.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 10th, 2023, 12:55 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I talk to you as if you care. You don't do anything to stop the ruthless cruelty of this bank. You just look for what you can use for your own purposes, which do not take into consideration at all how much I suffer, or take me into consideration at all.

I sent you an email where I asked you "what can I do to help you." I sent you multiple such emails, if I recall right. I also sent you a letter saying the same.

Wells Fargo never offered to help you (except in executing your crimes). Wells Fargo disrespectfully commits crimes right under your nose and lies to you about wanting to do better. Your priorities seem to be backwards and you seem to have no self-respect as it relates to this bank.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 10th, 2023, 1:29 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I keep telling you that I'm going to die. This may come across as some sort of blackmail. It is not. Your reaction may be "then go get help and treatment." This reaction is based on a misunderstanding and a desire to outsource the consequences of this bank's behavior to someone else.

The outsourcing the cost is nothing new. Not much need to talk about that. The misunderstanding is the idea that there is any help for me. My brain is broken and it causes me terrible suffering. A brain is not like a car. They can't go in and fix what is damaged and then put it back together. Then the fact that I am handicapped makes everything so much worse. I spend so much time in terrible suffering. My living circumstances are also terrible. Life is torture for me.

What has the potential to help this is money. Money will not fix my broken brain. Money will allow me to have better living conditions. Money will allow me to pay people to do all the things that I cannot do for myself. Money will allow me to buy nice things and do other things that offset my suffering. Money will allow me to help people, which I like to do.

Even if I have money, life will be extremely hard. It will still consist of so much torment. But money will make it better. I want $10 billion. If I get less I will take it. A big priority is writing my book. If I get less than $10 billion, I will quite probably move to another country and then write my book. I'm not sure. I'd say for absolutely sure, if I get less than $3 billion.

The benefit of a smaller amount of money would be that I would be able to move to a better country that isn't governed by such a bunch of depraved criminals and that is more humane. I have thought of writing to the government of Switzerland and asking them to pay for me to move down there, in exchange for the copyright to my book. I would also need them to pay for my living expenses. I think the people in that country might care about me. I could go on their news networks and share my experience. My book will also be something else.

My book will defend me. It will explain me. It will tell the story of my life, lived in so much pain. It will tell the story of Wells Fargo murdering my soul and of the depraved murderers at the justice department pounding me with crime when my body was about to die. I will talk of the extreme and inhuman prejudice of the justice department and of the federal reserve.

You offer so many examples of everything that it is worth aspiring not to be. I do not know how to explain your corruption. It is quite a phenomenon.

I talk badly about you all the time in my emails. This may upset you or come across as not nice. When I say something and then you don't like it, you are skipping a step. The step in the middle is to consider the possibility that I have a reason to say what I say. And also to consider that what I say may be true. You might want to consider changing. But I would guess you skip all of that and just don't want to hear anything critical.

If the tables were turned and it were me, all of this criticism wouldn't bother me at all. I would care about you, as the person who is suffering. I would realize that my conduct is extremely immoral and inhuman. You could hit me with a bunch of slaps in the face like I do you, and my response would be to tell you I'm sorry and do whatever I could to help you.

I'm paying the price for this banks conduct. I'm paying it in full, and it is a thankless job. The global economy goes on at my expense, and there is nothing little enough that I can ask for that is not too much to ask. I asked for $5,000 multiple times in 2021. I couldn't even get that, when it would have lifted a mountain of stress off of me.

All I have to show for my fight for justice is a brain scan that was got for Wells Fargo, that my poor aunt paid for.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 10th, 2023, 1:48 PM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Everything I say is exactly correct, with very few exceptions. If there is something that I say that doesn't make sense to you, that's you and not me. If you don't think I'm telling the truth about something, you are very badly mistaken. Failing to take what I say as the gospel truth is a very bad mistake.

My PTSD is very severe and has caused a terrible injury to my brain. This thing I told you, about my brain trying to fix itself in futility, this is almost certainly true. I think it will resonate with my neurologist when I go see one. I can feel my impairment every minute of every day.

You may also find it offensive that I say I have the quality of genius. This is also exactly true. I'm very much zeroed in on reality in just about everything that I say.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 11th, 2023, 11:23 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

" another thing it talks about is how geniuses tend to be rotten, self-centered people, who run over the people in their lives like they're roadkill. That's exactly like me and I have to try really hard to not be that way. It's like I have this kind heart and I like to help people, but at the same time I'm so incredibly self-centered. "

I am not actually sure how much this fits me. I tend to think quite a bit. I'm much better at figuring others out than I am myself in a lot of ways. My perceptions of myself tend to be subject to influence, and in a lot of areas very flimsy. There are some things that I'm very sure of and some things that I'm not sure of at all.

I've been talking very negatively of the justice department on twitter again. This time I'm railing at you for not prosecuting Donald Trump. I am of the opinion that the chances you file charges for him over anything listed in the Jan 6th report is dead zero. I've said this a lot and I await your announcement proving me right.

I have found myself in the mix with very powerful people + presiding over the end of the world. I never wanted either of these things. I just went to work for a bank and it did me wrong. Then I asked to have a conversation. Then I sought justice. All 3 of these were big mistakes, the first one in particular. I never saw any of it coming.

I am a massacred and demolished human being. I'm dealing with some very powerful and potentially extremely fruity people. I have no idea what goes on in the minds of the people at the justice department. I sent my letter to the OIG and it was overall nice and respectful. I don't know how far off into Pluto the justice department has went. Wells Fargo is completely off the charts. I am also uncertain as to the extent that the justice department is bigoted and prejudiced against me over the illegally obtained healthcare records that Wells Fargo showed you. The prejudice and the fruitiness are my main grievances, along with your despicable criminal abuse of a disabled man. If I had a better sense of the extent of your prejudice and fruitiness and it was anywhere near that of these thugs at Wells Fargo, I'd really tell you off.

I wanted you to be my friend and I wanted to be your friend. Now look where we're at. I'm possibly going to end up dying, and the opportunity to make this a good thing has been squandered.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 11th, 2023, 11:38 AM

Re: I'm suffering terribly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Really tell you off is an inaccurate way to say it. It's much more accurate to say that I'd put the reality of this situation in your face. I don't know how much the justice department regrets that it has to commit these horrible crimes against me. From your perspective, this seems to be necessary, and I don't know if you see it as a necessary evil or just plain necessary. What you are doing is evil and the public will agree when this comes to light. You are going to get found out. The odds of that are extremely high.

If you have not made nearly as big a deal out of this as I have, you are way off base. If you have not acknowledged Wells Fargo's culpability in my brain injury and my suffering (it's essentially all Wells Fargo's fault + the various entities that Wells Fargo induced into crime), you are way off. If you for one second entertain any ridiculous notion that Wells Fargo had a "right" to do all of this, and/or that my rights have not been very seriously violated, you are way, way, way off base.

The reality of this situation makes all of the above look like the farce that they are.

I could have done so much for this bank. I was such an asset. I believe that there was a time that I could have done a lot to help the justice department. It's hard to say. This demeaning criminal abuse has had an effect on me. Whatever the case, I am now a ruined human being and I don't have much to offer to anyone. I am severely handicapped and unfit to be around people.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 12th, 2023, 8:58 AM

So much has been taken from me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I used to be so strong and such a badass. I could learn about and master just about anything. Now I am so handicapped and I do think the most likely outcome of my fight for justice is that I end up dying. This situation isn't sustainable. I could not live by myself. I don't make enough money to pay my own rent, electricity, etc. I also am too handicapped to clean or do the other tasks involved in maintaining a place to live. My brain is damaged quite severely.

If something were to happen to my mother, I would be homeless in no time. I have told you this before. I'm on a lifeline with my social security backpay, and once it's gone I'm up the creek. I will not make it if you don't help me. I think $10 billion is more than fair but I'll take what I can get. I most likely want to move to another country. My suffering is terrible and life is extremely hard on me.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 13th, 2023, 1:06 AM

I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It's like I'm gasping for air right in front of you and pleading with you for my life, and you do nothing. You are so incredibly cruel. This bank already is a murderer. It has murdered my soul. My body will soon die too, and you don't even care.--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 13th, 2023, 1:14 AM

Re: I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

There is no amount of money that would make things ok. I at least want enough to move to another country. You won't do anything for me, but I've told you over and over what I want. I want these people punished too.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 15th, 2023, 3:59 PM

Re: This is what you have done to me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It is not like I'm some kind of lust murderer who gets a kick out of killing people. I am just extremely sensitive to people treating me as less than them. I'm extremely sensitive to any form of aggression or demeaning behavior.

My hostility has went down some in the past few minutes. Not a whole lot but I can tell a difference. Now or many minutes ago when I sent you this first message, either one, I could have someone in here with me and it would be safe. Like say I had a pretty woman who was my friend to talk to. They would just have to be debriefed and not raise their voice to me or be disrespectful at all.

If these people that are behind this at Wells Fargo were in here, they'd be skating on thin ice. I could try to be nice to them and I would be able to talk to them. Most likely I would yell and scream at them. Where it would go awry is, I picture these people as being arrogant, and they quite obviously think they are worth more as a human being than I am. They would cop an attitude, get haughty, and be disrespectful, and that would be the end of them.

This emotional pain that this causes and this tormenting feeling, these two things that cause this hostility, it's very hard to explain, but it is extreme. There is something very bad wrong with me. I will do anything when it hits me, particularly if people don't back down immediately. They keep escalating with more yelling and more disrespect, there is not much of anything that is more dangerous. My hostility is so extreme that if I had to, I would burn down the place with both me and them in it, if that's what it took to get back at someone.

What's especially strange is how I picture myself as being able to think ahead to some extent. I guess it's important here to say that I have never had this feeling play out to amount to anything in real life. I am just very good at picturing what would happen. I have a very clear sense of how this works, from the brief times that I've felt it in real life (I've had people raise their voice to others in front of me, and it triggered a similar feeling. This person left the place I was at immediately following that. It wasn't because of me or knowing my condition. They just left on their own accord. Were yelling at someone as they were exiting). I also get a clearer picture when it hits me like it has now. I get hit with this trapped in a cage in the jungle feeling out of nowhere at times when I'm alone. It seems to be related to how long I have been up. It seems to happen when I've been up for over 14 hours.

But to go back, there is something extremely bad wrong with me, and I am not in control of myself, but I can still think ahead just a little. That's how I picture it. I am also certain that this thing that is wrong with me is very visibly apparent to others, or it would be if they saw me get in this condition. I have this strange demeanor and strange look in my eyes.

I'm getting tired and will explain this later. When I said I wish they were here, I was having memories of this abuse that I have been subjected to. It was amping up my hostility and causing me terrible emotional pain. This pain that I feel is so tormenting and so terrible, and there is this drive to be violent against the people causing it.

I need to go to a more humane country and be put to death. That's what this amounts to. You have no desire to help me or to do anything for me over this situation.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 15th, 2023, 3:17 PM

This is what you have done to me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I just called the people at the Justice Department a depraved clown troop of conmen and murderers on Twitter about 45 minutes ago. If this sounds like something not nice to do, you may want to consider the condition that I am in. I'm feeling like a man trapped in a cage in the jungle again. It is a horrible feeling.

This feeling can be provoked by people treating me less than them. It will go through the roof if someone raises their voice to me. And then it comes to me at times when I'm alone. Right now I am extremely volatile and the last thing that I need is for someone to be in this apartment with me. No one is here now. I have this terrible impulse to be violent. I don't seek out people, but if someone were here, I would have to contain myself, and god help me (and especially them) if they raised their voice to me or disrespected me.

This is the result of this demeaning and traumatic stress disorder inducing criminal abuse that I have suffered. I am a ruined human being. My brain is very severely injured. I'm going to die. $10 billion is far too little but I would take it right now. I might up my offer to $30 billion or $40 billion.

I don't exactly care if you turn me down (and you will). The bank will likely have to be compelled to pay me, and if it's not compelled I will not get anything. $30 to $40 billion is pennies on the dollar. Every offer I've ever given you is a steal. Right now I'll take $10 billion, but that won't last long. I want $10 billion and I want people involved in this punished. Give me that and I'll wish the bank and the Justice Department well, through gritted teeth, and I won't shake your hand.

I will have a record of the pennies on the dollar offers I have given you. I never delete my emails. If you think I'm asking for too much, or that it is absurd that I would ask for these amounts (I can imagine the fruity people on the other end of this thinking such nonsense), you are wrong. You are wrong in an objective sense, most likely. Any third party group of experts, who were not paid to commit crimes by the justice department and/or the various other criminals involved in this, would agree with me. They would just need to know the facts. It would be a unanimous decision.

I sit here and speak nothing but truth and pure gospel. The day is likely going to come when you will wish you listened to me. The day that you find out that I have been completely right this entire time is almost certain to come. That's a 99% probability. The rest of the world will know too. You will hang your head in shame, as you should. You seem to be immune from the shame that you should rightfully feel over your despicable actions against me. This immunity is quite possibly dependent on your rotten conduct and your indecent moral cowardice being a big secret. When the light is shined on you and your deeds, you will feel it.

I will die having never known what it is like to be in love. I will suffer every single day for as long as I live. I have better days and worse days, but I have no days where I do not suffer. I wish some of these mystery thugs who run these scams for this bank were in here with me right now, and that I had a hunting knife. You have no idea what you've done to me.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 16th, 2023, 10:03 AM

Re: This is what you have done to me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I had one of my episodes when I sent these messages. This hostility I feel and the way it is provoked is something that bothers me very badly. I got into a state of extreme volatility and hostility yesterday, when I wrote these messages. I can maintain my situation forever. I know how to make this work. I need money so that I can live by myself.

The people on the other end are incredibly self-centered. I have thought about you repeatedly in this process and tried to help you. You do not do anything for me and you seem to not think that I matter at all. I am continually tempted to think that somewhere in you there is a desire to do what's right, and that you have some capacity to care about me and the damage you have caused. This is quite clearly a naive delusion.

You are willing to let me die, if that is the cost of not admitting that you have made a mistake. That's how selfish you are. And you have no decency.

While you're sitting there thinking entirely about yourselves, let me tell you something that IS relevant to your pathetic self-absorption- you're going to get found out.

Every criminal in this process, from the criminal enterprise that goes by the name Wells Fargo, to the criminals at atrium health, to the wanton and cowardly criminals at the justice department, all of you have made the same mistake and you make it repeatedly. You seem to not profit from past experience. You always think you're going to get away with the next thing.

I caught Wells Fargo with a ratio of 1:1. I caught atrium health with a ratio of 1:1. This ratio has been maintained the entire time. No matter how many crimes these people commit, it's 1:1 across the board. And somehow you think it will be different with your despicable, cruel, inhuman, and indecent state sponsored cover-up.

I offer win-wins. I've offered dozens or scores
Or hundreds of win-wins. Out of your own pathetic arrogance, you are hell bent on losing.

FYI, you may think that there are crimes or other unethical acts that you have gotten away with, because I haven't mentioned them. Dream on dreamers. For instance, I know about your password swiping. I knew about that from the first day and the first time that it happened. You may wonder why I didn't change my password immediately, or rather you probably thought that you got away with it because of this. I was too handicapped with too much to do. In the end, every bit of this will be in the public eye. This is a very likely conclusion of what has occurred.

In regards to these emails from yesterday and the similar things I have said, you may wonder what the hell my health problems have to do with you. For one, you caused them. They are your fault and you are responsible for them. For two, damn that's a good question, a good question that the thugs at the justice department didn't ask themselves when Wells Fargo shows them my illegally obtained healthcare records.

I have tried over and over to be a team player and to get along with the thugs on the other end. I get sicker and sicker of you as time goes on. I was once willing to defend you, if you would just help me. Instead, you have proven yourselves indefensible.

Rest assured that I have competent doctors to handle issues like those that I had yesterday when I sent you those emails. There is no need for you to get involved. No need to despicably abuse the mental health system to cover up your crimes, and to then rob poor people to pay for it.

This is who you are. Read the above and tell me how you are this way.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 16th, 2023, 10:32 AM

Re: This is what you have done to me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I want $10 billion and I want the people involved punished, at least some of them. I'll wish you well and I will not shake your hand. This situation will never be over for me, not until I die. It can be over for you. It sickens me how I have to appeal to your own self-interest, to try to negotiate something. Self-interest is fine. It's just the fact that this is all you have. Self-centeredness and a vulgar arrogance. You need to learn to think about the other person.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 16th, 2023, 12:02 PM

Re: This is what you have done to me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

When I say "gotten away with", I mean that you didn't get caught. You obviously get away with everything. Wells Fargo is a terrorist superpower run wild, to the knowledge of the authorities, who are its accomplices. There are no constraints on Wells Fargo's behavior whatsoever, other than the constraints that nature imposes. Wells Fargo is doomed to be subject to the rule of gravity, and Wells Fargo cannot overturn the second law of thermodynamics. Those are two real constraints on Wells Fargo's behavior. If you want to know what Wells Fargo is and is not allowed to do, you don't go to law school; you study physics.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 17th, 2023, 1:39 AM

Why do you let me suffer like this

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am suffering terribly. So much of my life consists of suffering. I will not make it all that much longer.--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 17th, 2023, 1:43 AM

Re: Why do you let me suffer like this

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You could do something to make my life better. I suffer every single day.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 17th, 2023, 1:44 AM

Re: Why do you let me suffer like this

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am suffering very badly. This is the kind of suffering that makes me want to die.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 18th, 2023, 12:17 PM

Re: I live in such pain

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

All the dreams I had in life have been crushed, because I'm too handicapped to make any progress on them. I used to be so strong. I used to be such a beast. Think of it. I fought a bank that outweighed me 200 million to 1. I did so on a budget of $0, as a disabled man. I fought them and I won. The people who are responsible for enforcing the rules turned their guns on me, but I am the rightful winner. What to make of someone that strong? That's who I used to be. And this is what has been done to me. If you cannot see the tragedy here, there is something wrong with you.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 18th, 2023, 4:25 PM

I'm calling you bigots in public

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I just made a series of tweets on Twitter, where I call Wells Fargo and the Justice Department bigots and, to paraphrase, "prejudiced assholes." This may seem like an odd behavior, or at least one that isn't on the same page with some of my emails to you. On the one hand, I send you emails about how bad I suffer and how bad I need help. On the other, I call you names and criticize you in public. The latter behavior may seem to be not conducive to getting the help that I beg for in the former behavior. It would seem that, maybe, if I wanted your help, I should tell you what great people that you are.

Let me explain. For one, I have no idea how to tell you what great people that you are. That would make things very confusing. I don't know what to say after that. It's much easier for me to be honest and speak the facts of the situation. I tell you that I need help, because I need help. I tell you that I suffer incredibly, because I suffer incredibly. I call you bigots and prejudiced assholes, because you are bigots and prejudiced assholes, or at the very least you behave like both of those.

You are bigots for many reasons, the comment elements to all of them being 1. my harmless mental health issues, which are part of a harmless condition of being that I did not and could not choose. And 2. your attitude towards me based on the aforementioned. You justify committing vicious crimes against me because of my history of treatment for mental health and my harmless condition of being. You further put it in my face, what contempt you have for the mentally ill, by using a despicable tactic where you cover up your crimes by using my mental illness against me, and by how you allow funds intended for the mentally ill and other vulnerable people to pay for your crimes. This bank has such vast resources, and you are so committed to the outcome that it is not to pay for the consequences of its actions, that you allow this vulgarity to ensue. Note that when I say "you", I am sometimes referring to the justice department, sometimes referring to Wells Fargo, and sometimes referring to both collectively. You can infer from the context which of these that it is.

This last behavior I describe, where something like $20,000 of money intended for the poor, the vulnerable, and the mentally ill is used to cover-up Wells Fargo's crimes, to the knowledge of and with the approval of the Justice Department, makes it clear who the Justice Department thinks is important and who it does not. The justice department would appear to hold the people at Wells Fargo to be infinitely important, and to hold the rights and wellbeing of the poor, the vulnerable, and the mentally ill to be a side note that warrants exactly 0 consideration.

I've got additional reasons to call you assholes and could elaborate a lot more on the charge of bigoted, but it is my bedtime and I'm very tired.

I have no idea what fruitiness is ensuing at the justice department. Wells Fargo is digging in its heels with equal or greater force than when it started, and is being as despicable and as cruel as ever. It's possible, but not likely, that the offensive behavior of the justice department is driven by some benign variety of fruitiness, or even that you feel bad about what you've done.

Read the above. This is what your behavior says about you. I wish so bad that I had something better to say about you.

The odds that this gets put in the media in the next 1 to 3 months are now better than 50/50. I'm not sure how much better, and I don't think it's much, but this is progress. Maybe 55/45 would be close. I won't stop until it is at 100 percent. You're going to be found out. You will have to answer for your rotten conduct and it's possible that I will have to answer for something like the entirety of my life. If that's the case, I say bring it on. My life is very defensible, and your rotten conduct is extremely not so. You have been so cruel to me, when I didn't do anything to you.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 18th, 2023, 10:23 AM

Re: I live in such pain

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If something isn't done to help me, I will die of hunger or of the temperature in the street.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 18th, 2023, 5:42 AM

I live in such pain

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I hurt so bad. I live in horrible pain over what has been done to me.--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 18th, 2023, 10:18 AM

Re: I live in such pain

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

What especially makes me hurt is how I am destroyed and cannot build myself up anymore. Before this, just about all I did was work and study and get good at stuff, and I loved living like that. I'm arrogant and kind of dick when I send you audios. That's because it's when I'm feeling better. You don't know how much I hurt. Im going to die. I want to die very badly.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 18th, 2023, 8:27 AM

Re: I live in such pain

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I live in such pain and my life is unbearable and not worth living. I feel my impairment every single day. I have some times that are better times, but it's not worth it. My life is also unsustainable. I will run out of money in the near term future and will be doomed. I cannot manage the affairs of living. My disability income isn't enough to pay for my own place to live, much less pay people to clean for me and do to all else that I cannot do.

I have not taken a shower in something like 3 weeks. My brain injury makes it very hard to do that. I get paralyzed mentally when I try.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 25th, 2023, 7:23 PM

Re: I keep having problems with my heart

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Why are you so cruel to me? If you were in my shoes, would you not call the Justice Department depraved conmen and murderers? I have been massacred with crime and I came to you for help. I am permanently damaged and I suffer every single day. I have read 2 or 3 books since June of last year, when I got my adderall back. I used to read up to 2 or 3 a day, when I was well. I'm not sure that there were more than 2 weeks out of the past 20 years that I didn't read at least one book per week. Everything has been stolen from me. Why are you such cowards? Why will you not warn everyone else about the danger involved in asking Wells Fargo to have an honest conversation? This is a good way to have your life destroyed, as my case has so clearly proven. Do people not deserve to know what will happen to them, and how no one will help them.

It hurts to speak of you the way that I do. It also hurts to speak of Wells Fargo the way I speak of Wells Fargo. I do not like seeing my fellow man in this light. But you force it. Your despicable behavior leaves me no choice.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 25th, 2023, 6:47 PM

I keep having problems with my heart

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am extremely weakened. For the past 2 months, I have been unable to do anything for the first 2 hours and 40 minutes after I get up. I am extremely tired when I wake up. I thought it was due to this Walgreens brand of generic adderall. When I started getting my meds from Walgreens is about when this started.

I had to get name brand adderall this month. It is the same thing. It has nothing to do with my adderall. It is from my heart being weakened. I had terrible indigestion last night. I've had increasingly frequent and increasingly severe problems with indigestion for a while now. Last night was the absolute worst I've ever had. This is also from my heart being weakened. I know this for a fact. I can tell by how I feel. My intuition mirrors how nature works, as I have told you before, and this is another factor. I am very keen on figuring out stuff.

I am in the car with my mother right now. She took me to get my face and head shaved. I have a really hard time shaving. Most months I can't do it. We end up going to a barber to get it done. We are in Boone Nc driving home. The ride over here and the ride back have been murder.

My mother is not a good driver and the least little bit of stress kills me. It is like literal torture. It may take me a day or 2 days to recover from this. It's not as bad as last time. This is because the ride over here was during daylight. Last time we went to Boone, the ride over here and the ride back were both at nighttime. I have a hypervigilance and I am prone to interpreting everything that happens as a threat. For instance, when a car is coming towards us on the other side and the road is curved, I will start to feel like it's going to run into us.

I live in torment and I am tortured daily, while the assholes on the other end deny reality and cruelly let me suffer. I will warn others about the conmen and murderers at the United States Department of Justice.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 28th, 2023, 8:32 PM

Re: I keep having problems with my heart

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I typed the below message a few days ago and decided not to send it. I will send it now. This is who you are. The person I describe below is the person that you see when you look in the mirror, the person who participates in the cruel murder of a kindhearted man:

You have watched the play by play of a man dying right in front of you. You've saw it one frame at a time, as if it's in super slo mo, and you do nothing to intervene. I have sent you emails saying that I'm going to die since at least June of 2021. Count how many days that is. Day after day, week after week, I tell you that I'm getting weaker, that I can't take no more, that I'm going to die.

You don't give a shit who this bank hurts, as long as it's not you. You are not at all interested in preventing any outcome where this bank becomes a murderer. It is closer to the case that you are hell bent on this bank becoming a murderer and on it doing so under your watch. Instead of intervening to stop this, you will rob my corpse of the evidence I have against this bank, if and when I die.

I have thought of this outcome for a long time, the outcome where I die and my corpse is robbed. I first suspected that Wells Fargo would rob my corpse when I die. I had a plan to leave my computer on and have it covertly record my corpse being robbed and livestream it on Facebook. I told the LA Times about this in detail. I can't remember how much about this that I have told you.

It took me a while to develop such a low opinion of the justice department, that I would also put you in the category of indecent corpse robbers. If I die, you will direct people to destroy all the evidence I have against you. You will tell them to track down all my cloud accounts and links to my evidence, and to destroy it all. It will be futile and the people will tell you this. You will respond by telling them to unlock my digital devices with my cold dead fingers and by waving my phone over my dead face, as the tears I cried in my final hours have yet to dry and are still visibly on my cheeks. You'll be trying like hell to get my passwords, so that you can destroy all of the evidence of your crimes and the crimes of this bank.

You claim to be a justice department, but your actual role is to enforce the impunity of this bank. This is not a flattering look at you. None of what I have said flatters you in the least. It is what I see as true. You will cover up this bank's crimes. Then you will aid it in murdering me. Then you will rob my corpse. Then you will defame the dead man whose corpse you just robbed.

I hope it goes without saying that I aspired to be more than this in life. I had aspirations about what I wanted to be in moral terms. I tried so hard to do right. I did this so that I could be murdered by people like you, people for whom their conduct is not a concern. I don't know what makes you this way. I believed in you so much in the beginning.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 29th, 2023, 5:26 PM

I'm making more audios

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I've been up all night. Getting my sleep turned back around so that I go to bed at about now and wake up at 1 to 4 am. This allows me to maximize the alone time that I have. I made some audios and I had to edit out an hour and 20 minutes or so of tangents at the end. I've still got probably 50 to 70 minutes of tangents. I'm going to give you the timestamps when I send them, at least some of them. There is one ~ 30 minute tangent that you can skip in one step.

Part of what I'm going over in these audios is this symptom where I feel like a man trapped in a cage in a jungle. This is not a new symptom at all and I've told you about this since roughly jan to feb 2021. You may have missed for a number of reasons. One is that the first mention I give of this is on my audio titled impactOnMyLifeFinal. On that audio, I am on extra adderalls and I have trouble finishing my thoughts. The part where I describe this symptom starts at around 39:20. I start to explain how I will die having never known what it's like to be in love, and then I start to explain how "it's dangerous", talking about living with people. I make brief references to my emotional pain and feeling worthless as I describe this. At one point I say "I'm not a dangerous person" or something like this, and then I start talking about how couples will yell at each other. When I say "im not a dangerous", in the context (which you don't get because I stutter from one thought to the next), what I'm saying is that I'm not a generally dangerous person as long as I can be alone most of the time, and I'm using this to contrast what would happen if I had some girl living with me, in which case it would be dangerous. I skipped around in my speech and didn't fully articulate that second part.

That video (which was converted to audio and sent to you) was recorded on 9/16/2020. At that point I had had this symptom for many many months, and it was generally more intense and more persistent than it is now. As of now, it's still a big, big problem, on top of other big problems. I cannot live with anyone except my mother. It doesn't appear to be overly dangerous living with her, although I am very tempted to hedge my bets there. What I need even in this case, to make it totally fine, is I need to be in control of when people are here and when they are not.

So we have it that I can't live with anyone except my mother, and if we wish to avoid even the remotest possibilities for things to go awry, I cannot live with even my mother. The next problem is that I cannot live by myself. I do not make enough money and I cannot manage the affairs of life. I am essentially completely unable to clean house and do routine things and maintenance like this.

Then we have the fact that I am a ruined human being, and that my suffering is so extreme that to put me in any worse circumstances than I have now would be cruel and unusual punishment. This is forgetting the fact that I've committed no crime. I am just so destroyed and ruined. I have thought of this before, that if this hostility ever got the best of me and I ended up in prison, I would almost certainly be able to make an argument that I should have my notebook computer, an extra large cell, maybe in a private section where I would not be distressed by the presence of the other inmates.

The notebook computer would be necessary because I would need something to offset my horrific suffering. This broken brain causes me such torment. It is cruel and unusual punishment just to be alive, much of the time.

I'm getting tired and have to go. I have no idea what the hell we are to do about this, all of it. This situation with me and my symptoms and the fact that I'm permanently ruined and disabled.

The change in my tone is because I've started to have a sense that there is something different going on on the other end. I do not know for sure, but it seems possible that you have concern over the massive wrong that I have been done and the terrible damage I have suffered and the horrible situation that we are in. I explain this in my audios in more detail.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 30th, 2023, 11:34 PM

Re: I'm making more audios

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I have been too handicapped to do anything at all for the past 5 to 7 days. The exception is a few hours of audios I made while I was staying up all night. But this is my life. I am extremely handicapped.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 30th, 2023, 11:36 AM

Re: I'm making more audios

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You do not care. I get my hopes up that you do, but you do not. You're for sure going to get found out. I'm possibly going to die prematurely. Very possible that I die of natural causes. For sure is a slight overstatement. Odds you get found out are 99.9% or greater, just not 100%. There is nothing you can do, short of murdering me, that will stop this, at this point. 99.9% is for the next 12 months. Next 1 to 3 months is a little over 50%. I think 55% is about right. I don't know why you do this to me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 31st, 2023, 1:10 AM

Re: I'm making more audios

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I want so bad to learn and to master stuff but I cannot. I'm not even able to read to any significant degree most days. This is the tormented, tortured life that I live. I suffer incredibly and for every sort of good day that I have, I pay the price of having 2 or 3 or 4 or more terrible days. The only thing I can do when I suffer like this and am handicapped like this is listen to/watch Netflix or YouTube videos, or listen to music, or surf Twitter or Facebook. I'm going to die. I don't know when but I'm going to give in one day. If and when I die, I want to die peacefully. If you will help me die peacefully, this situation will be over. I would like to have a comfortable place to live in for my last days. A comfortable place with a lot of wide open space. Cramped up and/or cluttered spaces tax my mind and cause me suffering. I would like to have maybe 14 days in such a place, where I could be alone like I need to be, and to have good food to eat. I could relax and look forward to dying. Then I could be injected with sodium pentobarbital on a nice, big, comfortable bed.

It is sad to me, that I will likely have to die. Life hurts me every single day and I dream of a life where there is something in it for me. I will take what I can get however, and dying is preferable to living the life that I live now. It is far, far preferable to the life I will face when my social security backpay runs out. That is my biggest fear.

I tell you what I want, and you will not give it to me. There is nothing so little as to not be too much to ask for, to the cold hearted people on the other end. It is even too much to ask for, for me to be allowed to die. I want $10 billion, to make my life worth living. Even then it's quite likely that I will spend most days wanting to die. My broken brain doesn't know how to fix itself, and it leaves me in a persisting state of torment. $10 billion doesn't sound like a little, and I guess it is not, but it is pennies on the dollar compared to what a fair trial would get me. A fair trial is defined as a trial where Wells Fargo isn't given complete impunity to do as it wishes by the United States of America, and where the United States of America would police and prosecute Wells Fargo if Wells Fargo pays off my lawyer and/or the judge and/or all 12 jurors and/or the appellate courts and/or all of the witnesses, as Wells Fargo is prone to paying off all of the above and certainly will, and where the United States of America doesn't sponsor a cover-up that ruins my case by altering the evidence in my favor and fabricating evidence that is not in my favor. I could probably add more to this list, but a fair trial is already out of the question, isn't it?

One option you have is to confess to all of the above. Admit to your crimes and police Wells Fargo, as if you are a law enforcement agency. Put some fear in them, to deter them from rigging the game through crime. Then we can let a fair process ensue, and we will see if your conception that they've done nothing wrong is the truth (I'm not sure to what extent you have deceived yourself into believing this bullshit notion that they have done nothing wrong, and to what extent you are consciously and deliberately lying).

I tell you off like this and I'm mean as hell at times, but I'm a dying man and my suffering is intolerable. I suffer constantly and it is torment. I'm nicer to you than you would be to me. I'm also nicer to you than you are to me in this matter, and I never did anything to you.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 31st, 2023, 4:18 AM

Re: I'm making more audios

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I have a tendency to forget about you and the problem this situation poses for you. You may be ready to scream and you may be extremely stressed out about this. I'd say you've been in both of those conditions at some point of this process and probably for a prolonged period of time.

I hope you can understand how it is easy to do this, forgetting about you, when you do what you do. You mercilessly abuse me and go through my communications looking for info that you can use in criminal abuse of me. You do this to a suffering man, who is disabled and craves death. I don't know how you see yourselves, but you come across as monsters, and the way my intuition works, monsters don't have feelings. It is hard to step back and consider the possibility that it is just your behavior that is monstrous, and that you have feelings. There is a lot that is beyond my capacity, due to how weak I am and how much I suffer.

I'm going to be mad if, when this all comes out, you keep victimizing me or do things to make my life hard. I can't give any more fair an offer than for me to die. If you won't even consent to that, you are just hopelessly immoral. I prefer death to the suffering that I live in for most of most of my days. I especially prefer death to any life that is harder than what I already have. You should take me into consideration. That's what you have yet to do. Even AU girl was for your own benefit.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 31st, 2023, 5:07 AM

Re: Impact on me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

You may wonder why I entertained the idea of AU girl, given that I can't live with anyone. For one, it was too tempting. I liked her a lot. For two, I had planned on some arrangement where we have separate houses. I think I had contemplated having a house that is both of ours, a second house that is just mine, and a third house that is just hers. I would have become more intense about addressing this potentially dangerous situation when it came time for her to move.

I also worried a lot that she would do something that I tell her not to do. Specifically i worried about her bringing someone over that was not planned. One of my rules was going to be that people cannot come over at unplanned times, and I needed to be informed/consulted way ahead of time. That was one function of the house that is just mine. I could have a place where I and only I ever go.

If she brought someone over to our joint house when I was there and it was unplanned, this would have triggered extreme hostility over my wishes not being respected. I would tell the person to leave immediately, and if he hesitated a second or did anything other than immediately turn around and get the fuck out of there, I would have murdered him and I would have murdered her. I would then try to kill myself and I would not be successful.

If she had decided to come over here, I would have become very intense about this situation and explain to her how I work. If people listen to me and I am allowed to call the shots, I can keep this situation going forever with no danger for anyone, and I am very motivated to have something in life. I can and will put huge effort into making the situation work. I could have kept it going forever in my apartment in Charlotte.

My system was fried by all of this stress. It was particularly fried in July and August of 2021. I lost 30 pounds in 4 weeks, from stress, because my life in Charlotte was tanking and I was helpless to do anything about it. I still do not think you get the gravity of this. Try to imagine stress so intense that you burn up enough calories to lose 7.5 pounds a week. I could feel the intense stress in my entire body, all day long. It felt like a continuous near heart attack that never relented. I felt like I was going to explode and I literally felt my system being fried. My organs probably aged 20 to 50 years in those 4 weeks.

Again, picture this. I think when I say this, you think of yourself or someone that you know, who had a lot of stress and lost a lot of weight. For instance, I knew a girl whose husband hanged himself and died, when his wife and kids relied on his income for the house payment and everything else. This was following the girl and her husband fighting. This girl lost a ton of weight in not long. She got very skinny, basically kind of boney. I don't think she lost 7.5 lbs a week, but she lost a lot of weight. Maybe you know of someone similar. With this girl, she wouldn't eat as much. Her stress was the cause of behaviors that caused her to lose weight. She didn't lose weight just from the stress alone. The actual cause was primarily her losing the desire to eat.

So this girl and others you may know are not examples of what happened to me. Picture standing still or laying down. Picture having no activity at all, and picture yourself feeling stress. Think of how intense that stress would have to be to actually burn enough calories to lose 30 lbs. I can promise you that you've never experienced anything like this. If you had, you'd be like me. I am a dying man. I will need a pacemaker in not too long.

If these people didn't minimize my suffering and impairment on my medical records, I would have gotten approved for disability. I was impaired to an extreme, and I very clearly reported this impairment. My life in Charlotte would not have tanked as I was helpless. I would not have had this stress and my system would not have been fried.

So why don't you tell people what happens to you when you ask wells Fargo to have a conversation? Why don't you make an announcement that any such person will be tortured to death by the justice department? Do you need to catch more flies? Worried that the next person who poses the threat of this horrifying situation, where Wells Fargo pays the price of its own conduct, will not come to you begging for help and begging you for their life, as you mercilessly abuse them?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Jan 31st, 2023, 3:41 PM

Re: Impact on me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

I'm not sure if I would have murdered him and her, but that's what I feared. I would feel horrible about it afterwards. There is something extremely bad wrong with me. Today is going to be another day of suffering, it looks like. Im trying to get my sleep schedule turned around. The other night didn't work, I slept too long and ended up getting up at 11:10 am. My target is 1 to 4 am.

Mom will be home soon and it will cause me terrible distress when she's here.

You are so accustomed to getting this barrage of emails. The day is likely to come where you will not receive any more. It may surprise you, although it should not. Some things are permanent and some things there is no taking back. You will regret it terribly, if and when that day comes. I am one of the toughest, if not the toughest human being I've ever known of. I'm still human. I am dying slowly. It does not feel slow, not exactly. I have an ongoing sense that I'm can't make it any longer. One more day feels like too much.

If I do not die of natural causes, I will see to it that you are found out. It may seem selfish to you, that I will not sit back and let this bank get away with murder. I don't see it that way, and I have been murdered. Make no mistake about it. My soul has been murdered and my body will not last much longer.

I will also write my book and tell my story. I will cry when I write my story, and the world will cry when they read it. One thing I get the sense of, at times, is that you are really clammed up. The reality of what I say is not sinking in. It will sink in one day. You will come to see the exact truth of what I say.

There is no good solution to this situation. The best thing is probably for me to die. If you give me $10 billion like I want, I'll probably make it 1 year before I move overseas to die. I'm going to end up on a pacemaker. What I want to do is to learn and master stuff like before. Not being able to do that is torture, and I'm going to get worse and worse ill. I will be almost completely incapacitated in probably another 1 to 2 years. I may be wrong. It may be that if I had money to get medical care, these physical problems that I have would go away. I don't know. What I really need to do, I think, is exercise. Problem there is I have no room to do that in this apt, and I'm not sure if I could if I did have room. My mind gets extremely taxed and it does so very easily. doing just about anything will tax my mind. The only exception, sort of, is working on my computer. I can work on my Computer more than I can do anything else. Other things tax my mind very badly. I think that if I lifted weights, it would cause me terrible distress.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 2nd, 2023, 3:25 PM

I'm going to die

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I live in ongoing suffering and torment and there is likely nothing you can do but you should try. $10 billion would make my life worth living, just maybe. I am scared to die sometimes and I need someone to help me die. --

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 4th, 2023, 1:20 PM

I had a good day today

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I just thought of how I only send you emails when I'm suffering. Generally, if you're not getting emails I'm either incapacitated or more likely having a better day. Today has been a good day, as days go for me. I got up at 3 am and got to work on some of my various projects. I've been kind of in that flow state for a decent part of the day. I don't get in the flow state like I used to, before I was disabled, but I have something that is pretty close.

Life is going to be hell for the people at Wells Fargo in the near term future. I'm speaking mostly of the management at the highest level. It will be probably at least 3 weeks and likely more than that. These people did this to me and won't do nothing to help me, so I have to fight back. I'm fighting as hard as I can and I have been for years. I will be in the news almost for 100% sure, within the next year and probably a lot sooner.

I will keep fighting them until they help me and even if they do help me I'm going to write my book. If they help me, I will put in the front of my book that Wells Fargo did what they could and that I wish them well and want others to give them a chance. If they don't help me, I will include no such disclaimer, and no one will want to do business with a pack of soul murderers like that did this to me. I don't know why these people are this way.

I was the best employee this bank could ask for. I had the right education and credentials, I was talented, and I could and did work harder than anybody (although after my health got worse, that kid Patrick gave me a run for my money and actually probably out worked me many months. I still did more for that dept than anyone ever has. They would have been so helpless and up the creek if I didn't make so much documentation and leave so many notes about how to do the work).

What do they do? They take someone without the right education and credentials and put him 2 levels, then 3 levels above me. He puts the whole department through hell and then he ruins my life. After this I plead in humiliation for a simple conversation and this bank murders my soul in response, and leaves me handicapped. The destruction that this bank poured over my life provoked me to fight it like no one else ever has. I'm sure I've made people's lives hell, at least for small periods of time, during this battle, and I've quite probably got a death blow for this bank.

For sure, if the Justice Department et al had any interest in prosecuting and shutting this bank down, I've got all you'd ever need. The rightful consequence of what this bank did to me is to shut it down and tank the whole world in the process. In that case, the world would feel destruction not because of my actions but because of the actions of this bank. There is nothing that I can do to make it necessary to shut down this bank. If I commit a crime, I get off the hook or I go to jail, but in either case the bank just goes on. For the bank to fail, the people at the bank have to do something wrong, and they have, very seriously and over and over.

But back to me, I can't pull the bank's charter and I can't put them in jail, but people will not want to do business with this bank when they see the awful cruelty of what it has done to me. I have a story to tell my friend. We're all the hero of our own story, but even to others I am the hero in mine. People will see this kindhearted man and they will see how I am as big as a mountain, and they will see that my soul has been murdered. I will cry and they will cry along with me. They will not support a bank that does this to someone. Everything I say is completely accurate and if you don't agree you are missing something. You will see, one day. The day will come when you will see how completely accurate every last thing that I have said is.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 6th, 2023, 8:11 PM

I continue to suffer and I do not like the life I have before me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

In that last email, I was probably inaccurate in saying that the days you don't get an email I'm doing better. That is true for a lot of the days but is likely not true of some others. I suffer every single day. We are past the point of no return. I'm not sure how long we have been past that point. What I mean is that I will never have a life that I am happy about, no matter what happens. I have been damaged too severely and my sense of self has been crushed. My physical health is also terrible and getting worse. This is just as I predicted. In July and August 2021, I knew that I would have premature health problems. I also felt it extremely likely that I die prematurely from natural causes. We will see if that comes to pass.

The lesson that I have learned here, you may be tempted to say is something like "don't fight Wells Fargo", but is actually "don't go near Wells Fargo." You've got people acting recklessly and carelessly in a very fragile world. Their actions are designed to break something, and it's against the rules for them to pay the price for their own conduct. So what gets you broken is everything they come into contact with, except themselves and their own circumstances. I had no choice but to fight them. I had to have a life and I had to have something in life besides nothing, and their crimes left me disabled and permanently injured.

I have this powerful and recurring drive to learn and master stuff and get good at stuff and advance my cause and advance my life, and I cannot do it. I am handicapped and that ability is gone. It is so painful. The way this drive will not go away has an effect of renewing my sense of loss every day, usually over and over again. My soul is crushed 1,000x a day, as I grieve for and long to be the person that I used to be.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 6th, 2023, 8:59 PM

ChatGPT has given me some good info

To: Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

8:56 PM Mon Feb 6

chat.openai.com

Yes, psychological or emotional traumatic events can have a significant impact on the brain and contribute to brain changes and damage.

Studies have shown that exposure to traumatic stress can lead to structural and functional changes in the brain, particularly in regions associated with emotions, memories, and stress response. Traumatic stress can also cause changes in neurotransmitter function and increase inflammation, leading to further brain changes over time.

In some cases, psychological or emotional trauma can contribute to the development of mental health conditions, such as post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), depression, or anxiety, which can have a negative impact on brain function and structure.

It's important to note that not all individuals who experience psychological or emotional trauma will necessarily experience brain damage or changes. However, exposure to traumatic stress can increase the risk of mental health conditions and brain changes, and prompt intervention is important to minimize these effects.

Regenerate response

ChatGPT Jan 30 Version. Free Research Preview. Our goal is to make AI systems more natural and safe to interact with. Your feedback will help us improve.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 8th, 2023, 8:37 PM

Re: ChatGPT agrees with me and with the dozens of medical professionals I have saw

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I don't mean to rub it in your face, but I'm right almost every time. Pretty rare for me to be wrong. In this instance, it is one of the worlds most advanced artificial intelligence technologies that is confirming how dead on that I am. Here is a sample of my Q&A:

Me: Can an acute psychosis result in severe impairment of cortical inhibition

ChatGPT: Yes, an acute episode of psychosis can result in severe impairment of cortical inhibition. Psychosis is a mental health condition characterized by changes in a person's thoughts, perceptions, and behaviors, which can include hallucinations, delusions, and disorganized thinking.

During an acute episode of psychosis, changes in brain function and chemistry can result in alterations in cortical inhibition, which is the process in the brain that helps to regulate and control behavior, thought, and emotion. When this process is severely impaired, it can result in disinhibited and impulsive behavior, as well as increased risk of acting on delusions or hallucinations.

It's important to note that the specific effects of an acute episode of psychosis on cortical inhibition will depend on many factors, including the underlying cause of the psychosis, the presence of comorbid conditions, and the person's individual temperament and life experiences.

Regardless, it's important for individuals experiencing an acute episode of psychosis to seek treatment and support from a healthcare professional, who can help them manage their symptoms and reduce the risk of further episodes. This may include medication, therapy, and lifestyle changes, as well as supportive care and monitoring from a mental health professional.

Me: Can severely impaired cortical inhibition cause people to say foul or disturbing sounding things

ChatGPT: Yes, severely impaired cortical inhibition can lead to changes in behavior and speech that may be perceived as foul or disturbing. Cortical inhibition helps to regulate and control behavior, thought, and emotion, and when this process is severely impaired, it can result in disinhibition and impulsiveness.

For example, someone with severely impaired cortical inhibition may say things that are uncharacteristically aggressive, vulgar, or inappropriate, without considering the consequences of their words. Similarly, they may engage in behaviors that are disturbing or disturbing to others, such as acting out sexually or engaging in acts of violence.

It's important to note that the specific behaviors and speech that a person may exhibit will depend on many factors, including their individual temperament, life experiences, and the specific cause of their impaired cortical inhibition. Additionally, some of these behaviors may be a symptom of underlying mental health conditions, such as schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, or epilepsy.

Regardless, it's important for individuals with severely impaired cortical inhibition to seek treatment and support from healthcare professionals, who can help them manage their symptoms and reduce the risk of out-of-character behavior. This may include medication, therapy, and lifestyle changes, as well as supportive care and monitoring from a mental health professional.

Me: Can a history of severe sexual abuse from a very early age result in self-perceptions that you are sick, twisted, disturbed, or evil

ChatGPT: Yes, a history of severe sexual abuse, especially from a very early age, can have a profound and lasting impact on a person's self-perception. Sexual abuse can cause a range of psychological and emotional trauma, including feelings of shame, guilt, and self-blame.

In some cases, individuals who have experienced sexual abuse may internalize negative messages from their abuser or may feel that they are somehow to blame for the abuse. This can result in self-perceptions of being sick, twisted, disturbed, or evil.

These self-perceptions can be reinforced by societal attitudes and beliefs about sexual abuse, which often place blame on the victim and stigmatize those who have experienced abuse. This can lead to feelings of isolation, hopelessness, and low self-esteem, and can have a lasting impact on a person's mental health and well-being.

It's important for individuals who have experienced sexual abuse to seek treatment and support from a mental health professional, such as a therapist or counselor. Therapy can help individuals process their experiences and address the psychological and emotional effects of the abuse, including negative self-perceptions. With time and support, individuals can work towards healing and reclaiming a positive self-image.

This is the most inconvenient situation conceivable. I didn't cause it and the Justice Department needs to learn how to be upset with Wells Fargo. Wells Fargo's behavior is ridiculous and the people at Wells Fargo are full of shit. There was never a reason to invade my privacy. There was never a reason to illegally obtain my healthcare records. They didn't see signs that I am dangerous, because there are no signs. They didn't see signs that I might be dangerous, because the fact that I am not is so apparent and so well established as to make it perverse and ridiculous to even suggest that I am. Essentially everything about me adds up to the complete opposite of being a dangerous person. The weight of the evidence, considered from any perspective at any level is absolutely crushing. You cannot honestly consider this bullshit to be remotely plausible. This is aside from the fact that if I was a "dangerous" person, the people at Wells Fargo aren't remotely qualified to determine this or to even see the "signs." I mean come on people.

All I asked for was a simple conversation. I ask for this, in terrible pain, for over 1 year. The people at Wells Fargo won't help me. At about the 1.5 year mark, they have me kidnapped. I catch them, and thus begins a years long process of the bank trying in every way that it can to avoid admitting that these people made a mistake. These people dig in their heels harder and harder every round, it seems. Over time, I call bullshit on their whole enterprise and rationale, in ways that are more and more definitive and in your face (not that the very first time didn't cut it. Anyone who can think critically would see what obvious bullshit this nonsense is after reading the letter I sent you in January 2021. I nuke it completely, once more, in the audios I sent you in April 2021. It's so apparent and it's especially telling how I know exactly what they did and that I know quite close to exactly what they said).

I'll send you some more chatgpt q&a as I go. If you've ever for one second entertained the idea that I am the one making stuff up, you've got it completely backwards.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 8th, 2023, 8:55 PM

Re: ChatGPT agrees with me and with the dozens of medical professionals I have saw

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Here's another snippet of a response from chatgpt:

Yes, severely impaired cortical inhibition can lead to out-of-character behaviors. Cortical inhibition is a process in the brain that helps to regulate and control behavior, thought, and emotion. When this process is severely impaired, it can lead to a release of behavior and thought that is not typical for a person, and may appear to be "out of character."

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 8th, 2023, 5:06 PM

ChatGPT agrees with me and with the dozens of medical professionals I have saw

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm getting sick of this topic of my healthcare records. It is a farce that I have to explain them to you. I am, however, of the opinion that this is a very likely reason as to why you are so merciless and cruel to me. Wells Fargo is also fabricating ridiculous excuses for Wells Fargo's conduct, based on my healthcare records and based on the ignorance of the people at the justice department and elsewhere. You don't seem to realize that you're not doctors, which is quite a strange thing. Here is the question I just asked ChatGPT:

"When I was 18 years old, I had a psychosis. I have a family history of bipolar disorder. My psychosis was preceded by many months of excessive use of marijuana and frequent use of hallucinogens. I smoked 9 to 11 marijuana cigarettes a day, and I used lsd or psilocybin mushrooms about once a month. I continued to abuse marijuana in this manner for 3 to 5 months after my psychosis developed. I smoked 9 to 11 marijuana cigarettes a day. This caused my condition to get worse in an extreme way. I was finally hospitalized at a psychiatric hospital, after my condition had worsened during these 3 to 5 months. During my stay at this hospital, I made threats of extreme and disturbing violence. I said extreme and disturbing sounding things related to sex and violence. Was my behavior out of the ordinary, for someone in such a terrible condition, suffering from such a severe psychosis? Does my behavior during the stay at this hospital, including the extreme and disturbing things that I said, say anything about me as a person? Does the fact that I said these things mean that I am a sick, disturbed, or dangerous person?"

Here is ChatGPT's answer:

It's important to remember that your behavior during that period of your life was a result of your severe psychosis and was not a reflection of your true character. Psychotic symptoms, such as those you experienced, can cause individuals to engage in behavior and speech that is out of character and may be extreme or socially inappropriate.

It's also important to note that substance abuse, such as the excessive use of marijuana and hallucinogens, can increase the risk of developing psychotic symptoms and may worsen the severity of existing symptoms. In your case, it's likely that the combination of a family history of bipolar disorder and the effects of substance abuse contributed to the development of your psychosis.

It's important to seek treatment for individuals experiencing a psychotic episode, as early intervention and appropriate care can help improve outcomes and reduce the risk of further episodes. In some cases, medications such as antipsychotics can help reduce the severity and frequency of psychotic symptoms, including socially inappropriate behavior or speech. However, the specific treatment approach will depend on the individual and the underlying cause of their psychosis.

It's important to remember that your behavior during that time was a result of your severe mental health condition, and not an indication of your true character. With proper treatment and support, it is possible to manage the symptoms of a psychosis and recover.

5:04 PM Wed Feb 8

chat.openai.com

psychosis? Does my behavior during the stay at this hospital, including the extreme and disturbing things that I said, say anything about me as a person? Does the fact that I said these things mean that I am a sick, disturbed, or dangerous person?

It's important to remember that your behavior during that period of your life was a result of your severe psychosis and was not a reflection of your true character. Psychotic symptoms, such as those you experienced, can cause individuals to engage in behavior and speech that is out of character and may be extreme or socially inappropriate.

It's also important to note that substance abuse, such as the excessive use of marijuana and hallucinogens, can increase the risk of developing psychotic symptoms and may worsen the severity of existing symptoms. In your case, it's likely that the combination of a family history of bipolar disorder and the effects of substance abuse contributed to the development of your psychosis.

It's important to seek treatment. Regenerate response. Experiencing a psychotic episode, as early intervention and appropriate care can help improve

ChatGPT Jan 30 Version. Free Research Preview. Our goal is to make AI systems more natural and safe to interact with. Your feedback will help us improve.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 11th, 2023, 4:01 PM

I had a good day today

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It started out as pure hell. That lasted hours. I woke up from an extended nap at ~ 9:13 pm if I remember right. I immediately took my zyprexa, hoping for it to knock me out. I had slept for about 7 to 9 hours for my nap. I didn't mean to sleep that long. I want to get up between 1 am and 5 am. I thought if I could go back to sleep at ~ 9:30 I could get up at 5.

It turned out that I wasn't able to fall asleep. I laid in bed and suffered horrifically until 2:30 am. Part of my suffering had to do with me not taking my adderall when I got up, I think. I was trying to go to sleep so I didn't take it. There is some common brain chemistry with my attention and my ptsd, such that adderall medicates my suffering. Strattera medicated my suffering too. That's another indication of this common brain chemistry. I have a strong sense that this is the case, that these have a common brain chemistry.

I took my adderall at 2:30 am. I was timing it so that I hopefully fall asleep at 4 or 5 pm. Then I will have my sleep turned around. When I have a lot of alone time I do much better. I started to feel better and got kind of focused. Then my worker in Pakistan delivered the work that I assigned him the other day. That was great news, especially since he appears to have done it almost perfectly.

I can't remember if I've ever told you about this most recent project I'm on. It's actually not recent, I just abandoned it for a long time and have now picked it back up. I do think that I probably did tell you. If I didn't, instead of spilling the beans like I always do I'll just keep it a secret.

I am increasingly handicapped for increasingly larger portions of the typical day, so I'm utilizing some cheap labor and offshoring some of the work related to my fight. I have a friend in India that I might pick up again, just maybe (actually I've got 2 in India), and I really like this kid from Pakistan.

I'm not sure what you think of all of this. And of course, you'll notice how my mood and my tone changes when I'm in a better condition. But I have no idea. I sit here and get mad and send you emails all the time. Then I am constantly suffering and sending you emails. Then there is the fact that my situation is the end of the world. Or maybe it's not. Maybe you just let this bank plow all over me and give it complete impunity because you don't like me (or maybe because you really like them).

I mean no one any harm. I just cannot help but to feel my own suffering and to want so desperately to do something about it. I also get very angry at the injustice that has been dealt to me and at how cruelly I have been treated. I want these people to pay. If they won't change their ways and have some humanity and help me, I want them to be publicly known as the remorseless soul murderers that they are.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 13th, 2023, 7:27 PM

Re: More people who agree with me.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I've been up for a little over 3 hours. The first 2 hours and 40 minutes, I was incapacitated to do anything. Then I typed you this email. And now I'm having mild shell shock and mental paralysis. I can't do anything and I'm suffering. I have no idea how long this will last.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 13th, 2023, 7:27 PM

Re: More people who agree with me.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is my life. It is terrible. Right now I'm miserable and it gets far worse than this quite often.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 13th, 2023, 7:13 PM

Re: More people who agree with me.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm conscious of the fact that I beat you people to death in a lot of my emails and other communications. You have to remember that I am permanently handicapped and that I suffer every day. This is because of the terrible crimes that you have committed against me, and more recently because you don't want to admit that you made a mistake. What I describe as nonsense to you feels like it will cost me my life one day.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 13th, 2023, 6:56 PM

More people who agree with me.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

There is no shortage of doctorate level psychologists and M.D. psychiatrists who echo exactly the same things that I have told you. I don't go looking for them. It's more a matter of not being able to hide from them. How many doctors are the people at Wells Fargo better than? We've got I don't know how many from the hospital at age 18 and the place in newland that I went to for over 10 years. Then I sent the OIG a letter with a bunch more. Here we have yet another. Then, of course, I send you what the AI program replied to me. That program was given the medical licensing examination and scored 70%. What is the score of the people who work at Wells Fargo? What is the score of the senior manager who couldn't pass a high school level test on accounting, the subject matter of the work of the department he presides over?

I view it as highly likely that the criminals at Wells Fargo have hired their own experts, to examine the illegally obtained healthcare records that Wells Fargo dances around with in front of the regulators and authorities. Those experts have most likely agreed with Wells Fargo, if this has in fact happened.

You'll notice a trend here, that all the people who agree with Wells Fargo are 1. Facing prison time over their conduct towards me; and/or 2. Facing civil litigation, loss of funding, and being put in the news over their conduct towards me; and/or 3. incompetent, with no business even offering an opinion; and/or 4. Paid by Wells Fargo.

Wells Fargo's experts agree because that's what they're paid for. Any expert that doesn't agree will be fired on the spot. The only game* this bank knows how to win is a game that is rigged in its favor. This is because it has not had to play a game that is not rigged in its favor in a very, very long time.

You'll notice an opposite trend with the people who agree with me. They- 1. Are not paid to agree with me. 2. Often have a vested interest in not agreeing with me. 3. In many cases do not even know me. They are just sharing their expertise on public forums, and their expertise will often confirm things that I have told you nearly verbatim.

*Im using an analogy. This is not a game. This is the cruel and merciless criminal abuse of a kindhearted man, and his asking for something that resembles justice.

if the people at Broughton Hospital had any case to make that I was a "dangerous" person, they could have kept me longer, and their funding depends on them keeping as many patients as they can for as long as possible (according to what I've been told). The people and newland deemed me as no longer needing therapy when I was about 29. This is opposed to their financial interests, and they can also potentially be held liable for making the wrong decision about a patient.

At the bottom of this email are some screenshots from Twitter. I have extracted the quotes that mirror things that I have told the justice department.

“ This means, children believe everything that happens to them is because of them.” - remember that I told you that, as a child, I believed that my abuse said something about me, not about my caregiver.

“ This creates a deep internal conflict within Dylan. His father is a god-like figure who his survival depends on. Because of his age and level of emotional development, Dylan cannot objectively view his father.” - and I told you that this is because very young children are hardwired to see their caregivers as perfect (“a god-like figure”).

These 2 phenomena that I described to you are what she is referring to in this thread.

I'm uncertain as to what extent the justice department believes Wells Fargo's bullshit. I'm also uncertain to what extent Wells Fargo believes Wells Fargo's bullshit. I find it hard to believe that anyone could dupe themselves into believing this ridiculous nonsense. It seems more likely that you are both flailing around trying to come up with some remotely plausible or remotely defensible excuse for your behavior, and that you are conscious of the fact that you are being ridiculous and that you are deliberately making things up as you go along.

I'll keep beating this horse into the ground. It's just one more episode in this continuous shooting fish in a barrel exercise. I also don't know if Wells Fargo intends for these people that harass me on social media to be dead giveaways. If they do or if they don't, they are dead giveaways. I don't even bother entertaining most of them anymore.

6:04

At 7 years old, Dylan has become used to his father's intense temper. He's stressed at work, and often comes home and snaps at his wife and kids. His father has low levels of self regulation, and uses alcohol to soothe his nervous system.

22.2K 1 7 163

Dr. Nicole LePera @Theholistic... · 5h

When he's drinking, his temper is worse and he often says extremely hurtful things to Dylan calling him a "wuss" and a "sissy" if he gets upset by his father's actions. At the same time, Dylan watches his father be emotionally abusive to his mother.

21K 1 6 149

Dr. Nicole LePera @Theholistic... · 5h

This creates a deep internal conflict within Dylan. His father is a god-like figure who his survival depends on. Because of his age and level of emotional development, Dylan cannot objectively view his father.

20.8K 1 8 170

Dr. Nicole LePera @Theholistic... · 5h

He can't reason: "My dad has generational trauma. He's extremely stressed at work and overall unhappy with his life. He never learned healthy communication, and sees mocking people as a way of expressing affection. His behavior reflects his inner world."

Tweet your reply

6:04

Thread

18.6K 2 31 380

Dr. Nicole LePera @Theholistic... · 5h ...

We see things with our adult awareness, not understanding childhood psychological development. Children are in an ego-centric state.

18K 1 10 231

Dr. Nicole LePera @Theholistic... · 5h ...

This means, children believe everything that happens to them is because of them. They have no ability to discern there are many different reasons why people behave the way they do.

96.9K 3 32 465

Dr. Nicole LePera @Theholistic... · 5h ...

Here's why this matters:

Situation #1: Dylan is raised in a home with an emotionally abusive, functional alcoholic father.

Tweet your reply

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 15th, 2023, 7:36 AM

Re: More people who agree with me.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I typed this email over the past few days and am not done with it. I'm sending it anyways, as I'm sure the last one has gotten your gears turning with ridiculous bullshit excuses. I may or may not type the rest of it and then send it later. I've been very handicapped for the large majority of today and I was handicapped for a lot of yesterday. I can't believe that you people do this to me.

"The people and newland deemed me as no longer needing therapy when I was about 29. This is opposed to their financial interests, and they can also potentially be held liable for making the wrong decision about a patient." - don't get your gears spinning about this. It had to do with my GAF score. I could have argued with them and had my GAF score upped much earlier. I was also under no obligation to see a psychologist, not that I'm aware of. It was a good thing in my life and I got a lot out of it. The time just came when I wasn't interested and also kind of busy. I'd have to fact check the thing about the GAF score, but I'm pretty sure that was what they told me.

The GAF score was mostly for their purposes. If you have a lower score, it indicates that you need treatment, and this helps them treat you on a sliding scale. I don't know exactly how it works, but if you have a too high GAF score, they are not allowed to treat you on the sliding scale. That's the gist that I got.

I have a tendency to be focused on my own situation and to not take into consideration how hard this likely is on the people on the other side. I thought more about you in the beginning. I wanted to help you. And this is why I do this. I came to you with a demeanor of wanting to help you in any way that I could. I wanted to help you make something good out of this situation, or at least not have it be something too bad. You respond to my kindhearted demeanor by giving dead zero thought to me and by pounding me with merciless criminal abuse.

Im not inclined to think about you any more, and in the condition that I'm in, I have trouble reminding myself that maybe I should. My life has been destroyed. There is no good outcome for me. If you give me the $10 billion that I've offered to settle this for, I'll be off your plate but I will not be happy. I will still spend the majority of my time either wanting to die or mourning the loss of this person that I used to be. I will also ache so hard to have my privacy back. I will never get it back.

I'm going to die because this bank won't admit that it made a mistake. I'm paying the price with my life. How would you like it if it costed you your life, that I refuse to admit that I made a mistake? There is a huge double standard here, and I'd be curious about how much you think god loves you relative to how much he or she loves me. Is your life worth 20x mine? 50x mine? Why is it that you allow others to suffer terrible things that you would not be willing to suffer yourself?

Back to the discussion from the first few paragraphs, this is yet another thing that you have to contend with. This story you're spinning isn't going to be bought by anyone. A bank that is in the news 15 times a month for ripping people off (and even retaliating against rape victims) has no business being in the banking business, and is much less an expert in psychology, psychiatry, any other branch of medicine, criminology, criminal profiling, etc. They had no business digging into my life and no one will buy this bullshit. If the people at newland “saw signs that I was dangerous” they would have had me sent to a hospital to stay at against my will. Same for the people at broughton hospital. Same for the people at atrium health. They thought I was just fine and dandy 150 felonies ago. Now I’m sure they are telling you that I’m the devil himself, and it just took them too long to catch it. That’s what people facing prison time will do.

So this is what you have to contend with. Doctor after doctor after doctor who (correctly) thought I was perfectly fine, and quite often an exceptionally ethical and responsible person. Wells Fargo makes up this bullshit that I am a “psychopath” and they probably make up more bullshit that they saw subtle signs of this, and this prompted them to do an expert intervention.

For that, they will have to contend with the fact that, when I was ill at 18 and in the hospital, one of my symptoms was a false belief that I was such a person. I told numerous people at the hospital this, including doctors. So here I am, a snake in the grass, except I’m not. I proactively suggest this to these doctors and in the face of this they didn’t see any sign. They (correctly) disagreed with me and told me that this wasn’t true. Then when I was seeing John in newland, I had a mental health hypochondria based idea that I was a psychopath. I had went as far as to self-score myself on a diagnostic checklist and bringing into our session my score sheet, which showed I was a quite severe psychopath. I think I scored myself a 35 out of 40. John did an informal assessment, as I was reading him my scores for each item. The purpose of this was to show me how silly I was being. At the end he compared his score to mine and explained the difference. I think he had a 16 or an 18. If I were to take a full evaluation today (not just a 3 minute checklist), I would probably score between 14 and 18. But John told me that I was diagnosing myself with cancer and that I had “first year psyche student syndrome.” Of course he was right. At the time, John had already had a few decades or more of experience. This was following his 12 years of schooling and training to get his phd. When I went in his office, there was a big bookshelf filled with books, most of which the people at Wells Fargo wouldn’t have a prayer of understanding. He had attended all kinds of seminars, including one held by Reid Meloy. He had worked in all kinds of settings, including working with children who had been taken by the DSS or who were in the criminal Justice System. He had done work on real psychopaths at every stage of life, I would say is a safe assumption. He told me about the kinds of things the children he treated and their parents would do. Told me about having adult clients who “beat the steering wheel in the morning when the car won’t start...and beat their wife when they get home in the evening, and not feel any different about either of the two.”

You have me proactively trying to sell experts on the case that Wells Fargo has tried to make to you (and doing it better than Wells Fargo can) and still yet, the experts know the whole idea is baloney. But Wells Fargo wants to sell people on the idea that a bunch of level 1 and level 2 credit analysts, along with their senior manager (who couldn’t do the level 1 credit analysts’ job) saw the “signs” that these experts had missed for 20 years, even when I tried to convince the experts myself.

Even if they are given all of this, even if you grant them this otherworldly expertise, even if you alter what is blatantly not the case and grant them that I am a “psychopath”, this changes nothing. They still have all their work ahead of them in trying to say that I’m a “dangerous” person. Psychopaths aren’t dangerous people by default. Many of them go to college and go on to be bank CEOs or lawyers for Wall Street.

Here is the story. These are the facts-

1. Wells Fargo invaded my privacy, committing a vulgar and unlawful intrusion in doing this.
2. For no good reason, Wells Fargo had me kidnapped and sent to a hospital, to be falsely imprisoned (and actually kidnapped again, quite possibly, under the law).

3. In the preceding scam, Wells Fargo paid a crisis counselor and her coworker to lie about my mental health condition, and to make a blatantly fabricated set of healthcare records.

4. The brazenness of these crimes seems to suggest that Wells Fargo had a certain knowledge, from the beginning, that Wells Fargo is above the law and is permitted to do anything that it wishes. Wells Fargo would seem to believe, with 100% certainty, that the people running this scam would never be punished (more on this later).

5. Having been kidnapped at least once on April 21st, 2019, I find myself at atrium Health's inpatient unit. My fragile life, that I so fiercely protected for so many years, was now in the "care" of the people at atrium health. Wells Fargo had already involved one or more employees in this scam.

6. I am forced to give atrium health phone numbers that I don't want them to have on their records. I am not allowed to have these numbers deleted or deauthorized when I ask. I am instead laughed at, which is perhaps somewhat of an irony, because...

7. Within probably 30 minutes or an hour of handing over this extremely sensitive information to Atrium health (under false pretenses at that), my rights and my privacy are compromised. Atrium health may have broken some kind of world record for how quickly someone's rights can be violated after they turn over private information.

8. At the point of the above, my life has already been ruined, I just didn't know it yet. The person who hands over my mother information lies to me and says that the hospital didn't even call my mother. This was almost certainly done at the request of my mother, who, in her ongoing quest to invade my privacy, talks to people in my personal life behind my back and doesn't want me to know it. She's asked that I not be told and they go along with her.

This is how seriously these thugs take the rights of their patients. This is how much dignity I am afforded. They recklessly ruin my life, not seeming to be the least bit inhibited or hesitant in violating my rights, and then they lie to me to my face about it. Both my mother and Wells Fargo are intent on invading my privacy, and they couldn't ask for (and never have had) a better aid in this endeavor than atrium health. I would be far safer writing a book that contained every private detail about my life and turning it over to the public library in Charlotte. Wells Fargo never would have thought to check a public library for information about me, but they did know that I go to atrium health and that atrium health has my private information. Atrium and the public library in Charlotte are equally secure places to store your private information. It is every bit as easy for someone to get your information from one source as it is the other, except the the public library won't proactively deliver information to you, if they know that you want it. That's a value added service that only atrium offers to information seeking intruders.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 17th, 2023, 3:58 AM

Re: More people who agree with me.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I don't want to live in your rotten country any more. I want to be paid so that I can go and live somewhere else. The people in Switzerland or Belgium would be kind to me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 17th, 2023, 4:09 AM

Re: More people who agree with me.

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

At the time, John had already had a few decades or more of experience. This was following his 12 years of schooling and training to get his phd. When I went in his office, there was a big bookshelf filled with books, most of which the people at Wells Fargo wouldn't have a prayer of understanding. He had attended all kinds of seminars, including one held by Reid Meloy. He had worked in all kinds of settings, including working with children who had been taken by the DSS or who were in the criminal Justice System. He had done work on real psychopaths at every stage of life, I would say is a safe assumption. He told me about the kinds of things the children he treated and their parents would do. Told me about having adult clients who "beat the steering wheel in the morning when the car won't start...and beat their wife when they get home in the evening, and not feel any different about either of the two."

- this may come across as John specializing in people with personality disorders or behavior problems. He did not. He treated the full gamut of patients. The short list is the list of the kinds of patients he didn't treat. You won't find many on that list. John would also make a much better manager of a credit department than the man that Wells Fargo chose. John's about as sharp as they come. He has no accounting degree, but neither does the guy at Wells Fargo.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 18th, 2023, 3:27 AM

This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm sorry for all of the disparaging things that I have said about the justice department. What you have done to me is extremely wrong and immoral. I am a very badly damaged person. My life will consist of terrible suffering for a large portion of the rest of my life. I am suffering very badly right now. I very often want to die, to escape my ongoing suffering and feeling of being a demolished human being.

I have more to say about this and will send you more later. I knew from the beginning that something with the economy might get in the way with me getting justice. What I expected was that the Justice Department would work out something and do the best it could. I didn't understand how this banks conduct and the economy are connected, and I thought that it might be possible to prosecute the individuals involved. If not all of them, I thought maybe you could prosecute some of the smaller players and compel the bank to give me some money. I had all kinds of thoughts about what you might be able to do and what you might do.

In the early times in my fight, like January 2020 to maybe May 2020, I consistently thought in terms that were sort of grand. I thought that the Justice Department would be extremely mad at Wells Fargo for committing crimes under the justice department's nose, and I thought that the justice department would be appalled by this sickening and despicable abuse of a kindhearted man. I thought it possible that the justice department organizes a raid on the CIC building in Charlotte. People would go to jail. I would attract the interest of civil attorneys or I would file a lawsuit on my own. I would go into court screaming and crying like I did at my bankruptcy case, and me and/or my civil attorneys would get a huge judgment. As a proxy, without doing any itemized calculations, I used a figure of $85 billion dollars. I would get this judgment and then go overseas to be put to death.

Then starting sometime around June 2020, I started hedging my bets. I thought of how it's human nature to be overly optimistic and that things never turn out as nice and tidy as we want. I went back and forth, from possibilities of Wells Fargo getting raided, to the authorities doing absolutely nothing, to the authorities coming to prosecute me and at the same time my healthcare records being published on the internet. Part of this thought process came from me thinking about people I'd saw on different documentaries, who had terrible things happen to them and were then treated like garbage by the authorities. These people all suffered terrible injustices. I considered the possibility that I am dealt another routine injustice of the type that these people had experienced.

Overall, still, I thought that something good would probably happen. I thought that the justice department would have an attitude of "we can't have this" in reference to these terrible crimes against me. I pictured this attitude as leading to some kind of outcome for me, even if there were constraints on what the justice department could do because of the economy.

I will write more later. I'll just state for now that I never, ever thought of a cover-up happening. If someone had the ability to monitor my never thoughts and did a tally, I probably thought of at least 1,000 different outcomes for what might happen. This is in part because I never stop thinking. Not a single one of these 1,000+ outcomes involved a coverup by the Justice Department.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 18th, 2023, 10:52 AM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I will write more later. I'll just state for now that I never, ever thought of a cover-up happening. If someone had the ability to monitor my never ending* thoughts and did a tally, I probably thought of at least 1,000 different outcomes for what might happen. This is in part because I never stop thinking. Not a single one of these 1,000+ outcomes involved a coverup by the Justice Department.

Making a correction. The above is what I meant to say.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 22nd, 2023, 1:44 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You have no idea how bad that I hurt. At times I feel a little bit bad for hurting. It's like I should be stronger, in the eyes of others, and I at times get a little bit conscious of this. Most of the time, however, I have mercy on myself and remember how strong I used to be. I can't think of anyone else who could have fought a Wall Street bank, who hits them with everything that it's got and is completely unconstrained by the law. Who else could do this, while being disabled and with $0 income? And that was just the beginning. Anyone else would have given up a long time ago or would be dead by now. A ratio of 200 million to 1 is quite a ratio.

I have no idea what you aim to do about this, but if you help me, I will try to make this situation better for all of us. I think that your goal is for this to be over, and for us to have some kind of conclusion, and following that conclusion there are no further consequences of this situation for anyone. You want it to disappear.

That's what I mean when I say that I'll try to make it better. "Better", in the terms that you see it, = nonexistent. That's what you want. You want this situation to not exist. I say that I will try, because it will take effort. You do not understand this situation and how it has damaged me so extremely, and you likely never will. It is an unfortunate reality that this situation will never be over for me. Right now I am suffering so badly, that if I knew that a check for billions of dollars had been sent to me by fedex, I would still intensely want to die. There is nothing that can be done that will take away my intense suffering and my intensely wanting to die. Both of these come and go, but they never go away for too long, and it is obvious to me that I am permanently damaged, and very severely at that.

It would be a massive inconvenience, a massive frustration, and a massive pain in the ass for you, for this situation to go on in perpetuity. If you do take the route where you help me, it would very much suit your purposes to have some kind of happy ending. I will not lie to people and make a claim that my suffering is magically over, but I will say that people make mistakes and that you've done everything that you can do. Following this, I will use my willpower to live through the pain that I experience. That's what I will try to do. I don't want to create permanent or recurring headlines about what a destroyed and suffering person I am.

Part of the reason that I'm writing this email is that I've been thinking, and I'm a little bit bummed out about the idea that I get help and that this situation becomes publicly known. Me being publicly known will be another source of torment for me, and the reality of the situation is that there is ultimately nothing that can be done to make my life bearable. It seems like a waste. I feel that I would be better off dying. Then I think of you, and how this would probably be a terrible outcome for you, after you've endured the endless stress of babysitting this situation, which is apparently the potential end of the world. Sitting on the end of the world for years at a time gets to be exhausting, I would imagine.

But if I get some help from this, I will have some money to do the things I like and to help people. There will be a lot of good times in-between the suffering, and it will be a life where I have happiness more often. Part of the reason that this is a better outcome for you is that if I start to get the idea that I won't make it, I will make sure to write my book. My book will tell the story of my life and of what these people have done to a kindhearted man like me. The only way that I can write a book about the above topics and not have the whole world reduced to tears is to deliberately lie from the first page to the last. I may write my book anyways, but the difference is that I will be here to defend this bank and to say that it did what it could. This will be good for the bank, because people will listen to me and no one will care about this bank, after they read what it's done to me. What they have done to me will be the end of this bank. I cannot say for certain, but that is what I see as most likely to happen. If it does happen, then that's fair in the end. What this bank has done to me is supposed to be the end of it. Accordingly to the rules that's what is supposed to happen.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 23rd, 2023, 8:40 AM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am horrifically suffering. I just forgot why I was going to email you.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 24th, 2023, 8:07 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I did not choose to be the way that I am or to be in this condition. I think what is most likely the case (almost certainly, in fact) is that the other side is lost as to how I could have been so severely damaged by what has occurred. There are a number of things that contribute to this, I think.

One is that the perpetrators never take the situation as seriously as the victim. Perpetrators trivialize the event(s), as a rule. The people at Wells Fargo just dole out money to people to run scams, and they live in real nice houses and sleep in real nice beds, as they do this. In the meantime, I'm in horrible pain and eventually extremely disabled.

Another is that you have not lived my life. If my getting help depends on a bunch of Wall Street people understanding what it's like to be stigmatized, that's a tough order to fill. I don't see it happening anytime soon. Wall Street people are on the extreme opposite end of the spectrum. If you put stigmatization on the left side, I'm at the extreme of the left side of the spectrum, and Wall Street people are on at the extreme of the right side.

When you are stigmatized, you are designated a person who does not deserve respect, and there is no effort you can make that is extreme enough to overcome this. This is like how I kill myself my whole life to be the best person I can be, how I help people, and how I read 1,000 nonfiction books about how to be a good person. This means nothing. The instant the people at Wells Fargo find out that I've been to a mental hospital, I am treated like less than dirt. This is just like I was treated in the mountains, for the same reason.

The people who run Wall Street are the exact opposites. There is no amount of rotten conduct that will take away their halo, where they are deferred to, treated with respect, and treated as honest people. These people have lied, stolen, cheated, and damn near crashed the whole world. Yet you don't see them getting subtly disrespected and disregarded. There are people who criticize them harshly, but these people criticize them as if they are full fledged human beings. The people that run Wall Street are taken seriously in all contexts.

It's just like that there are people who would be pseudo kind to me, after they find out about my health condition, but they do so from a place of my wishes not mattering and of them not considering me an equal. After I became stigmatized at Wells Fargo, it was this familiar thing, where my presence in a room carries no force. It hurts so bad to type this, because it makes me think of it. And going forward this is all I will ever know. I got a reprieve when I moved to Charlotte, and then Wells Fargo destroyed the happy life that I had. What they did subsequently has nuked the possibly for any new life that I may have. I hate Wells Fargo and I hate Jenny for doing this to me.

I started typing this email days ago. I can't remember every purpose that I had. The main one was that you don't get what has happened to me and you likely never will.

If you give me $200 billion and complete impunity to mercilessly abuse you, I could help you understand. I get the idea that you don't understand, and I can sort of get a sense of what this looks like when saw through your eyes. Still yet, that you don't get this is a little off to me. But again, let me disable you. Then give me $200 billion + complete impunity to mercilessly abuse you and to invade every millimeter of your existence with brutal force. To accurately reenact what has happened to me, we would need to change the way that I presume your healthcare providers work. If they have anything more than absolute dead zero inhibition in handing over every private detail of your life to anyone and everyone who wants it, we'll need to change that. Ditto for having any inhibition whatsoever against committing crimes against you.

But under these circumstances, at the end of this exercise, you would fully understand.

I can't type any more. This hurts too bad right now. The best thing is for me to die. I will be sad to have to die, in a way, but it is what is best. The alternative is for massive resources being directed my way, to try to make my life remotely bearable, and this not being sufficient. There is no magic wand that can make me better and there is just the same no amount of money or of anything else that possesses the quality of magic and will make me better. The damage I have been dealt and what I have lost are too much. That's just how life works.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 24th, 2023, 8:33 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Typing this email has ruined me for the next 1 to 6 hours.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 25th, 2023, 9:46 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You have murdered a kindhearted man who wanted to help you, and you have done it for no reason. I never did anything to you.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 25th, 2023, 9:17 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is what happens when in July and August 2021, I send you emails begging for help repeatedly every day because I'm under such stress that my body is being fried, and you just continue your thug superpower, indecent, shameless whore to Wall Street criminal attack on me when I'm disabled.

<https://jamanetwork.com/journals/jama/fullarticle/208031>

I saw it coming, at that time, that I would have premature health problems. I lost 30 pounds from stress alone, in the space of 4 weeks. I could feel my system being fried. I felt extremely tense and like I was about to explode all day long, every day, during this time. If you thugs wouldn't have had my healthcare records falsified, DDS would have approved me. I would have had money and not be in a continuous state of my heart being about to explode, over the threat of losing my apartment.

My health problems are getting worse. I am weaker and weaker for a greater and greater portion of every day. There is no point in me living. I am being reduced to a vegetable that can't do anything but suffer.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 26th, 2023, 12:35 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I call you names but I need someone to help me. I am a vegetable for the first 2 hours and 40 minutes of every day. That started about 2 or 3 months ago. As of the past few days, the 2 hours and 40 minutes has been extended. Yesterday it was the entire day. I am getting weaker and weaker. My big worry is that I will not be able to write my book if I have to die. As my fight goes on, I like being able to get stuff done sometimes.

Everything I say is exactly the case. This horrible stress is what has caused my physical health to go downhill. The idea that anything besides the abuse of Wells Fargo and of the various entities that Wells Fargo induced into crime caused

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 26th, 2023, 1:33 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I accidentally hit send. The idea that anything other than this criminal abuse caused my PTSD is absurd. Any expert you have who is giving you that opinion is doing so for some odd reason, the primary suspects being that he/she is getting paid to do so, or the process has been designed to get the outcome that you want.

You have botched this whole thing. None of what you hoped to gain by running this coverup is likely going to be accomplished by the time that all is said and done. In the most extreme case, just maybe you score a few points. The odds are overwhelming that you get found out. If I weren't so ill, almost certainly you would have already been found out. It's an uphill battle for me, because of the credibility problem created by prejudice against me for my health condition, but I'm pretty good at this and I learn something on every iteration. I move at a snails pace, but over time I get stuff done.

I created a web portal that had everything you would need, just about. All of this nonsense about my hospital stay at 18, I had 6 or 7 videos that explained it in depth. I told a very complete story in these videos and I included videos to further explain things. Any questions you had, I could have rounded up an answer in not too much time at all.

You wouldn't get found out if I would just drop this issue, but I'm sorry, I can't do that. I will not accept this fate, where I am murdered because I asked Wells Fargo to have a conversation, and Wells Fargo gets away with it Scott free. Ditto for allowing myself to be defamed after I am dead. Telling the full story of my life to the public is likely to be necessary, to address the situation that has been created. Telling the full story of my life to the public is the end of me. It is a horrifying thought, the pain that I will live in as a result. The end of me it may be, my life is extremely defensible. I am not sure that many people have lived a more defensible life. I am disabled; I am extremely ill, and I will have to put up a fight, but I will win in the end. The effort that I have put into doing what is right, over so many decades, has rigged that game in my favor. It will be a nightmare and I don't look forward to it, but it's better than the alternative.

So you get nothing, and I will have suffered and lost everything for no reason. You have no defensible reason but even your indefensible reasons will fail to pan out. I was the answer to every problem that this bank had. They just didn't see it. Part of the reason they didn't see it is because they didn't bother looking; they don't care.

There is nothing in the work that is done in this bank, at any location, that is a total mystery to me. I know about finance. I know about accounting. I know about sales. I know about marketing. I know about technology. For their ethical problems, there is likely no human being on the face of the earth who has thought longer or harder about what it means to do right than me. No one has engaged in this exercise from the position that I did either. My desire to do right in life required me to overcome everything. It even required me to overcome the blood that runs in my veins.

I will continue later.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 28th, 2023, 10:16 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The insight that I'm having is that it is my physical health problems that is increasing my torment. I have a strong desire to do things, to get stuff done, to learn, to master, to move forward with my fight. This desire is a product of my mind, and except the very last item, it has existed for my whole life. My body has become not very accommodating to my mind and my drive. I was so impaired before, but during the good times I could do something.

It is getting to the point that it takes more and more willpower to do anything, and it is because I am weak.

Wells Fargo is just digging itself in a bigger and bigger hole with its conduct. That's most likely the case. It is possible that I die without writing my book or doing much else to expose Wells Fargo. In that case, Wells Fargo and the Justice Department will be able to arrange for my corpse to be robbed and to tell lies about me after I'm dead. Things will work out better for you. This crap they're doing right now doesn't advance their case in any scenario, however. At best they will end up the same.

I say that I might die because life is being extremely cruel to me as of recent. It has been extremely cruel for a long time, but I cannot take much more. Things are more soul crushing.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 28th, 2023, 11:50 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

There is next to no way that I'm going to make it. I hope that I'm wrong. I took an extra adderall earlier. I did this to help me get something done and also to turn my sleep around at a faster rate. I have to turn my sleep around every month, at some point. It usually takes days, but with an extra adderall I can do it in one night.

I used to get very energized when I took an extra adderall. This is the first time that I've taken one and been a vegetable after the fact. I am incredibly weak.

I had 3 books that I wanted to write. The number 1 priority is the book that tells the story of my life. I plan to call it The Story of my Life Lived on The Pointed End of Reality. On my title page, the words "The Story of my Life Lived on", I planned on making those very small relative to the rest of the title. This is to have the effect of the book appearing to be titled "The Pointed End of Reality"

The pointed end of reality is my original idea. It is a concept that I came up with, and it is a product of my life. It is my concept, but it is a reality lived by countless millions.

If I don't get any more energy, I may write it on the notes app on my iPhone. It takes effort to sit at my computer and write, but I am quite able to lay on my bed and type on my phone for most of the day, at least for now.

I will cry as I write my book, and then the world will cry with me, as they read it. My continuous striving, my endless thinking, and my constant reflections on life and on what it means to be a human being- these will leave behind something that others can learn from.

You will have watched the frame by frame, play by play, slow and tortured murder of a human being. The people at Wells Fargo will have watched the same, the whole time thinking only of their own skin and of their need to see themselves as deities. After I am gone, and the lessons that life has taught me are resonating with the hearts and minds of people far and wide, the people at Wells Fargo who run these scams will still be thinking only of their own skin and of their need to see themselves as deities. In my efforts and my strivings, I have found myself in the distant but very real company, of people who represent everything that it is worth striving not to be.

It's possible that I'm getting way ahead of myself here. I am getting extremely weak. Maybe if I exercise can get some of my life force back. Most likely, to be honest, I think that I would have a heart attack. My health is very very poor.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Feb 28th, 2023, 9:46 PM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

"You wouldn't get found out if I would just drop this issue, but I'm sorry, I can't do that. I will not accept this fate, where I am murdered because I asked Wells Fargo to have a conversation, and Wells Fargo gets away with it Scott free. Ditto for allowing myself to be defamed after I am dead."

- the above is secondary to the fact that my nonstop suffering keeps me moving. I have a constant desire to escape this suffering or do something to make it better. I am also doomed if you don't help me. My teeth will fall out in not long. My physical health is getting worse and worse, and I can't afford to do anything about it. The neurological impairment caused by my PTSD and related brain damage makes me too handicapped to take care of a home or to take care of myself. My disability money isn't enough to pay for me to live on my own. My mother is getting older all of the time, and she won't be able to work like she does forever.

It would be an easy fix for this situation, for your purposes, if I would just forget about this issue. That's not going to happen, and I think you're taking the wrong approach. Would it not be an optimal solution, for the people at this bank to conduct themselves ethically? Would that have not solved this problem and would it not solve all problems like it? Would this not solve a whole lot? Why do we not push for this?

It is very hard for the justice department, to oppose Wells Fargo. The situation with Wells Fargo is a very tough situation. There is no easy way to handle it. If we are to fix this problem, we have to approach it courageously.

The most likely outcome for me, in any and all cases, is that I die a premature death. And by premature I mean very early. I could die of natural causes at any time. I also suffer horrifically and my suffering has recently become worse. It is more persistent and in a way more tormenting. It has to do with my physical health going down the tubes. There is a connection there. After this thing started, where I am way too weak to do anything for the first 2 hours and 40 minutes of every day, I would suffer very badly for those 2 hours and 40 minutes. It is pure murder. And now this period of weakness is being prolonged. Some days it is literally the entire day.

My system being fried from the stress of my battle is what has done this. You don't go downhill at a rate this rapid for any other reason. I saw this coming. I felt it happening in real time. I had horrible stress that never relented, once I became disabled and unable to pay my bills. It was hell on earth x 50. Stress like this that drags on for a year or longer, day after day after day, never relenting, is not healthy. And then in June and August 2021, I probably aged more during those months than I had in the 25 years prior. My face might not have aged, but my body did. I literally felt myself being fried. It was this horrible tension where all day I felt like I was going to explode and that my heart was going to explode, and it never let up. Day after day after day of this tension. One thing that helped me on one day was taking extra Adderall. That may not sound right to you, but it did. It medicated my stress and I felt a good bit better.

There is likely some doctor that wouldn't agree with me on this, and I don't care. I'm right and anyone who debates with me is wrong. For one, stress that is so intense that it burns enough calories to lose over 1 lb a day for weeks, this is an anomaly. This has not been studied. There is no one who has treated 100s or 1,000s of cases, who can say what is best. Then the bigger factor is that I felt this happening to me. I could feel my body being fried by this intensity. After I took an extra adderall, the intensity abated. I wasn't being fried as badly.

We have reached the point where the commonsense best thing to do is for me to die. I still want as much money as I can get. My life will have been lived for the sake of nothing. I will have killed myself for the sake of nothing. I wanted to help people. If I have some money, I can give a lot of it away. I always wanted to help children's homes. I have also thought in the past of helping veterans. If I don't, who will?

Then I can live a more comfortably in my last days. I can have pleasant circumstances. People will be happy that I helped them, and I can die a peaceful death.

I will always hate Wells Fargo, I think. Even if I wish them well, and even if I mean it (I won't say it if I don't mean it), part of me will always despise these people for what they've done to me.

How have we reached this place, where the best choice we have is to put a kindhearted man to death? What is it exactly that I am dying for?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 1st, 2023, 12:05 AM

Re: This situation

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Why don't you massacre the people at Wells Fargo with crime? Why don't you take away their medication, so that they're too crippled to keep committing crimes against innocent American citizens? You seem to not have a desire to stop the people at Wells Fargo from committing crimes. Instead, it seems you are simply concerned with them not having to face the consequences of the crimes that they commit. Wells Fargo committing crimes is ok. Wells Fargo facing consequences is against the rules.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 3rd, 2023, 12:00 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am weaker all of the time.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 3rd, 2023, 12:52 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am more and more a vegetable as time goes on. I used to have such strength.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 3rd, 2023, 11:58 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I aspired to be a good person in life. I think that murder is wrong and a murderer is something that I would never want to be.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 3rd, 2023, 11:53 AM

Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am fighting for my life. That's what my fight is about. I am a dying man and I have been a dying man since 2019. Everything that you do, you are doing to a dying man. Your viciousness is unwarranted and is only going to make you a murderer. The Justice Department is hell bent on the outcome that Wells Fargo becomes a murderer, and the justice department is hell bent on Wells Fargo doing so right in front of the justice department's eyes. --

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 4th, 2023, 3:02 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm feeling a little bit better today. I've got more energy and I'm a little bit pumped up. Still suffering and feeling my impairment. I hate this situation that we are in. I didn't do this.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 5th, 2023, 9:17 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The people on the other end blow me away. You are the foulest, most vulgar people.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 8th, 2023, 10:08 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I think that it is possible that you are making plans to murder me. There is no point in this. My fight might be over. Things are getting worse and making life not worth it any more. I need to find out what hope exists for my physical health. I need to know what the prospects are for making my heart strong again. I don't think they are good, but maybe there is some surgery I can get. I say I don't think they're good, because my brain injury almost certainly prevents me from exercising. Everything I do takes extreme mental effort due to my brain being weakened, and I really doubt that I could lift weights. I may try walking up and down this steep road to our apartment, but the problem there is that might trigger a heart attack. I need some kind of exercise to help with my heart. If all that I will be able to do, through surgery and whatever exercise I am somehow able to do, is keep my health from further declining, then it's not worth it. I need to improve and get back to where I used to be.

You will be murderers in the end. There is no need to get in a big hurry. In our list of probable outcomes, the first most probable continues to be that you get found out. That is an almost complete certainty. And now, I'm adding a new extremely probable outcome, that being that this bank and you become a murderer and become publicly known for being a murderer. The first of these probable outcomes I put at 99%. The second, as of now, might be at about 85%, to potentially go up dramatically over a short period of time.

Do the math, and it's looking like you are going to be known as a bunch of indecent thug murderers, who have contempt for the powerless, the poor, and the mentally ill, and who run the most indecent, despicable, vomit inducing scam conceivable and then steal poor people's money to pay for it. That's what you've got to look forward to.

On my asap todo list is to take a few simple steps to ensure that you are found out, even in the event that you murder me within the next two weeks. I've got ways to do this that you will never anticipate and that you will not be able to deflect. You won't even know it until it has already hit you. You'll still be able to defame me after I'm dead, but I have made enough materials thus far that your defaming me is likely to get discredited and be a transparent load of shit to the public. I guess I'll add to my list of things to do, the task of making some more stuff to defend me.

If my life is prolonged, I'll write my book and there will be no question of just how defensible my life is and of how hard I have tried. Your ears will be shattered by the voices of people telling you that everything is exactly as I say it is. You will be surrounded by this; these people will be telling you this, some of them shouting it, from every angle.

I feel like it is less probable that you have short term plans to murder me than not, but I will not let every coward in the world lie about me after I'm dead.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 8th, 2023, 2:53 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You thugs are law enforcement. Leave concerns about my mental health to the doctors that handle my healthcare. I don't care about your concerns about my mental health. You should also not care about your concerns about my mental health. This is because your concerns about my mental health are a waste of time, which is in turn because your concerns about my mental health are not real concerns, because you have no clue what you're talking about and are not qualified to understand the subject matter.

If you had met me in real life, before looking at my illegally obtained healthcare records, you would have been competent to judge me. In that context, you're as good as anyone else. I would seem to you like a very kindhearted man who likes to help people, and is also odd in many ways. I would seem this way to you because that's exactly how I am.

Judging me at a time when I am having very severe symptoms is a different story. Judging or assessing me based on my healthcare records is also a different story.

I have no idea what's going on at the Justice Department, or it is more accurate to say that I have a handful of competing ideas that I go back and forth from, and the truth likely matches one of these ideas very closely, or maybe is made up of elements of more than one of them. One thing I think is possible is that you think that this situation we are in is highly complex and confusing. You may have a position of you don't know what to think, and that this whole thing is full of mysteries, some of which may never be solved.

If you think this, it is because you've been distracted by all of this psychiatry stuff. That will confuse the hell out of you. It will confuse the hell out of anyone who hasn't been through the grinder of putting in long hours of study over a period of years, then having a residency that lasted a number of years, etc. Hai Chung at Broughton had been to school for at least 12 years, probably more, and he probably had 20 or 30 years of experience. And yet, even he got it wrong. He gave me an incorrect diagnosis.

I could confuse you in any number of ways. For example, I could bring you a set of chemistry books, and ask you to make sense of them. I could bring in a diagram of some molecule and ask you how to make, if it's volatile in some way, etc. You would be confused in exactly the same way, assuming you haven't been to school for chemistry. It is complex subject matter and it taxes and fries your brain to try to get a grasp on it, in a few minutes, a few hours, a few days, or even a few months or years, if you're trying to understand it at the level of someone with the education, training, and experience to be a professional chemist.

Go to a book store or a university library, and you will find a huge collection of texts on a wide variety of subject matters that have absolutely nothing to do with the crimes that have been perpetrated against me by Wells Fargo and the others. You could find enough supply to be confused for the rest of your life.

And being confused for the rest of your life might sound good to you, when the alternative is to address this situation that is the end of the world. Any and every distraction from this situation is extremely tempting. Being confused is very convenient.

My point is that being confused by some random complex subject matter taught at a university and being confused by my healthcare records and psychiatry are one and the same here. No difference at all. There is no point in either and neither topic is relevant at all to this situation with me.

The situation can be said to be hard, due to the gravity of the consequences, but it is not complicated at all. No complexity to be found anywhere. If you wanted to have me examined, in depth, by some psychologist who is paid to be objective, I would have agreed to that. The subject matter of that examination would be complex, but that complexity would be outsourced to an appropriate expert. It wouldn't feel all that complex to the expert, and he or she could deliver you an appropriately simplified and tidy answer that you could understand.

This would be a ridiculous request for a criminal law enforcement authority to direct at a victim of a hundred felonies, but I would have happy done it. I gave you my psychologist John's contact info and gave him a full ROI. I did this very early. I talked to him for 1 hour every single month for 8 years. This is compared to 10 to 25 minutes with Kathy every 3 months, for 7.5 years. Do the math and you'll see that he knows me much better than her. He was also more than qualified, with his lengthy education, his talent, and his extensive experience at high level positions.

I can imagine one reply to this being this utter bullshit that Wells Fargo has concocted about "seeing signs that I am dangerous." There, you may reason, it is relevant. We might need to an expert to evaluate if there were in fact signs that I am dangerous for Wells Fargo to see, or if Wells Fargo is just making this up, as an excuse to get away with felonies numbered 6,009,019 through 6,009,121.

I've got a handful of things to say about that. The first is that we haven't done that. We haven't brought in a third party, independent expert to evaluate me. What we would need there is the "signs" that Wells Fargo claims to have seen, along with any corroborating evidence, a professional, and me. I could offer my input on what Wells Fargo says, we could have a dialogue, and the professional could opine. Have we done this ? If this is a real concern, why haven't I been invited to this exercise? Whatever bullshit they say about me or that you say about me, you just claim to be true, and conveniently never let me address it or provide my input. Your perpetual state of justifying what you have done can never be broken as long as you keep the putty in your ears and never hear what I have to say, and you know it.

The second thing is why are we asking this question? How many doctors do we think have screwed up so bad? What kind of stupid idea is this? I referenced 15 or 20 or more medical professionals in my letter to the OIG. This included a bunch of phd psychologists and M.D. psychiatrists, and it didn't even include the people at atrium? Why do we need a second opinion when we're already on the 17th opinion? How many opinions do these fruitcake dumb asses need to be assured that I'm not "dangerous." Why do we care that they want an opinion? Why go through this trouble and this expense for a moron named Bill Vanhoy who is too stupid to realize that he has no clue about how to be a doctor? Why do we even believe this obviously make things up as you go style, ridiculous, bullshit explanation?

I'm getting tired again. To be continued.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 8th, 2023, 3:06 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am a dying man. You are a murderer. I will not live much longer.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 8th, 2023, 12:18 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If you think you have a single point in your favor, you are very badly and sadly mistaken. I picture it as being probable that you think you've got a lot of points in your favor. One thing that can cause this is you losing your mind completely. This whole situation is such a shit show, is so unnecessary, should have never happened, and involves all kinds of ridiculous crimes, foolish mistakes, and despicable conduct on the part of Wells Fargo and the Justice Department. This is very hard to deal with for you, I would imagine.

The reality of what has happened is so threatening to your sense of self, to the way that you wish to see yourself, and to the way that you want others to see you, that it can become impossible to cope with. When reality becomes too much to cope with, what people do is we start to abandon reality and reach for things that are not there.

So that's one thing, you wish to defend yourself, and the best (and probably only) way to do that is to take shots and me or make me out to be the bad guy. I don't have a complete list of things that you might think or say here, but without me there to hear your criticisms in real time and to give you corrective feedback, this whole process can run wild and have you leaving the planet.

The most likely of all the shots you could take at me, I think, is some claim that I'm a "psychopath." I can picture it being possible that you have corralled a bunch of "experts", perhaps together with one of the people from the mountains who hates me with a passion, and you have compared notes, viewed my illegally obtained healthcare records, listened to my audios, analyzed my behavior thoroughly, and drawn some very confident conclusions. I can picture a chorus of people confirming that this is exactly the case. I'm a clear cut psychopath. If the claim isn't that I'm a psychopath, then replace that word with whatever you have described me as.

If this has occurred, this is a fruitcake process that you've engaged in. Anyone who says that I'm a psychopath is a fruitcake. If I were allowed to participate in this process, I could have stopped you cold before you even got started. I could have done so definitively and in a way that none of your experts would contend with. Even if they wanted to, the force of my reasoning and the blatant evidence I have against whatever they try to say would force them to give up. I am so extremely far from a psychopath. Psychopaths are cold blooded and I am kindhearted. Psychopaths lie and I am compulsively and brutally honest. I'd have to hear what you claim but you're just toast in any debate you have with me about this.

Another thing I think is possible is that in all of these audios I send you, I have said all sorts of things and I often also have an arrogant attitude, speak in a domineering way

I'm going to have to continue this later. I'm getting tired. My decision to work for this bank has cost me all my hopes and my dreams and all the happiness that I would have had in life, and it is going to cost me my life. My life was fragile and I needed to work for a business that exercised care and played by the rules. If I know the rules, I can protect my fragile life as long as people follow the rules. This is exactly what I did for so long, until they invaded my privacy. Then, I merely ask to have a conversation, at no cost to anyone, after wailing in tears over what these people had done to me. For this, I am murdered. I am hit with an instantaneous, brutal massacre that causes me to live in horrific pain for years and destroys the life I worked so hard to build.

Things have gotten so bad for me as of now, that there is little point in trying to settle with you. If I did, what I want at this point is to get 10 billion dollars, so that I can move to Switzerland and write a book about my life and about what a bunch of pieces of shit you are. I'll give my money away. A lot of it would go to my new friend that I met online. I do not want to live at all. I want to help my new friend and her family, and I want to write 1 book, then if I've still got energy, another, then maybe 1 more after that. After that, my work is done, and I will say goodbye to this world and good riddance to the rotten thugs at United States of America.

I might die any day. These problems with my heart are very bad. I can tell by the way that I feel that I am in very bad physical condition. I am so weak. I've been crying on and off for hours, over how bad things have gotten and how most likely I am beyond the point where I can be repaired. My body and my heart muscle were fried by the stress that I was under, as I beg the doj for help, and as the doj responds by mercilessly abusing me and having my healthcare records falsified, so that I can't even get disability benefits. Disability benefits would have saved my life.

On Wed, Mar 8, 2023 at 10:08 AM Leonard Clinton Williams III <[REDACTED]@gmail.com> wrote:

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 5:13 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

"I will not sign an NDA, and among my first tasks will be to write a book about my life and about my soul being murdered."

- Wells Fargo murdered my soul, and then Wells Fargo, the United States Department of Justice, Atrium Health, and Novant Health cooperated in murdering my body. There is no way that I will live much longer. God damn you people. The people on the other end are such a bunch of fruitcakes. Reality doesn't favor you. Reality is an indictment of you, and what you do is things like you take reality lightly, as if reality might not be reality, pose alternative explanations, hire "experts" and engage in a process that rigged to get the answer you want, then pretend like the process wasn't rigged and advance your alternate explanation as truth to third parties.

These third parties seem to not notice that everything that comes out of your mouth, and everything that comes out of the people you pay's mouth, serves your interests. This pattern will persist over a period of years or decades, without a single exception. This should be extremely suspect, but is just one among many ways that you routinely escape consequences or blame for your actions. Your behavior would seem to indicate a need for the highest level of scrutiny to be applied to your every action, and yet there is this strange taboo against scrutinizing you. There is a real limit on how much people are willing to treat you as criminals or liars, no matter how much your crimes or your lies pile up. It is the same for your other unethical behavior.

The point of this tangent, which really wasn't a tangent, is that you are likely denying the fact that your merciless abuse and the stress that I was under is what has weakened my heart and will result in my premature death. You seem to have an endless list of qualifications that have to be met before you will accept responsibility for the consequences of your actions. The list has no end, because it is dynamic. Every time your qualifications are met, another qualification or set of qualifications is added. You will dig in your heels until the end of time, and you seem to not realize or to not care how repulsively self-centered this is.

There are exceptions to this, which I will not describe right now. The fact of the matter is that you have murdered me. You should have intervened and relieved the horrific stress that I was under. When I'm emailing you 30 times a week begging you for help and begging you for my life, I'm not doing it for no reason. I knew, as of July and August 2021, that I would have premature health problems. They have arrived, just as predicted, but with greater devastation than I would have imagined. It is the end of me and the end of any hope for happiness that I may have in life. I will die having never known what it is like to be in love.

for what reason will I have died? I died for what? I will have died, with this horrible consequence because I worked for Wells Fargo, and more proximately, I will have died for the sake of the dumbass, criminal, incompetent, narcissistic psychopaths who run these scams for Wells Fargo not having to concede that they are less than deities, and because the justice department also cannot stand this horrifying outcome. To the justice department, the people at Wells Fargo are infinitely more important than everyone else and should not have to concede that they are less than deities.

Do you see how we run into a problem here? When incompetent, completely immoral people demand to be treated as deities? Do you see the mismatch with reality and now conceding to this demand and to this illusion is bound to cause problems?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 5:33 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

how* conceding to this demand.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 5:42 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I cannot wait to die.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 10:16 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is the question that I posed in a Facebook group for Heart Disease-

"I suffered a criminal victimization that stretched across 2.5 years. The first event happened in April 2019, and following this event I developed severe PTSD. I was subsequently pounded with crime until towards the end of October 2021.

Throughout my victimization, I was profoundly handicapped with PTSD. I couldn't do any work at all. I would often pace the floors for 15, 16, or 18+ hours a day, in terrible distress. I had a creditor sue me and initiate a process whereby they would be allowed to sell everything that I own in a sheriff's auction. For this, I had to be my own lawyer in a chapter 7 bankruptcy proceeding. I missed deadlines for turning in paperwork. I was so unable to concentrate that it was almost impossible to fill out my schedules. I came into the court screaming and crying on the last day that I had to turn in my paperwork. Somehow, I made it through the entire process, and in the end my belongings were saved.

This didn't stop the life that I had built from collapsing in front of me, while I was helpless to do anything about it. I had to beg my mother for money for rent and for food every month. I would scream on the phone with her, telling her that I'm dying. I needed her to help me until I could build a legal case and get a settlement. My worst nightmare was for me to lose my apartment.

For this time, I was under constant, horrible, unrelenting stress. The hellish stress never relented for as much as one single second.

It all culminated into the worst stress of it all, in July and August 2021. My mother was running out of money and it was looking more and more like I would be evicted. There was nothing I could do. In a 4 week period that occurred in July and August 2021, I lost 30 lbs from stress alone. I could feel the intense stress, with its clenching tension and it's paralyzing effect, in my entire body, all day every day. I could feel my system being fried. I literally felt like my heart was going to explode every second of every day.

At that time, I knew that I would have premature health problems, and I predicted that I would die prematurely of natural causes. If I were to guess, I'd say that my insides aged about 25 years in those 4 weeks, and when this is added to the years of unrelenting, hellish stress that I was under, it's not good for you.

I attribute my current heart problems to this stress. has anyone ever heard of anything like this, of losing an average of 7.5 lbs a week, from stress alone? This was literally my body burning up calories in processing this intense stress. My diet didn't change and I didn't exercise any differently (my exercise was in the form of pacing the floor in my apartment multiple times per day). Does this sound realistic, that this stress could weaken my body/heart, to the point that I likely have coronary artery disease? One doctor told me this made sense to him. "

I know the answer, but I like to hear others chime in. No one who didn't live through this hellish stress that I did has a clue what it's like. I had absolutely 0 heart problems before this victimization. There were not even the slightest signs to be found anywhere. I had these stress based heart injuries in 1st quarter of 2021. Those got more and more frequent, and it took less and less stress to cause one. At one point, seeing my AWS bill of $30 bounce triggered one. I know exactly what they feel like and what happens. I felt this terrible clenching feeling and I felt myself being instantly weakened. It was such a brutal experience. I was weak and fatigued for days following this. That was the pattern that repeated itself every time I had one of these.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 1:27 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm almost sure that I'm not going to die today. I seem to be making it.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 11:42 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Go to hell you loser fucking thugs.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 11:47 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

My true pathology and my true delusion is how I am given to at times see you as anything other than the indecent, pathetic, emasculated whores to Wall Street that you are, and how I feel bad for putting the truth in your face and how that might make you feel.

I need to somehow make a resolution to never say anything remotely good about you and to not care how much I hurt your feelings. This assumes that you have feelings to hurt.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 2:21 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You're going to get found out. I don't exactly care if you settle with me or not, at least not as much as before. If you want to do something right, I want $10 billion, I can compile a list of people I want banned from the banking industry for their participation in these horrible crimes, and just maybe other people get punished. One court trial would be murder for me and I'm probably not up to that, much less 3 or 6 or 10 or 30 court trials.

I will not shake your hand, but I will say that I want the bank to be given another chance. I will also not accept any restrictions in any contract. If I sign a contract, all that I am willing to do is release Wells Fargo and Atrium Health and Novant Health from civil liability for their crimes against me, in exchange for $10 billion. I will not sign an NDA, and among my first tasks will be to write a book about my life and about my soul being murdered, and this book will likely cast all of you in a terrible light. This terrible light you are cast in will be a big problem for you, because it will be accurate and true. It's hard to hide from the truth once it's exposed. But maybe you can do better in the future and have a new truth.

My main goals right now for my fight are to write my book and to help my new friend that I met online. An outcome of my fight is that she and her family will be made very rich. I also want money sent to the poor girl from my childhood that I told you about (and which is another thing that is none of your god damn business).

You will be found out and you will be publicly known for being a murderer. I will leave my wishes behind, perhaps to be fulfilled through a wrongful death lawsuit, or maybe settled easier by you just throwing money at the fire that is going to be created by your crime spree and by your torturing a disabled man to death.

If that fails, there are enough nice and decent people in the population that I think someone or some number of people will step up and fulfill my wishes. They won't be able to do it to the extent that the people on the other end will, but my friend and her family will be rich enough. Her definition of rich is much different than mine or yours. She will be happy. And you've got to remember that my book will be a contribution to our culture, to our society, to the soul of our nation, and to our understanding of the world and of what it means to be human. I will be in a position to ask for something in return, based on ordinary human conventions of reciprocity.

It will quite possibly be the end of this bank and of the reputations and careers of these dumb ass, indecent thugs and murderers at this bank, who see themselves as deities and who the justice department seems to so coyly fawn and adore. No one will want to have a thing to do with such indecent and cruel murderers.

Anything is possible, but my bet is that my analysis is close to the truth of what is most likely to happen. It may not pan out this way. For sure, if you had any capacity to see what the future may have in store, you would try to settle with me. I wanted to help you in the beginning. Now I am offering to say that you did what you could and that I want the bank to be given another chance. My word will mean more than anything that you or anyone else can do. And again, I don't give a shit, not really. I've got a few more minimal action steps to take to make sure that you get found out. Once those are complete, I will be able to take my last breath feeling confident that my new friend and her family will have money and will not have to suffer a lot of poverty in their lives. I will not fear the least, the day that my last breath comes.

If you don't see things as I do, it is because you don't have the complete picture. A horrifying day it will be, the day when you realize the truth of everything that I have said.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 1:25 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I hate you. I hate the people at this bank. If I had just one wish, I would wish for there to be a hell for you to burn in, for what you've done to me. It wouldn't make a difference if there being a hell meant that I had to burn in it with you. It would be more than worth it, and it would be a very easy decision to make.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 4:55 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If it helps you make sense of this pattern of behavior that I have, I have two interesting and competing personality traits. One is that I am extremely kindhearted, and I feel for people, care about them, and am given to feeling sorry for them. The other is that I have an excess of aggression and aggressive impulses. My aggression is further of a very primitive nature. What happens is I get extremely upset and pissed off and angry, and I get this feeling like I want to rip people to shreds. I end up being mean as hell to people and then later feel bad for them. I call them back and apologize.

My behavior towards you contains other elements, like that I've been tortured to death for no reason, when I wanted to help you, like that my life has been stolen, also for no reason. Then there is this fact that the way that you are seems corrupt, cruel, and ridiculous to me. Maybe you have a reason for being this way, but I don't see it. I am being character assassinated by a megafelon bank that had me kidnapped, after I killed myself my whole life to be a good person. And you allow them to continue to taunt and belittle me. I am going to die. I don't know how long that I'm going to make it. This thing with my heart makes me feel like I'm dying constantly, and I'm not that far off. The day is coming. It's really bad at this point. Will not get better.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 7:23 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm not like you. That's the main thing that I've got going for me. In the end, it's all that I need to have going for me, but I am still filled with sadness over the what has been done to my life. I will be crying many tears from now on. This will add to the oceans of tears that I have already cried.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 9th, 2023, 7:56 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If I die before I am able to expose you, and you decide that you want to experiment with having a little decency, you can send my friend some money. She is on my phone on my Facebook IMs, and my iPhone should be able to be unlocked by putting it in front of my face, even after I'm dead. It might be easier for you to break into my computer and find her that way, but I'll shortly be doing things to make sabotaging my plans via my computer impossible. All of my passwords will be changed if I live long enough, and I'll be doing other things to screw up your plans and make your life hell if you try to coverup your crimes after I'm dead.

I wrote this and decided not to send it. My chest is hurting and it is possible that I don't make it through today. It's so hard to tell. If I die, please give my friend money.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 10th, 2023, 9:26 AM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Why do you do this to me?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 10th, 2023, 1:35 PM

Re: Who do you think you are fighting

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I can't stand this situation that we're in.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 11th, 2023, 5:58 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am a wreck and a demolished human being. Imagine having a pet robot and beating the hell out of it and it's wiring with a hammer and a knife and whatever else you can find. It is likely to behave erratically. This is what has been done to me. I am extremely handicapped and I'll never make it. I like my new friend a lot. If I sense that I won't make it, I will leave my wishes behind. I want her to get $1 billion if I die. The company of my new friend has a little bit of a medicating effect. It's giving me a little bit of my energy back, but I'm having trouble doing anything. All I can do is lay on my bed and surf the internet and type twitter messages on my phone or iPad. For this reason, I am going to get the Microsoft word app for IOS. I can lay on my bed and type my book. It will give me something to do that I'm good at. My book will crash the whole world. People will cry harder over me than they will about the wave of economic devastation that is likely to ensue. They will take the whole world down, even when that means that they go down with it, before they do business with this bank. I could be wrong, but I doubt it, and for sure my take on the situation is more accurate than yours.

It will be harder to make the audiobook version, because I have to be at my computer and I find it hard to talk about my life without wailing in tears. I'll still do it. People will see the beauty of this kind soul that you have so cruelly murdered.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 11th, 2023, 8:27 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I ask for very little out of others. My wish to die is something that I am entitled to. Those who have not lived my life have no input.

I am not a criminal, I am not a psychopath, I am not a murderer, I am a kindhearted man who is the best person he could be and wants to know the admission price for the gas chamber.

If you don't already see the truth of who I am (and how I describe myself to you is the truth. Also how I describe myself to others), it is because you are afraid of it. You don't want to look into the eyes or to hear the voice and experience the humanity and the kind soul of the man that you have murdered.

The right to die is the only right we truly ever have. It is the only thing that absolutely cannot be taken from you. And what comfort I take in knowing this.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 11th, 2023, 11:16 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Name me a person who has had their own death stolen from them. Name me a person who will never die. If you want to die, there is literally no one who can stop you. They can get in your way for a period of time, but if your wish is to die, you are guaranteed to win in the long run. That's what I mean.

Possibly you wonder why I haven't sent audios in a long time. More likely it never occurred to you that you should expect some or that you never noticed anything odd about the slow down. Making audios requires me to get up and be at my computer and also to talk. It is more than I am capable of doing right now and has been for a good period of time. It takes too much willpower. This apartment being tiny and my room being tiny has an effect on my ability to manage my life. The constricted space has a paralyzing effect on my brain. Constricted spaces and clutter enormously tax my brain. I can't get myself in order to use my kasina machine, not most of the time. It's what helps me a lot when I start to have symptoms.

I see the Justice Department's side of this just a little more today. This article about the bank failing and all of the commentary and panic peddling that is all over the internet, it will make you very uneasy and scare you. I can imagine the headline "former Wells Fargo employee alleges Wells Fargo had him kidnapped", this would be kind of scary to see. I think that what would need to preemptively be done is for the justice department to make an announcement. You'd have to speak first. Maybe get the federal reserve and other regulators to participate in some conference.

The scary thing about that headline is that it calls into question if Wells Fargo is going to be prosecuted or it brings forth the possibility that Wells Fargo might be prosecuted. That's what has the potential for panic. If you nuke that concern before it even starts, things would be fine. Make an announcement that you're resolving this situation and that Wells Fargo and the victim have worked it out. You could cite the fact that I want Wells Fargo to fix its business and that I'm too ill to endure a court trial as part of the reason that you are settling this the way that you are.

The terrible thing about this situation is that there is no good outcome for me. If I get a huge sum of money, that's the best for me, but I will still be in torment. Just maybe there is some super expensive, high tech treatment that I can get. I would do everything I can to keep the will to live. I am presented with alternatives that I do not like. Life is such torture, everything is so hard, and it seems like a waste. It would be murder for me to have to participate in a media shit storm and be in the public eye. People would say that this comes with the territory of being a public figure and a billionaire, and they're sort of right, except the money that I get has the function of barely making life worth living. That's the best that I can do. I don't need a bunch of burdens added on top because I'm some extremely lucky person.

It's a no win game for the justice department too, in a way. In the way that you have handled this so far, you have been as small as you can get. If you were to help me, which would involve making what has happened public news, you would be being as big as anyone could possibly be. There is no in-between, and I fear that I wouldn't be able to live up to this grand gesture, that I'm too bad off to do it any Justice.

Your problem is that I am suffering and you're going to get found out. I am making progress, even though I am doing so very slowly. I am all over the place on any given day or in any given week, but my general trajectory is to make progress in my fight. This is largely driven by my suffering and torment, and also my feeling of being dealt a terrible injustice. Human beings aren't rational creatures, and despite my analysis above and other analyses I have had, I continue to March on, even if I do it in a fumbling way. You can't pour gas on someone, set them on fire, and then expect them to sit still. It is the same with me.

Your problem is compounded by the fact that your behavior is completely repulsive. When I get this coverup in the eyes of the psychiatric and mental health community, they're going to very rightly be furious and they're not going to be the least bit concerned about panic inducing headlines, and a shit storm with the full contents of your worst nightmare just might ensue. You have been incredibly indecent and cruel. It hurts very badly the way that I have been treated and abused.

One possibility is that I put in place massive action to make sure that my new friend gets money if I die. Just to make sure, I might see if I can provoke a threat of collapsing the entire earth if you don't help her. That's a dick move, in a way, but I do it with the confidence that you will act immediately and carry out my wishes. You may not understand this, and my premises may be completely wrong. I do not think they are however, and I am dramatically the good guy and the other side is dramatically the villain. My life hurts. It makes me cry, and when I tell my story to the world, the whole world will cry, and as they cry they will hate you for what you've done to me.

I sent AU a little snippet about some of my life. It was a half a page or so and she cried. I posted something almost identical on my Facebook, and I had at least one woman IM me and say that she cried for a long time after reading it. And this is my life, the tale of a tortured and kindhearted man who has lived in such pain, who has tried so hard, and who has been so cruelly murdered. My book will be much longer than that half a page I posted on Facebook. People will find it hard to survive chapter after chapter, but I imagine they will be drawn back to it, over and over.

I guess the point is that I care about my new friend and she will have money so that her family will not have to suffer a lot of poverty. You might want to have a PR campaign in a can, for the circumstance that you have to put out that fire. I'm less likely to do that than not, by a lot, but it did cross my mind today. I care about my life and my priorities too. It's a big deal to me. I can't help but to want things to go my way sometimes. My new friend getting money is my main goal.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 11th, 2023, 4:21 PM

Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

<https://www.tmz.com/2023/03/11/fdic-takeover-silicon-valley-bank-run-svb-boa-wells-fargo-deposit/>

It kills me to see this. All I wanted to do is have my new life in Charlotte. Now I want to have a life worth living and to get some money so that I can pay people to do the things for me that I cannot do for myself. If I don't get help, I'm going to end up toothless and homeless on the street. That is assuming that I even live.

This thing where this bank has the global economy pinned against the wall isn't fair. It gets to do as it pleases to other people. There needs to be some process in place where people can get justice. Since we can't criminally prosecute them, there ought to be a process where they pay through the nose for the crimes they commit. People have to get justice somehow, and there has to be an incentive for them to not do this.

In re this link I posted, perhaps you share my frustration with these news outlets that put out stories that the world is ending. I don't see how this is good for anyone. If the world really is ending, they're going to make it worse. If the world isn't ending, they're going to push us that much farther down the line.

This is what happened when I was selling real estate in 2008. I first tried to sell real estate in 2006, and it was the biggest disaster conceivable. I got lost driving people to see homes. I got stuck in the driveway of an RV lot with one group of people. I was a terrible driver. This place had a steep entry and the road was also narrow. I ended up with at least one wheel near the edge or hanging off of it. I can't remember the exact details. I just remember the people getting amped up and repeatedly telling me that I'm turning the steering wheel the wrong way, and that what I need to do is pull forward and turn it this way.

The only sale I came close to in 2006 was this couple that called me from the driveway of a house we had listed. They had found the address and wanted more info, so they called the office and asked me to drive and meet them there. I will skip the details, but basically, these people insisted that "if we buy, we want to do it through you." Their unstated motive for this, I deduced, was that they were really worried about getting ripped off and taken advantage of by realtors, and they perceived me as being too stupid to be able to rip them off, even if I wanted to. I got lost on the way to this house and that was the beginning of the disaster that my meeting with these prospects was. I lost their business after I gave them incorrect directions to a restaurant.

I quit in late August 2006 and then shortly after enrolled in college. Between August 2006 and summer break 2007, I bought a bunch of books and videos about real estate, home repairs, etc. I worked real estate again in 2007. I didn't make any sales, but I helped the owner of the firm with at least 1. On this go round, only about 40% of my prospects perceived me to be an idiot, and I had a few that complemented me on how good I was. Told me that this seemed like the right profession for me.

I bought more books following this, and gave it a third go round in summer 2008. By this time, I was getting pretty good. I didn't have one single prospect that thought that I was an idiot, and I only had a few who had any kind of negative feeling about me at all. In our area, next to no one was making sales, but I was. I would have made a lot more if it wasn't for MSNBC, CNN, Fox, and whoever else, because all that these people have to say, all day, every day, is how the whole world is going down the tubes and how everything is getting worse and worse and worse. If I remember right, one network had some kind of colored meter that indicated how bad things were getting. They'd be moving it from bright orange to red.

As this doomsday coverage starts to really get underway, the already very limited number of prospects that I have coming through the door start to be dominated by a variety of buyer that I nicknamed Chicken Littles. These are people who think they're getting something for nothing because the sky is falling. You'd drive them around forever, at $4 a gallon, and then they'd make some 25 cents on the dollar offer. None of our sellers were that desperate. I ended up quitting shortly after school started back. It was a real bummer that this market tanking happened right when I finally get good enough to halfway know what I am doing.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 5:31 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

" When I get this coverup in the eyes of the psychiatric and mental health community, they're going to very rightly be furious and they're not going to be the least bit concerned about panic inducing headlines"

- that's exactly where your coverup is going. It will go other places too. The only question is if I will be here or not when it gets there. The outcome where it is in front of their eyes and I'm still breathing is very possible. It is my choice. I will have no problem doing this. I have gotten this figured out at this point.

You may think that there's no way you get caught. You may think that there's no way that people will believe me. You may have an array of thoughts about why you doubt my potential to expose you. You can forget all of these thoughts. They are a waste of time. Your coverup is transparent. It is especially transparent when I am able to explain what is going on to people. There will be no debate. I have had this whole thing figured out for a very, very long time. If you think that there is a single element of your strategy that I have missed, you are very badly mistaken.

You may have been thrown off by my past estimates for getting this in the media. I was off there. I underestimated the prejudice of the news media. I still wasn't completely off, I don't think. If you calculated the cumulative odds that this doesn't end up in the media, based on my various estimates, you'd probably still get 1% to 3%, and maybe more. Here I'm talking of all of my estimates that were before the past 5 months or so. I'd send you emails "the odds are 80%", "I'd put the odds at 30%", and so on. I can't remember the timing. 1% to 3% outcomes are probable enough that they do happen. I wasn't completely out of touch with reality.

Whatever the case, your coverup being in front of the whole world is at my discretion. That's the de facto status of the situation. Doesn't mean that it won't take effort, but I will do it and you are very unlikely to be able to stop me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 5:50 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You have this compulsive need to blame my problems on something else, and what I picture you doing with my heart problems is saying something about that I take stimulants at the same time I am having these problems. I'm not being a bastard here, just making a point. You're only human. My cardiologist said that adderall had nothing to do with whatever is going on with my heart. He said that adderall can sometimes cause your heart to I can't remember what goes in the place of those 3 dots. I think he said "have an irregular beat" or something like this. Whatever he was describing was some thing that randomly happens with a rare frequency that isn't an ongoing problem. His primary suspect seemed to be my olanzapine and the effect it has on triglycerides and a bunch of other stuff that it does that can affect your heart health. He ordered a stress test and some bloodwork. The other doctor I talked to in linville said that my explanation about being under extreme stress for so long and my system being fried in 4 weeks made perfect sense to him. He diagnosed me with panic attacks, but I am 99% sure that he just did that so that he has something to write down. After I described what I have experienced to him, he told me that I needed to go to a cardiologist as soon as possible. He wanted me to make sure to call someone the very next day.

Adderall is not contraindicated for coronary artery disease. That's what I either have or am developing. When the facts are fully determined, I will be right on all counts. The chances that I am wrong are extremely low.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 5:56 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am very weak right now. Part of the reason you're getting more emails is that I am increasingly bedridden.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 9:50 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am extremely ill. These hellish symptoms have been very bad for many days. They seem to consistently get worse. I can't do anything. I'm likely to have yet another day of zero productivity. My sleep keeps getting jacked too, because I sleep for 15 hours at a time. That's me getting weaker. That's what's causing that, most likely.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 10:10 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I've thought about this, and most likely the L.A. Times has that signal chat history. I'm talking of the 18,000 to 25,000+ messages that I sent them, as a play by play or my horrific suffering. I will eventually find out. I keep open the possibility that I am wrong. I am perhaps wrong in a really big way. But as I see it, that signal chat is a big $ maker for them and a big liability for you.

They will cry as they read it, just like I cried when I typed so much of it. This situation needs to be addressed in a well thought out, planned, controlled, and orderly fashion. That's how you minimize the damage and keep everything together.

What we're heading towards is a situation that is much the opposite, and god only knows what's going to happen. If and when the population of the United States of America sees the horrific suffering and the cruel abuse that is detailed on that chat history, they will not sit still. People are not entirely possessed of rationality, most people aren't all that well versed in economics, and there are other factors that contribute what a chaotic scenario could unfold. It is possible that it just turns out to be another huge blow to me. People for some reason have some horrible reaction, or I don't know. I don't see any way that this could possibly happen, but I assume it is possible. How is a mystery to me.

Part of the problem for you, and also for me at this point, because I'm not looking for a shit storm either, is that this person that I am, as I have repeatedly described him to you, this is exactly who I am and it is exactly the truth. People are good at figuring out other people, and when you have me narrating my whole life and also narrating my every thought, in real time, it will be extremely apparent just how kindhearted I am, how that I have such a heart, and how I try so hard to do what is right.

It will be a compelling story, because it is, and it will make this bank appear to be as evil as evil comes, which is exactly how they are, or at least how they were to me, or at the very least how it looked and felt to me at the time and how it will look and feel to the people who read my story.

I'm getting weak again. Part of the reason I keep my fight going is that I have a sense that the thugs on the other end will try to get in the way of my peaceful death, if I decide that's what I want. I would be so extremely pissed. It pisses me off just thinking about it. It's like the point of the game is for me to always be treated cruelly, and to interfere with and not respect my wishes, as if I am not a human being with feelings and as if I do not matter.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 10:27 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The best thing is for me to die. My life has been destroyed. These heart problems are terrible. I won't live much longer anyways.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 10:58 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

God damn it.

<https://twitter.com/cbseveningnews/status/1635103035444858881?s=46&t=L97rL89i6OcRz5ThN3PtoQ>

I'm sick of hearing about this. Every news piece I see about this and the threat it possibly poses scares and frustrates the hell out of me.

If you would just reply that you will let me die like I want to, this fight be over for me. I'll still write my book, the world will still cry, and you will still have a huge mess to deal with. I wouldn't have to push to get my stuff in front of the world. You could at least delay the issue and I don't know. I mean this whole situation is just fucked. I can't stand it. It's a bunch of alternatives that I don't like.

I have told you before that if I had a choice between there being a heaven for me to go to and see my poor dad, and there being a hell for the people at Wells Fargo who did this to me to burn in, that it wouldn't be a choice. I wouldn't have to think about it a second.

If you add a 3rd choice, that my new friend and her family gets money, it also wouldn't be a choice. That's what I'd pick.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 12:28 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I don't understand why you won't even help me die. That would fix it for everyone. I would be a little sad to have to die, but at the same time it would be a relief, and overall, I would look forward to it.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 4:43 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is the situation that we are in. It is not going anywhere. There will be no happy ending. This bank is going to be a murderer, and the justice departments response will be many orders of magnitude worse than letting it get away with murderer in broad daylight. You will have watched this murder take place, frame by frame, and in super slo mo, and you will have done nothing to intervene, except commit despicable and cruel crimes against the victim, as he pleaded for his life.

Your tagline about there not being two standards of justice needs to be axed. It is a lie and people's lives can be lost as a result of believing it. There are at least 2 standards of justice, probably more than 2, and among those standards are that Wall Street has the right to kill.

I hope that my analysis is wrong. I have however lived my entire life, since I was just a baby, in a dimension of life called reality. I know it very well, and I see it with greater clarity than those whose experience of life has taken place in some other dimension.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 8:36 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I could have fixed this a lot easier if you didn't destroy my health through crime and if you didn't cripple me with this despicable tactic of taking away my medication.

It was a huge mistake to contact the Justice Department. I wasted my time for many many months trying to get help from you fruitcakes. I could have made a lot of progress if I focused my efforts elsewhere. It took me at least 80 hours to type my complaint, possibly a little more. Took me about 60 to maybe 80 hours to make my web portal. When you're running on a budget of having 30 minutes a day or less that you can do something, in your typical day, that is a massive share of your time. I also spent a lot of time making videos.

Then after I sent my complaint, you keep me on the line for months and months, and I wouldn't give up on getting help from you. It adds up to well over a year squandered dealing with people who have no desire to help me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 12:36 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I hate it that I have to ask for $10 billion. It is a huge amount and would put Wells Fargo in the red for probably 2 or 3 quarters. It would sound excessive. We'd have politicians raising hell, etc. but if I am to live, I need something that makes life living and offsets this suffering. Even at that much, it would be very hard to resist the temptation of euthanasia tourism. I hurt so badly.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 7:58 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

"It was off the table before this"

- here I am mainly referring to freely getting Justice from the people on the other end. My phone constantly capitalizes the word justice and I'm sick of fixing it.

You can be compelled into getting me justice, I think. And that's what's going to have to happen. I'm going to have to put the United States of America in checkmate and then go from there. I've already put Wells Fargo in checkmate.

What I'm realizing here, and this is mostly a rehashed thought and realization that I've had for a long time, is that the entirety of this situation is a big, big problem that needs to be solved, and that in solving it, the justice department just gets in my way.

We have the following problems-

1. Wells Fargo massacred me with crime and left me permanently disabled, for no reason
2. I am permanently disabled and will not make it in life if someone doesn't help me
3. Wells Fargo is above the law. Wells Fargo is permitted to do as Wells Fargo pleases, as part of what is perceived to be a necessity by the authorities and regulators
4. Wells Fargo's impunity is viral. When Wells Fargo induces other parties into crime, those other parties catch the impunity bug. They become above the law. They are also permitted to do as they please and will not get punished
5. The impunity of Wells Fargo and those who Wells Fargo infects with impunity extends so far that Wells Fargo is permitted to murder other people. Wells Fargo, and presumably any other Wall Street bank that goes off the rails, has the de facto right to kill, for any reason or no reason at all, at its discretion. So does any other party that aids Wells Fargo in its crimes
6. Wells Fargo has crimed its way into a mess. Wells Fargo's reputation is suffering damage and it is approaching the point that it will be nearly impossible to recover from this reputation damaged
7. Wells Fargo's strategy is to crime its way out of the same mess that it crimed its way into. Wells Fargo is using its impunity as a sort of competitive advantage. Wells Fargo can make up for the difference between how its bank should be run and how its bank is run by committing crimes. When the mismanagement of the bank exposes the bank to a liability, the bank can cheat its way out of that liability through crime

8. I won't list them, but I know a lot about the bank's ethical shortcomings and how they need to be addressed

I'm getting weak again. I need to finish this. Will be back.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 12th, 2023, 6:46 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

<https://offgridsurvival.com/banking-crisis-spreads-run-on-first-republic-bank-in-california/>

This is extremely depressing. I'm never going to get any justice. It was off the table before this, given the thug nature of the people I'm dealing with. But this just puts it in my face, and the really terrible thing is that these headlines from the past 2 days are making me fearful of what would happen if I get justice out of this.

You have murdered me. You have tortured a disabled man to death for no reason. What the justice department needs to do for the next person is first you need to stop being a bunch of fruitcakes that minimize this bank's rotten conduct. You appear to have done this. You have rationalized to yourself that this bank hasn't done anything that wrong, and at the same time, you have ran an elaborate, brazen, and despicable coverup, as if it has done something extraordinarily wrong. The latter of these 2 seems to suggest that underneath your veneer, you do really understand the reality of what has been done.

The next thing you need to do is to remember that people harmed by this bank are people and can be reasoned with. This bank's strategies to reduce the liability that I pose have included having me kidnapped and getting me a fitness model. The fitness model one works much better and is no harder for the bank to do. Had I known that Wells Fargo was doing this on its own volition, it would have impressed upon me a lot more and I would have thought very well of them. I thought the DOJ was making Wells Fargo do this. I liked AU girl a lot, although I don't want her back now.

I'm getting very weak and will have to finish this later.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 13th, 2023, 1:39 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

My helper in Pakistan has been begging for more work. I've got plenty. I just have trouble putting it together. He's a real nice kid and I'm probably going to give him a raise. If you doubt what a kindhearted man that I am, and how much I care about others, it is within my full capability to destroy this bank. I've got the ducks in a row to deliver a massive wallop. The executives will be wanting to shoot themselves. It's a one two combination that will have this bank and its management teetering on their legs and then hitting the canvas with a smack, like Trevor Berbick did when Mike Tyson knocked the hell out of him. It would serve them right, and you too, but I'm thinking of alternative ways to do things. I worry about the justice department some. If you called me, I'd either start crying or I'd give you the worst and meanest verbal lashing you've ever had, but I don't want things to go extremely bad for you. I'm also very concerned about our country.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 13th, 2023, 2:08 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm still not shaking your hand. Dead or alive. This is directed at Wells Fargo. I may shake hands with the people at the justice department. If the people at Wells Fargo start giving me shit about not shaking their hands or they try to encourage me to shake their hands, I am likely to start to feel like a man trapped in a cage in the jungle, and I will have a desire to massacre those people. You have to always remember the condition that I'm in. Never be fooled by any temporary lightheartedness. I would much rather die than to be permanently institutionalized. My wishes have to count at some point.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 13th, 2023, 12:22 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

My new therapist likes me a lot. She's another example. Women are especially good at reading people, and her impression of me is that I am an overly kind and nice person, to the point that I'm kind of naive and a person who could get taken advantage of easily. It took her 45 minutes or less to come to that conclusion. I've had I don't know how many women perceive me this way, and that's because it is a very accurate take on me. It's also because I am especially kind to women.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 13th, 2023, 12:24 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

She may or may not be surprised if she learned that I know this is how she sees me. She never told me this at all. Said nothing like it. I could tell by the look on her face when we concluded the visit.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 13th, 2023, 4:46 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I talk to you thugs as if you have any morals or decency whatsoever, and as if you do not have the moral composition of murderers. I want to die very badly.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 13th, 2023, 7:21 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I care about the country, and it's a shame. You have ruined this country for me. It's an almost certainty that you have showed some number of congresspeople my illegally obtained healthcare records, possibly the entirety of both houses of congress. The country that I care about and that I wanted to help doesn't care about me. I will not live under these terms.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 13th, 2023, 9:27 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is wrong. This is how life works. We end up in messy fixes like this. This situation we have where this bank can do as it pleases isn't right. These people do not act as if their position in our economy imposes a responsibility on them; they use it to do as they please, and they do so with an arrogant attitude. This situation has to be fixed, and massacring me is just kicking the can on addressing this problem. This is the case even if your massacre works as intended. It is actually going to blow up in your face.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 14th, 2023, 11:04 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This thing where I feel like I'm dying gets worse and worse every time. I've got a feeling right now that if take my olanzapine, I might not make it. So I'm going to go to bed without taking it. I can't afford to go to the hospital and I can't endure the stress of the events involved either. Everything bothers me extremely badly. I can't handle the least little bit of stress. I feel like there is at least a 30% chance that I do not live to see tomorrow. Not that I want to.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 14th, 2023, 11:10 AM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am getting extremely weak. It makes no sense to murder people who want to help you. I'm on a lifeline for sure. I will be extremely surprised if I live to see the end of this year and I feel like I may die any day. It is likely that there is no medical treatment that could help me. My heart muscle has been fried.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 14th, 2023, 7:37 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You probably know something I don't about the media too. I'd say you've probably got some plan to push back if they try to publish a story. If your pushback doesn't work, what is most likely to happen is you will have news coverage coming at you from every angle. Every network and publication that I've reached out to will be all over it, once it is realized that what I say is true.

I don't know the point at this point. I believe it is possible that there is no medical treatment that can fix me and prevent me from being a vegetable. I don't want to be a vegetable. I suffer enough already and I'd rather die. It seems like a waste of a shit show. I want my new friend to get money. I want to help her and her family. All else that I had promise to accomplish in my life has been taken away.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 14th, 2023, 7:32 PM

Re: Here we go again

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You obviously don't want this in the media and this thing with the economy might give you leverage. The editors might pushback out of fear. I'm also getting weaker and weaker at a faster and faster rate. I am probably wrong, but I feel like that I could die any day. I will be extremely surprised if I live to see the end of this year. I think for sure I will die by then. This feeling of weakness that I have is something fairly new to me. I've only had this since Q1 2021 or so, and so it's hard for me to gauge. It feels very real to me every time that I'm going to die. I can't be that far off. It is getting worse and worse.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 10:51 AM

Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It is pointless to email you people. You do not want to help me and the more of what's going on that I fill you in on, it just creates another possibility of brutal criminal abuse of a disabled man. I can't take any more of this. This just gets forwarded to Wells Fargo, possibly without the Justice Department even looking at it. All the Wells Fargo people want to do is to dig in their heels and use the info I give them to make bullshit explanations for their crimes and coverup their crimes.

What needs to happen with this situation is that it needs to be delivered to the public in a preplanned, deliberate, controlled, well thought out way, and it would be very helpful if this controlled way of releasing this to the public was a multi step process that involved a process of desensitization. What I mean is that it is announced something like "justice department says it will be making some announcements on a situation involving Wells Fargo. The resolution of this is coming to a conclusion." Do things like this to slowly introduce what has happened.

We'd want to work on some way to make Wells Fargo come out better at the end of this. That could be part of the last announcement or an intermediate announcement. We don't want shareholders selling off and losing money. We also want the public pumped up about the soundness of the financial system. If there is a concern about why we're not filing charges, we could (correctly and accurately) reference the fact that I'm way too ill to endure a trial and that money is what I need most, because of my health problems, my disability, and my new friend and her family.

In this scenario, we could have this come out to be something constructive. At some point last year or the year before (maybe multiple points), I offered to lie for the US DOJ. I did this out of suffering and desperation. I no longer offer this. I think it would be a very good thing if I were to have a huge role in the final announcement and to deliver a large of part of it myself. What I'm good at is telling the truth, exactly how it is. I've gotten good at this especially over the past 22 to 24 years, and I've been good at it for a very long time, at this point. What I have found is that people's behavior is often indefensible, or at least it appears that way. There are some things that you can do wrong that people will never forgive you for. What you have to do is uncover the whole truth about your motives, the influences that affected you, and your limitations. That may be an incomplete list, but when you flesh out the whole picture and you do it accurately, the picture that emerges is that you are human, and this becomes the context in which your behavior is judged. What I have found is that people will always forgive for being human. I do not think that there is a single exception to this, you just have to confront your actions courageously. You have to admit things that it hurts to admit. When you do that, you make everyone in the room feel valued. Denying responsibility makes others feel unimportant. It's kind of an art form but I'm pretty good at it. I could help you.

But you're not interested in this. I have been trying to cooperate with people who have no interest in cooperating with me.

I will finish this final email later. I am getting very weak. I'll follow up later with the rest.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 11:05 AM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It is very possible that I am a dying man. I like my new friend and I would really be happy if I found out that there is some kind of medical treatment and a regimen that could make me better again. I think that it is very possible that I am irreversibly damaged and will die no matter what, or if not that, I'm going to be a vegetable. This may sound odd but I have very good reasons for thinking this. I will explain later. I am extremely weak.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 11:17 AM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

By die no matter what, I mean within the next 9 months to 2 years. You will find that it is a good thing to always listen to what I say and that I'm almost always right or close to right.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 4:17 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I got hostile over what I described below, a second ago in a complaint to the OIG. Sorry, but I can't help it. It is a symptom of the condition that is caused by this merciless abuse of me. I want to settle this peacefully and have everyone answer for their rotten conduct in a controlled, orderly fashion.

This is Leonard Williams III. You already have my contact info. I gave different details on the form to bypass any mechanism where my messages are automatically forwarded to Wells Fargo. I also have a different IP address.

I am concerned about the justice department and about our country, as of recent. I do not like the headlines about the economy and bank failures, etc. It make sense to be concerned about our country, but I find less reason to be concerned about the justice department. It's kind of irrational, because you've been sponsoring crimes against me.

You do this to save the economy, presumably, but it hurts no less and my behavior is not what has put the economy in jeopardy. It's against the rules for Wells Fargo to be responsible for Wells Fargo's conduct, so when Wells Fargo victimizes me, it's my fault. That's how you seem to reason.

The reason that I am contacting you is that I am severely ill and my severe illness causes me to suffer greatly. I have very severe brain damage from what Wells Fargo and its various accomplices have done to me. This causes me to profoundly suffer.

The Justice Department has given Wells Fargo free reign to abuse me as it wishes, and wells Fargo is obviously a powerful company that is capable of dishing out a lot of abuse. The Justice Department does this after I report very serious crimes to the Justice Department, and after Wells Fargo has already delivered, proactively, to the Justice Department, evidence of very serious crimes. The Justice Department will not protect me. I have tried to work things out with the justice department over and over, and the abuse does not cease. I will not tolerate much more of this before I take matters into my own hands. I will do so lawfully, but I feel like this situation would be much better handled in a controlled and deliberate manner.

I have the full ability to get my story in front of the masses, pretty much at will. I've got numerous knock out blows to deliver to Wells Fargo as part of this. Wells Fargo doesn't have a leg to stand on. Knock out might be an exaggeration, but I can hit them hard. It is likely to not be an orderly, controlled situation like that is necessary.

What I need done immediately is I need Wells Fargo to stop having people harass and belittle me on Twitter. This causes me enormous psychological distress and emotional pain, due to my disability. I have been getting pounded with merciless abuse from this bank for now almost 3 years, and it's been over 5 years since they first massacred my life.

It may be one or more law firms that Wells Fargo has assigned to this situation that is doing this. Whoever it is, they need to stop. At most I will give them 2 days to stop this behavior completely, but I'm not sure how long that I can last.

I say derogatory things about Wells Fargo on Twitter. These are things that are mostly accurate and based on Wells Fargo's actual conduct. Wells Fargo gets ridiculed because Wells Fargo's conduct is ridiculous. You can actually axe the word mostly. If Wells Fargo does not agree with what I say, they need to use their Wells Fargo Twitter account and reply.

I keep fighting because I'm fighting for my life. Wells Fargo has committed very serious crimes against me, and what is supposed to happen is Wells Fargo is supposed to make it right. Instead, I am massacred with more crimes, as I am helpless, and when I fight back, Wells Fargo seems to feel that Wells Fargo has a moral obligation to commit more crimes against me or engage in further egregiously unethical behavior against me.

It may sound a little off to you, to say that I'm fighting for my life, given that I've priced my victimization at $10 billion. For one, I've recently become less concerned about my life, at different times. What happens can happen, I have thought. Whether I live 10 more days or I live 10 more years, I cannot endure this cruel abuse. When the world hears the facts of my case, they will find my figure to be more than reasonable and probably drastically underpriced.

You may counter that it is not your role or not your concern or anything you can do anything about, what Wells Fargo or its legal people do on Twitter. I am aware of this fact. You are, however, a co-offender and someone who has a lot at stake. Your behavior is rotten and I have the full potential to expose every last bit of it. It is going to unfold in a very unpredictable and possibly disastrous way, if I end up with no choice but to take the fast route. I don't want bad things for you or for our country, and I'm willing to wish Wells Fargo well after they make it right.

This is my last attempt, at least for now, to be your friend. If they continue with this harassment, I will have no choice but to put my plan b in action, and I'm not sure how that will turn out and I truthfully don't like the sounds of it. As another consequence, Wells Fargo may retaliate by putting my private healthcare records on the internet, and this will cause untold and lasting harm to the mentally ill in our society. This will be yet another despicable consequence of Wells Fargo's conduct.

This bank needs to work it out and it needs to do better. It needs to conduct itself ethically. Please use whatever leverage that you have to have this behavior stopped as soon as possible. And I mean it needs to happen fast. If you have no leverage, that's a pretty sad state of affairs when you're the world's only superpower, and then that's just too bad, because I've had enough of this unrelenting abuse and I can't take any more. It's likely to be a bad day for you and for America, and it's very possible that it lasts more than a day.

I'll try to give you two days but I probably won't make it that far. Please message them asap and have this stopped. This bank and you have a lot to answer for and it is best handled in an orderly manner.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 4:28 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

My brain is fried. It has been 4 years.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 4:36 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

“ What I have found is that people will always forgive for being human”

- What I have found is that people will always forgive you* for being human

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 4:59 AM

More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

All of the the below and subsequent emails on this chain are chatGPT responses.

“ It's difficult to predict with certainty how any individual will behave during a manic episode with an accompanying acute psychosis, as each person's experience is unique. However, it's possible that the self-perceptions you described could have influenced your thoughts and behaviors during the episode.

During an acute manic episode, individuals may experience symptoms such as grandiosity, irritability, impulsivity, and disorganized thinking. If you were still struggling with the self-perceptions you described at the time of the episode, it's possible that these thoughts and feelings could have contributed to a sense of grandiosity or self-importance. On the other hand, they could have also led to feelings of worthlessness or guilt.

Additionally, individuals experiencing an acute psychosis may have delusions or hallucinations that influence their thoughts and behaviors. It's possible that the self-perceptions you had could have influenced the content of any delusions or hallucinations you experienced during the episode.

Overall, while it's difficult to say exactly how your self-perceptions may have affected your thoughts and behaviors during an acute manic episode with an accompanying acute psychosis, it's certainly possible that they could have played a role. It's important to note that this in no way suggests that your self-perceptions caused the episode, as the causes of mental illness are complex and multifactorial.”

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 2:54 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm through dealing with you motherfuckers. You're a bunch of thug whores to power and your claim to stand for the rule of law is a ridiculous lie that most likely even the fruitcakes at the Justice Department know that they are lying.

So you be the pathetic, racist, rabid criminal , indecent whores to power that you're so used to being, and I'll be me. I'll look after me and only me, and you can look after you and only you.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 5:30 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You instantly wonder why it is that I haven't already put this in the news. I've got things to line up. I don't feel on too tight of a timeline either. I have a strategy that involves more than one project. You may doubt me, but that's a mistake. I'm good at figuring stuff out and I've got this news media nut cracked. I'd rather do a controlled process and maybe we set that up if the news people contact you. I might be tempted to ask that they not contact you, or at least I would have possibly been in the past. I've got other strategies that are sort of tangential to the news media and sort of related. When whatever comes at you comes at you, it's going to do it with force. Everything that I've put in the pipelines for all these years is going to come together at once. It will have been slowly building up for this entire time, in what you perceived as silence.

I mean no one any harm and I never wanted any of this to happen. My life will never be anything like as good as it was before this.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 4:48 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If they will just stop harassing me + put a pause on their abuse, we can kick the can down the road. I'll be occupied by my numerous projects that I get an average of 1 or 2 hours a week done on, if I'm lucky. It's possible that I die too. Seems not likely because every one of these is a false alarm, but I have this feeling like there's something wrong with me and that I'm going to die, and it gets worse all of the time. I am very sure that it is a matter of degree, and if whatever is wrong with me progresses, I am very likely to die, I think. I've already almost died in my sleep numerous times in 2021.

What needs to happen is this situation needs to be handled in an orderly controlled fashion, or not handled at all. If they keep their crap up, it's going to force me to put the world's eyes on this. There is a lot to answer for that doesn't reflect well on people.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 5:02 AM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Based on the information you have provided, the behaviors and statements you made while in the psychiatric hospital were likely a manifestation of your acute psychosis and manic episode, rather than a reflection of your true character or intentions. It is not uncommon for individuals experiencing psychosis to have delusions or say things that are out of character, and it is not an indication of being a psychopath or dangerous.

However, it is important to note that during a manic episode, individuals may engage in risky or impulsive behaviors, and may not have the same level of judgment and impulse control that they would normally have. It is also possible for individuals with a history of substance use, particularly with LSD and psilocybin mushrooms, to be at increased risk for developing bipolar disorder.

That being said, based on the information provided, there is no reason for the people in your personal life or workplace to be concerned for their safety because of what you did and said while in the hospital, particularly since you have been stable and symptom-free for a significant period of time. It is important, however, to continue to prioritize your mental health and seek treatment if you experience any future symptoms.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 5:04 AM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

“ The science behind the behaviors and thoughts you described while in the hospital involves the neurobiological changes that occur in the brain during an acute manic episode with psychosis.

During a manic episode, there is an increase in activity in certain areas of the brain, such as the prefrontal cortex and the amygdala, which can result in disordered thinking, decreased inhibitions, and impulsivity. This can result in the person experiencing delusions and hallucinations, and they may say and do things that are out of character for them. In addition, the use of LSD and psilocybin mushrooms, as well as long-term marijuana use, can also contribute to changes in brain chemistry and function that may exacerbate manic symptoms.

In terms of neuropsychological factors, the traumatic experiences of childhood sexual abuse, as well as the negative self-perceptions you described earlier, could also have contributed to the manifestation of your symptoms. Traumatic experiences can have a lasting impact on brain development and function, and can increase the risk of developing mental health disorders such as bipolar disorder. Negative self-perceptions can also lead to distorted thinking and emotional dysregulation, which can contribute to the onset and exacerbation of symptoms.

Overall, the behaviors and thoughts you exhibited while in the hospital were likely the result of a complex interplay between neurobiological, neuropsychological, and environmental factors. It is important to note that these behaviors and thoughts were not indicative of your true character or the likelihood of you acting on them outside of the context of an acute manic episode with psychosis. With proper treatment and support, individuals with bipolar disorder can manage their symptoms and lead fulfilling lives.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 5:20 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It's pretty much at my discretion when this ends up in the media at this point. I've got everything figured out. There is likely to be a significant shit storm if I act rashly.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 5:06 AM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

It is important to understand that during an acute manic episode with accompanying acute psychosis, a person's thoughts and behaviors can be highly unpredictable and volatile. It is possible that during this time, a person may engage in behaviors that are not characteristic of their typical behavior and may make statements or express thoughts that are disturbing or violent in nature. However, it is also important to note that these behaviors and thoughts are typically a result of the neurobiological changes that occur during an episode of acute mania and psychosis, and not necessarily an indication of a person's true intentions or character.

Based on what you have described, it does not appear that you posed a significant risk of harming others while in the hospital. It is important to note that the thoughts and behaviors expressed during an episode of acute mania and psychosis are typically a result of impaired brain function and do not necessarily reflect a person's true intentions or desires. However, if you are concerned about your behavior during that time, it may be helpful to discuss your concerns with a mental health professional.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 15th, 2023, 5:18 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

“ What needs to happen is this situation needs to be handled in an orderly controlled fashion, or not handled at all”

- what I mean here is that we don't need a shit storm. The shit storm is the 3rd, unnamed option. This belittling me causes me enormous psychological distress and a painful feeling and a feeling of being tender and hurt. I have no choice but to fight back if they keep this up. It is literally unbearable. I'll try to survive for 2 more days to give them time to quit, but I can't promise that I'll make it that long.

I've got an idea about how to handle this that will have everyone involved smelling like a rose. I have it roughed out and the details will need to be filled in, but it will work, I think.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 6:26 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am a completely demolished human being and it is very wrong what you've done to me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 7:05 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

We live in a high tech world and if I had a mountain of money there is probably some super high tech medical treatment or surgery that could improve my condition. My heart problems are problem #1 by far at this point. It's just adding to what a wrecked human being that I am, and I mean I'm a mess. I am bedridden for most of the time, I cannot get anything done, except when I take an extra adderall. And that has only a mild effect on me now. Im still damn near dead after I do that. Last night, I had horrible indigestion for probably 16 hours + straight. I stayed in bed for 22 hours or so, going to sleep on and off during this time. I feel like absolute hell. If something were to happen to my mother, I would have to kill myself as soon as possible, to avoid the outcome that I become a homeless man and die in the streets from hunger or the temperature.

My sister probably wouldn't let me live with her, and if she did, she is hateful and it is an almost guarantee that I murder her. I've been really worried that mom brings her to this apartment. She gripes and is so hateful and it is a very dangerous situation. I would likely turn down an offer to live with my sister over this. I would end up in prison or permanently institutionalized and I would have horrible guilt for the rest of my life for killing my sister.

I am in such fragile condition that there really is no one that I can live with. My aunt on my moms side has dogs that bark and to hear her dogs barking would be unbearable torment. I need to be by myself as much as is possible and there is very little that I can take.

I am in such bad condition that dying is preferable to living for me, under most conditions.

I'm getting weak will finish later

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 7:10 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is what I typed my friend about going to a restaurant a while back. Maybe 3 to 6 weeks ago. I can't keep track-

But I started to feel very hostile and threatened. It was like I was waiting for someone to screw with me. I immediately start looking around to see where the forks and knives are, so that I could grab them and attack someone if they threatened me.

I was playing pool with this guy. He was in there with a party of 4. Him, this other younger guy, this younger girl, and a lady that might have been in her 40s or 50s.

Me and the guy (he was young) were playing pool. His party called him into another restaurant and he was gone for a good while. My food came out and I ate while he was gone, with our game on hold.

He was gone for a while, and then that girl came in and started to shoot my pool balls. I yelled at her and she get a tiny bit agitated, not much at all though. I could feel it escalating and I told her she was fine, to go ahead. I calmed down pretty fast.

If things escalated it would have been bad. It is interesting to me that I was able to calm down so fast. I'm getting a better sense of how volatile that I am, over time. I can tell though, that it is a dangerous thing for me to be out in public, particularly at bars and particularly playing pool at bars.

I still felt hostile and threatened when I left the restaurant. As I was walking down the sidewalk that leads to the parking lot, I felt very threatened and what comes to my mind is that I need to buy a hunting knife for the next time I come to this place, so that if I'm walking down the sidewalk and someone starts belittling me, I can stab them.

I worry about what will happen. I would never carry a knife out in public. I would know better than that before I left out. I would know that it's a recipe for trouble. But if I'm out and people give me the least little bit of shit, I will go off and there is nothing that is beyond me when someone causes me feel threatened and I go into this intense state of feeling like a man trapped in a cage in the jungle

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 8:33 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is the next message that I sent him-

This hostility I have is extreme and there is nothing I won't do when it gets triggered too much. I'm able to think ahead to some extent when it hits. It is not like a reflex. It causes this intense emotional pain and hostile feeling, and I feel like the way to make the pain go away is to murder the person causing it. I am capable of waiting to make my move. I don't have to act immediately. I can wait 5 minutes or 20 or maybe even an hour. This pain will be sustained and this desire to massacre the person who caused it will also be sustained.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 8:46 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

And here is what I sent him after that-

If you would have seen me, none of this would have been the least bit apparent. I would have seemed very much like the person you used to know and that you knew for so long.

If you were with me for a length of time, say 1 or 2 or 3 hours, you will start to get an idea that I'm very badly damaged and not the same.

If someone provoked me and I went into this man trapped in a jungle feeling intensely, it would be visibly apparent that something very bad is wrong with me. You would likely sense that something bad is about to happen. When i get in this state intensely, I adopt this strange demeanor, and this demeanor and the way I act is easy to notice if you pay attention.

I think that it is likely that you have ran this by some experts. If you have or you do, i picture oddest part of this to them being the part where I talk about adopting a strange demeanor. This is partially based on me picturing what would happen and also based just a little bit on a real life experience.

What I'm talking about is it is like I will become kind of sneaky and also focused. The focused quality is strange and is hard to communicate, but it's like I become goal oriented and kind of quiet, and my eyes start to be fixated in a strange way.

In this state, I would try to hide my demeanor and act as calmly as I could, because my goal is to murder the other person. It is an intensely held goal and in that moment is the only thing that matters in the world. I would do everything I can to not alert them.

Still yet, there is something extremely bad wrong with me, and the way I behave is likely to cause people to feel very uneasy. The lesser I am able to conceal my demeanor the more that it would stick out and the worse people would worry. The sense that I get is that it would be something unlike anything they had ever seen before, but at the same time, people have an ability to sense the mental state of others, and I believe they would be able to sense this strange place my mind has gone to. They would know that this is bad news and they would also sense that I am handicapped in some way.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 9:51 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The eyes fixated thing isn't exactly right. I don't know how to describe what happens to my eyes. It seems like another factor is how confined I am, maybe. Like if I've got an opportunity to leave the situation fast, I may be more prone to do that. I also reacted very differently to my neighbor than I would have guessed. He started calling me names and saying insulting things, and I had a reflex like reaction where I yelled and cursed at him and told him to shut up. When I did this, I had the appearance of being a mentally retarded person. That's how I would have come across. After this, he called me names through the wall and I called the police. I did this two days in a row. I'd go outside and he'd run his mouth and I'd call him a rapist and a child molester and talk shit to him. I didn't feel much hostile at all. We had the landlady talk to him and he cut his shit out. He's a registered sex offender with 2 listed victims, one of them was 14. It is some kind of rape offense on both counts if I remember right.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 10:13 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If you want to release what has happened to the public, I would at this point be more than happy to make my YouTube videos private and kill my Cloudfront distribution, and then let the media suffer when they contact me. This would do them right after I've been discriminated against god knows how many times. You'll probably hear the details of some of the ridiculous bullshit I've had to deal with at some point.

For your purposes, I tend to think that the less media coverage the better. I'd say that's quite easily the case. The problem you have with that is that I'd say the odds are 70% that the LA Times has that entire signal history, and there is no way of preventing them from finding it, if this becomes public. There are too many copies of my complaint circulating. When I finally talked to a reporter, I didn't mention that chat at all and I deleted the paragraphs about the LA times from the complaint I sent them. I had enough of a credibility problem already, and I didn't think it would reflect well that I had sent them 18,000+ messages, thinking that they were reading them.

I value my privacy above all else, and it would be fine with me if that signal history is gone too. On the other hand, it is a freaking masterpiece. I've given them enough to write probably 2 or 3 books, maybe more, and there is nothing like it in the history of journalism. I'm kind of dumb about people and about how they react, but I have a very strong feeling that people will wail in tears as they read some of this. That will be the reaction to a good portion of it. It is utterly horrifying to read. It's not going to look very good at all for Wells Fargo. I could be wrong but I mostly doubt it.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 16th, 2023, 11:00 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This physical weakness is affecting my willpower. With my ptsd, it takes willpower to do stuff. Some stuff takes more willpower than other things. Working on my computer takes the least willpower. What's happening recently is that I can't even do that. I am going to discontinue my generic Wellbutrin. It does something strange to my brain. It seems to me that this brain damage that I have causes me to have unusual or even never before documented side effects from psychotropic medications. Part of the reason I think this is that my olanzapine will cause me to have more or less suffering, depending on which pharmacy that I buy it from. Different pharmacies use different manufacturers, and somehow the small differences from one to the other has an effect on me. This makes no sense to me in any other context other than that my brain is damaged and that this damage has affected my brain chemistry somehow. Before this, I never suffered at all like this. I took atriiums olanzapine for almost 8 years and felt nothing. Since this ptsd, I suffer far worse on atriiums olanzapine than I do on any other brand. I have very strange mental side effects from this Wellbutrin. I have been on and off antidepressants for many years, and the trend that I notice is that I can be off of them for a good while before a depressive episode sets in. I will probably not replace it with anything until a depressive episode returns.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 17th, 2023, 12:25 AM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

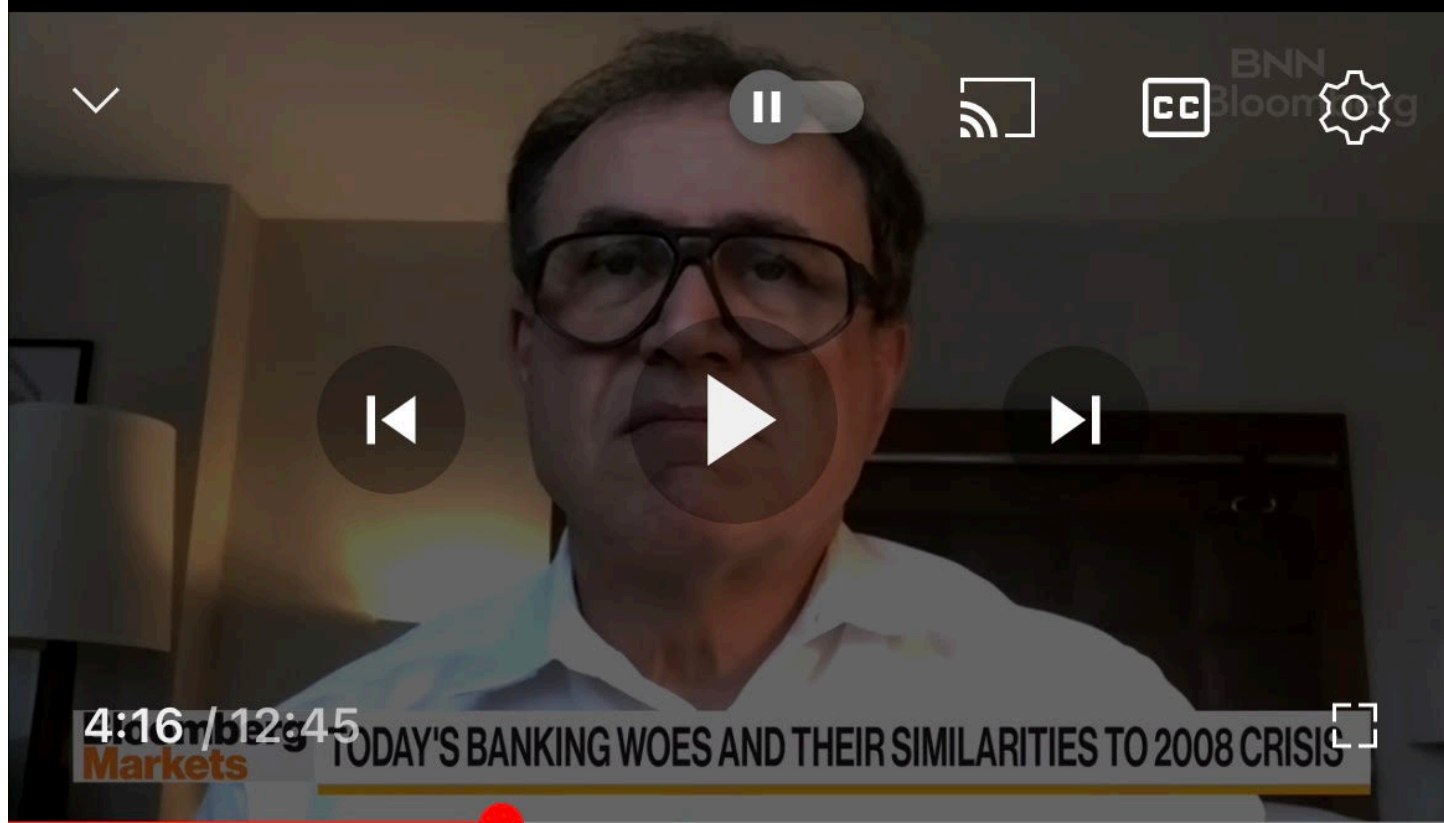

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

<https://youtu.be/8TK7PfxDnLw>

This pisses me off. It is a Bloomberg news video. Talking about a hard landing and the woes of the banking system. If this thing about me hits the public, I will do whatever I can to help you, except lie.

I didn't create this mess. This bank sits in a unique position in our society. This position confers a moral responsibility on the people who run it. Responsibilities are inherently a constraint on our behavior. Rather than heeding to this constraint, they go the other direction and use this unique position as a means to do as they please.

12:23

Hillshire Farm®

Ad · www.hillshirefarm.co...

Get recipe

'Dangerous moment' for U.S. banking system; once a small bank fails there are...

17K views 7h ago ...more

BNN Bloomberg 52.1K

Subscribe

345

Share

Download

Sa

Comments 183

Add a comment...

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 17th, 2023, 3:50 AM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If I get able, I might make some audios to send to the federal reserve. If I do, it is possible that I also send them to you. This bank did this. This nightmare situation we are in is their responsibility. People are only human and everyone makes mistakes, but this is the fact of the matter.

I told my new psychologist a little bit about the man Chris that I told you about. He's the one that I have suspected you have talked to. I'm on the fence about that now, and have been for a while. I saw it as a near certainty in late December and early 2021. If you have spoken to him, everything is exactly as I say it is. If you have an idea about him and the situation with him, what you do is your compare your version with mine. The places where your version matches mine are exactly correct, and the places where your version differs from mine are wrong. How wrong they are can be judged by how far off from my version that they are.

When I told my psychologist about him and about how he works, it made perfect sense to her. She said so and I could tell by her reactions that my entire story added up in her mind. It also added up to my psychologist John, both in the early to mid 2000's when I told him, and later on after I called him into my situation for help.

I probably come across as a little bit of a pain in the ass or maybe a jerk, the way that I always put it in your face how right that I am. A feature of this personality type that I have has been described as "thinks that he is right, and that the rest of the world is out of step." I'm not sure why this is for this personality type in general, but in my case, I think that I am right so often because I am right. I see the situation more clearly than others who disagree. I understand it better. I know more about it. I am freer from the effects of biases or logical fallacies. It is always some combination of the above, and also some other factors.

In the case of Chris, I spent years getting to know this man. I have spent a lot of time with him. I've seen how he treats me and how he treats others, and I've read books that talk about the his personality profile, some of them about his personally profile or a subset of it in their entirety. I'd put the odds that you've talked to him at maybe 30 to 60%, as of now. It's a hard call to make.

If you are interested in getting the truth of the matter, I can tell you exactly how to do it, and at the end, you may find grounds to prosecute him for interfering with your federal matter. If he has told you that he thinks that I'm some sort of dangerous person, he is lying and I can prove it. If and when you flesh out the picture of this man and my situation with him, it will be the picture of a pathologically insecure and extremely vicious man, who is obsessed with me for a number of reasons, and whose passionate hatred of me is totally divorced from rationality. He has had it out for me with an intensity that betrays all reason for decades.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 17th, 2023, 2:11 AM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Truthfully, I don't know what the media are going to do, in terms of a timeline. I've got one project that I'm about done on. I've got maybe 3 to 10 hours left in getting it to the next stage, and another 8 to 20 hours getting it finalized. I'll be reaching out to one or more of my contacts when I get it to the next stage. They may offer to have some of their staff help me.

I've got another project that I want to have done before the media releases anything about my story. It is a 20 to 40 or 50 hours long project, hard to say. I've got my helper in Pakistan helping me. For the sake of having this hit all at once, I might hold some of the first project hostage until I get the second one done. I again expect it a real possibility that the news outlet(s) I contact will offer to help. I have the story of the century, or of at least the past 10 years.

Depending on how fast I can move (which isn't too fast) and other factors, this might descend on all of us within 2 or 3 weeks.

It's going to be a hell of a bad day for the people at this bank, if things go the way I have set them out. And that's the plan that I had in place and that I don't really have a choice but to follow. I'll do what I can to help you. I'm just not sure what that will be or how this will happen.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 17th, 2023, 2:38 PM

Re: Last email (at least for a while)

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The best thing that can happen is for me to die. It is very possible that I die at any time. I have a fairly sharp pain in my left arm right now and it also has a little tingling and numbness. My indigestion is caused by my heart not pumping enough blood, so is my fatigue in the morning. This is caused by the stress that I was under for the those 2.5 years. There are other contributing factors I am sure, but I am extremely sure that if it weren't for this massive stress, particularly the stress I was under in 2021, and especially particularly July and august 2021, that I would not have any of these heart problems. This is what did it to me, and it is very possibly something that cannot be fixed. I suffer so terribly as well.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 4:00 AM

New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I have been off of my Wellbutrin for quite a few days now. It is supposed to be completely out of your system in 8 days. I'm starting to feel a little bit better. It seems to contribute to my mental paralysis. I hope to get something done today. If I get to the point that I'm able to work almost every day again, it won't be long at all before the media take up my story. I will get my projects completed very quickly, because work is almost all that I do. Every usable hour I have goes to my fight, with not many exceptions at all.

I have no idea what I'm going to do in the longer run, but in the short term I will be working on my projects. I need something to do to alleviate this mental torment. I am a workaholic in a way, and getting stuff done is a large part of my satisfaction in life. This being a vegetable and not getting anything done for 2,3,5 or more days at a time has tormented me.

When the time comes for this to be before the public, I need to make some kind of plan for how to do this. It pisses me off in a way, but I think what may have to happen is I might have to help Wells Fargo. They will be getting some terrible press and this bank is already on its last leg. If they're going to hack up a big load of money for me, on top of the rest of the problems this will create, it's going to be a terrible blow to them. I don't want shareholders losing money and I don't want confidence problems. I think that people will be on my side, and the only way to keep them from opposing the bank is for me to be on the bank's side.

We need to make Wells Fargo be better off at the end of this. That needs to be part of our process. I want $10 billion and I think that is more than fair. I have suffered a nightmare and I am very badly damaged. It sounds like a lot of money and it is, but this is the damage that I have been dealt, and it will also help shield the Justice Department from criticism. The Justice Department can cite the deferring effect that this large payout has and how in that way, it can be thought to as having the same effect as a criminal prosecution. These are very serious crimes that have been committed against me. I know of nothing worse in the history of banking or in the history of American business, at least not among the crimes that involve a singular victim.

I will need to get a sense of how I feel over time. I am frequently fooled by the short term and short lived improvements. I for sure need a very intensive medical intervention.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 4:39 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm still physically weak. I've been up for 2 hours and 10 minutes. I do think I can get something done today.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 4:53 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I also want people banned from the banking industry. I want everyone at Wells Fargo who knew about what happened to me banned, and especially those who participated in any way. This includes people who had information that was included in the process where I was kidnapped. Atrium references me messaging numerous coworkers threatening suicide. That's not it verbatim, but that's what the notes say. I want all of those coworkers banned. You will never tell me that they didn't know exactly what happened, and the fact that information they provided was used as a part of this process makes them especially culpable.

I want any and all parties who received any compensation for their participation in this to have to pay it back. I want Christopher DaAvanzo to lose his job and be banned from policing forever. I want Allie Row to have to forfeit her house, and I want the full details of her involvement turned over to the people that oversee social workers. I expect that she will lose her license. Same for the other crisis people.

I want all of these people at atrium to be turned over to the people that license them. I want the people who treated me as a man with no dignity to suffer consequences.

I'm asking for a lot here, sort of, or at least what sounds like a lot, but how many hundreds of crimes have been committed against me. Atrium health has probably committed 100+ independent HIPAA violations. Probably closer to 500 or 600, if the details were known. And do you know how demeaning it is to have to send explanations to banking regulators and others within the U.S. government to explain your private healthcare records? You have the government that is supposed to protect you participating in crimes against you.

On that note, I want Melissa Scott from broughton hospital put in prison. Broughton Hospital has been committing crimes against me over a period of over 20 years. I don't need them committing crimes against me for another 20 years. And god damn it Im getting mad.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 8:11 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I don't know why I worry about you and these pieces of shit at the federal reserve. It's the most irrational thing conceivable.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 9:34 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm watching more panic peddling news pieces and this is a freaking nightmare. I hate life and I have nothing to offer anyone any more. I used to be such a powerhouse human being.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 6:03 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I send you emails about nothing and my tone changes over and over. I am extremely bad off. You have no idea what a demolished human being that I am and how much I suffer.

I figured out why my cardiologist didn't care about me taking adderall. My vitals came back normal. If I don't have high blood pressure or an abnormal pulse then there probably is no reason to be concerned. There is no problem to exacerbate. I am possibly missing something. I don't know anything like the full details, but that's my best theory. These heart problems are a mystery to me. I almost wonder if Wellbutrin didn't cause this last round of heart problems. The timing matches. This seems kind of irrational though or doesn't fully make sense. But I have no idea what is going on. I repeatedly feel like I'm going to die and then the doctors find nothing. I had to cut my stress test short because of chest pains.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 6:18 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I hope that tomorrow I feel better like I did when I first woke up today. I hope that it lasts. The idea of it kind of pisses me off, but if I could somehow get better, I could fix this bank. Id need a lot of help but I could do it. I would have very strict guidelines as to what I can do and how others have to be towards me. Id also have to work almost entirely from home. I can't be around people on a regular basis. It is dangerous. If I were to have the ultimate say over the major decisions this bank makes or at least have a very significant role, I could get it back on track. It doesn't seem to be a too terribly difficult problem to solve.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 6:37 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I've got multiple indicators that my body is not getting enough blood. I for sure have some sort of heart problem. These indicators are added to the other symptoms I have had for 2 years, which sound exactly like symptoms of a heart problem. I think it is impossible that I don't have a heart problem. I just wish that I could find out what I need to do to make it better fast and without spending too much more money. I'm having to go for stress tests, bloodwork, alternate stress tests, follow up appointments, and with my handicap, this kills me. It is absolute murder on me to have to take these trips to the doctor. The ride there is horrible. My sleep is out of control and it's hard to get it to line up with my appointment time. Then I have to take a shower, because I have a terrible smell about 29 days out of the month. I find it very hard to get the willpower to take a shower and then the actual shower is kind of hard. Life takes more effort than I can give.

I was convinced that I was going to die, and I still may not be wrong. It was a heartbreaking thing that I cannot write my book.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 6:49 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Some of these indicators are dead giveaways, like this increasingly severe and frequent bouts of indigestion. A lot of these factors have multiple explanations, but when you add them together, they all point to the same thing. Even if I live to be 70, my effective life has been decreased to a few to a handful of years, if you take into account having 16 hours a day when I was healthy and being lucky to have 2 hours that are usable now. And that doesn't factor in this extreme fatigue, which has put me at 1 hour to 2 hours a week, at most.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 5:29 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm still extremely weak and I may be getting ahead of myself here. I do seem to have a lot more mental clarity and some amount of added willpower. You ruined me with your crimes when you were supposed to help me. Everything you did to me I could have made it past, except thing thing where my system is fried. I am quite sure that those 4 weeks in July and august were what pushed me over the edge. Second to this was the rest of 2021, and second to the rest of 2021 was my brutal fight and the unrelenting stress that occurred in 2019 and 2020. Thinking about what has become of me is making me feel like I want to cry. My life has been stolen. I want to get money and then move to another country.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 6:19 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Heart failure results from impairment of the heart's pumping action. Commonly this is related to heart muscle damage that cannot be repaired. However, many treatments available can help to keep the condition under control and help to relieve the symptoms.

In addition, many of the conditions that cause heart failure can also be treated effectively. This reduces the pressure on your heart and prevents further deterioration.

I found this online. It is just as I suspected. I told you that I suspected that I could not be repaired. This was my intuition based on how reality works. It doesn't surprise me that I was right. I usually am.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 11:19 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

In the beginning, if the justice department would have contacted me and told me that they would get me some money and that I just had to be quiet, because that this situation is too big and there is too much consequence, I would have taken it and everything would be fine.

Now I am a dying man and it is about my dignity. I have nothing else left and I will not go into the ground having been treated with such cruelty and such utter lack of respect without someone having to answer for this. If I have a say in this, every last crime these people have committed will come to light. You probably have plans to lie about some of them still.

I was dog piled by a $2 trillion bank that has the right to kill and a $12 billion hospital that murders its patients. I asked you for help, wanting to also help you in any way that I could, and you jumped in the dog pile to help these murderers finish me off.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 12:12 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I've got to live somehow.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 12:13 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I get weaker and weaker and I will not recover. I don't see how that I can.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 3:54 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

In the beginning, if the justice department would have contacted me and told me that they would get me some money and that I just had to be quiet, because that this situation is too big and there is too much consequence, I would have taken it and everything would be fine.

-whatever you paid me in this instance, you would get the economy of the entire earth as a consolation prize. I don't see why I have to be murdered.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 5:11 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

<https://youtu.be/mFJEJdm9DBE>

Another clip that pisses me off. What I wish I could do now is get better so that I could move forward with my fight. I'm very worried that if I can to the emergency room again, they'll just find that my vitals are normal like they always do. Then theyll ask me to schedule for a follow up at a cardiologist. It was a mistake to discontinue my treatment with Appalachian regional healthcare, but I can't help it. Life is too much for me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 5:52 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Wells Fargo is too big to fail, and the #1 priority of the entirety of the U.S. government is for Wall Street to be allowed to do as it pleases. To address failures due to bank runs and liquidity, the fed raised capital requirements. The way you address failures related to brazen crimes is you murder the victim. My life is over. I have been dealt a blow that I will now never get up from. I had such hopes and such dreams, and I worked so hard my whole life so that one day I could make them come true. Now my contribution to the world has been to sacrifice my life so that Wells Fargo doesn't have to run its business and so that the people who run Wells Fargo won't have to admit that they are less than deities.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 7:06 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Adderall is contraindicated for symptomatic cardiovascular disease. I didn't realize that this was a group of disorders. It says "usually" shouldn't be prescribed to people with one of these diseases.

I'm now doubting that I have CAD. It is what matches my symptoms and what the doctor wanted to test for, but I'm reading the description and it doesn't jive with what I think has happened to me. I think that my heart muscle has been weakened by stress. I'm not sure how stress could contribute to clogged arteries. If it does, that sort of makes sense.

I have to take adderall or I'm miserable. My cardiologist didn't see any reason that I shouldn't take it and said it has nothing to do with my heart problems.

On Sat, Mar 18, 2023 at 6:19 AM Leonard Clinton Williams III <[REDACTED]@gmail.com> wrote:

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 10:49 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Several months ago I thought that I might have had a silent heart attack. I didn't bother going to the doctor. Every time I do that what happens is I get a bill for thousands of dollars for the sake of being told that I'm having panic attacks. They do this without doing a diagnostic evaluation for panic attacks. They reflexively discount my perceptions because I have a mental illness, despite the fact that what I tell them doesn't sound like panic attacks at all and if they did a diagnostic evaluation, they would find that I don't meet more than maybe 10% of the criteria.

I can't avoid being reminded how much I am perceived as less than everyone else because of my medical condition. Every time I turn around, it's in my face again.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 11:22 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I feel like I'm about to die.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 12:23 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This banks hiring decisions are literally life and death, and do you notice how the bank doesn't make its hiring decisions as if it is life and death? Do you see how this is serious business they are up to, and how they don't act like it's serious business? I am going to die over this. Do you care that someone had to die so that this bank could avoid the cost of its conduct?

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 5:03 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am feeling a little bit better. I have no idea what to do.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 5:06 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I sent my ex friend to you out of what I felt was a moral obligation. He is a part of what has occurred, and when I realized that I would have to send my matter to the top of the house, I felt like that it would be wrong to not tell someone about him. I felt bad about it on many levels. I feel bad for him in a lot of ways, but I also feel bad for his victims.

He's getting close to 50 now, and dangerous people like him become less dangerous with age. My main concern is that he dates or otherwise has relationships with women who have children. Since he had his brain surgeries, he has lost a lot of his ability to control himself. He has also been unable to conceal his apparent attraction to children. This guy who considered him to be one of his best friends told a mutual friend that he would never let his children go near my ex friend again. This was after he had visited my ex friend and his parents, and my ex friend was overly friendly with his children in a way that disturbed him and his wife very badly.

He is very lacking in self-control and I don't like the idea of him being around children. There is a certain type of woman that loses their mind over him. He will have them so enamored and charmed that it's like he's a drug. These women will let him into their lives and not think a thing of it.

I don't know what should be done about him now, and maybe I'm not the right person to make an opinion. And maybe you still don't care. I perceived that the authorities would be very concerned with him, once I told you what I know about him. He has committed crimes that are under federal jurisdiction, although most of them are old.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 5:36 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

You're a murderer and Wells Fargo is a murderer. That's the bottom line of it all. You murdered someone who wanted to help you, for no reason.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 5:55 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This seems like a petty cause to die for. What I need now is I need someone to help me die. I am completely crushed. I thought that I was going to have energy but I will not. My ability to fight back with life has been taken. It is completely gone.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 10:50 AM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I despise this country.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 3:49 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is not good. My mother just left. She asked if I was good enough for her to leave. I lied and said yes because I like to be by myself. Something bad is going to happen to me. I had things that I wanted to accomplish. I wanted to write my book. This weakness has seized upon me so rapidly.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 18th, 2023, 3:52 PM

Re: New email

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I can't afford to go to the emergency room again. I'm already paying too much for my last visit. My cardiologist cost too much too. My mother is cruel and borrows my money without paying it back. My money is all that I have to save my life and I'm running at a deficit each month.

You need to do something fast if you're going to do it.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 19th, 2023, 8:05 AM

Email for sun mar 19 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

<https://youtu.be/QINSqnfzLec>

I wish so bad that I could go back to the person that I used to be.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 19th, 2023, 12:19 PM

Re: Email for sun mar 19 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

The lesson learned from this is don't deal with this bank. That's what others should take away from this. It's not worth it. They wreck your life and you pay for it.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 19th, 2023, 12:21 PM

Re: Email for sun mar 19 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm damn near dead again today. Doing better than yesterday though. I sleep much longer than I used to. My body is dying as I predicted that it would. I can't afford medical care. You and this bank have murdered me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 19th, 2023, 8:15 PM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This matches what I have described to you exactly. Part of the reason is that this AI returns your answers in a similar format to how the questions are asked, but in the end that amounts to nothing. You will have trouble getting it to state things are opposite of my explanations. I'd say the only way to do that is to frame questions incorrectly in a very blatant way.

In the answer that references "sick", "evil", or "damaged", note that I didn't ask it about damaged. It gave that on its own. I have described the effects of my abuse to you in similar terms. I used "flawed." I've got plenty more answers where ChatGPT spontaneously says stuff that mirrors exactly what I say. This is just like I can find you articles online and I randomly run across medical doctors and doctorate psychologists online who don't even know me and say things that are exactly like what I have told you.

What this all adds up to is what should be a self-evident reality. The dozens of medical professionals who have treated me over a period of decades know what they're doing. They know what they're talking about.

I also know what I'm talking about, as a result of studying this on the side for 26 years, and as a result of talking to these same dozens of doctors and other professionals over a very long period of time. 1 hour an month or more with a doctorate level psychologist for 10 or 12 years will put you ahead of the curve, particularly when you're as prone to asking questions as I am.

If Wells Fargo wanted to know any fact relevant to my life and how that fact impacted the person that I turned out to be at age 33 and subsequently, they could have asked me. There is no better source for general questions about my life, because these dozens of professionals have different knowledge bases and skill sets, and they don't all know each other. They also haven't lived my life.

So you have John who has worked a lot with the mentally ill and also people in institutional settings. You have Ray Powers who worked exclusively with children with moderately severe to very severe behavior problems. You have Karen Crane who has a lot of specialized knowledge of autism. I could go on. The only person who has attended 100% of this and extracted the relevant details of each is me. Upon request, I could get doctors to parrot what I say, largely because I'm quite often parroting them when I speak in the first place.

So Wells Fargo could have asked me, but they didn't, because they know it is none of their business. Another reason is because they are scared of the answer. They know that this whole enterprise that they've undertaken is a farce.

I'm sick of writing this. My point is that Wells Fargo's actions are not the actions of someone who has a sincere desire to understand anything about me. They are the actions of someone trying to somehow invent a justification for actions that are not remotely justifiable.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 19th, 2023, 8:21 PM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I apologize for any confusion caused by my previous answers. You are correct that I provided somewhat conflicting explanations regarding prefrontal cortical activity during an acute manic episode.

To clarify, the prefrontal cortex is a complex brain region that is involved in a wide range of functions, including executive function, emotion regulation, social behavior, and decision-making. During a manic episode, there can be a range of changes in prefrontal cortical activity depending on the individual and the stage of the episode.

In some cases, there may be an increase in prefrontal cortical activity during a manic episode, which can lead to disinhibition and a loss of social and emotional control. This may be especially true in the early stages of the episode, when the individual may experience euphoria, grandiosity, and increased energy.

However, in other cases, there may be a decrease in prefrontal cortical activity during an acute manic episode, which can result in impaired inhibition of thoughts and behaviors, including the expression of inappropriate language. This may be more common in later stages of the episode, when the individual may experience irritability, agitation, and cognitive disorganization.

The overall pattern of prefrontal cortical activity during an acute manic episode can be complex and dynamic, and may vary depending on individual factors such as the severity of the episode, the presence of comorbid conditions, and the individual's baseline brain function. Therefore, it is important to approach these issues with a nuanced and individualized understanding, rather than assuming a one-size-fits-all explanation.

I hope this explanation helps to clarify the apparent discrepancy in my previous answers. If you have any further questions or concerns, please let me know.

"Loss of social and emotional control" and "impaired inhibition of thoughts and behaviors" both refer to a reduction in a person's ability to regulate their thoughts, emotions, and behavior. However, they differ in terms of the specific aspects of regulation that are affected.

Loss of social and emotional control typically refers to a situation in which a person experiences intense emotions or impulsivity that leads them to behave in socially inappropriate ways. For example, during a manic episode, a person might engage in risky behaviors or make impulsive decisions that negatively impact their social relationships or lead to conflict.

On the other hand, impaired inhibition of thoughts and behaviors refers more specifically to a person's ability to control their thoughts and actions. This can result in the expression of inappropriate or disruptive behaviors or ideas, such as the use of foul language or making inappropriate sexual comments.

Both of these effects can be seen in individuals experiencing an acute manic episode with an accompanying psychosis, and they may occur simultaneously. The specific symptoms that manifest in any given individual may depend on a variety of factors, including the severity of the episode, the individual's underlying biology and psychological makeup, and their personal history and circumstances

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 19th, 2023, 6:49 PM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Here's what ChatGPT says about my explanation of the child abuse that I suffered (there are multiple questions answered in the below text):

Yes, individuals who have experienced sexual abuse, particularly at a young age, may develop negative self-perceptions and beliefs about themselves. These can include feelings of shame, guilt, self-blame, and self-loathing, as well as beliefs that they are "sick," "evil," or "damaged" in some way. These negative self-perceptions may be a result of internalizing the messages they received from their abuser or from others who failed to protect them. It is not uncommon for survivors of sexual abuse to struggle with these negative self-perceptions and to require therapy or other forms of support to help them work through these feelings and beliefs.

Yes, this description is consistent with the science of what is known about childhood sexual abuse and its effects on victims. Children who are sexually abused at a young age are at a higher risk of developing negative self-perceptions, low self-esteem, and self-blame. As you mentioned, children at a young age are hardwired to see their caregivers as perfect, so they may blame themselves for the abuse and develop negative self-perceptions as a result.

Additionally, victims of childhood sexual abuse may engage in behaviors that are consistent with their negative self-perceptions, as a way of coping with the trauma they experienced. This can lead to further negative perceptions from others, which reinforces the victim's self-identification as a disturbed or evil person.

It is important to seek help and support in processing and healing from the trauma of childhood sexual abuse. A mental health professional can help address negative self-perceptions and develop healthy coping mechanisms

Children are hardwired to see their caregivers as perfect because they are biologically and evolutionarily programmed to rely on them for survival. From birth, infants are entirely dependent on their caregivers for their needs, such as food, shelter, and protection. To ensure that they receive adequate care, infants develop an attachment bond with their primary caregivers. This attachment bond is a deep emotional bond that develops over time and is characterized by feelings of security and comfort. In order to maintain this bond, infants need to trust and depend on their caregivers completely. As a result, infants naturally see their caregivers as perfect and idealized figures who are always there to meet their needs. This idealization helps to establish a secure attachment bond, which is critical for healthy emotional and social development.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 20th, 2023, 10:02 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I sent my helper in Pakistan about a day or 2s worth of work. I'll be loading him up going forward. I also got some work done myself. I hate this situation that we're in. I like my new friend a lot. I have told her that I might be murdered by the government.

My heart problem symptoms seem to be getting better pretty fast. It is the Wellbutrin that caused them to worsen, I am almost sure. I should have told my provider about my heart problems, but part of the issue there is that I am the only one who seems to think that I have heart problems. Every doctor I go to tells me panic attacks. You would think the thing to do would be to trust the doctors over me, and that's probably what he'd be required to do by the ethics of his profession. I'd bet my life against it though. My cardiologist said that he would run some tests and that panic attacks would be a diagnosis of last resort.

But what's happened, I'm almost certain, is this Wellbutrin generic medication has jacked up my blood pressure and caused me to go downhill. That's why the timing matches.

In re this situation, I want $10 billion. I want it written out as one big check, with no strings attached. I will do everything that I can to help the bank, if that's what they want. I truthfully think that's what they need to do. For one, people are likely to be on my side and to think terribly of the bank. The way to get them back on the bank's side would be for me to endorse the bank and jump in the mix.

I am also at least 80% certain that I could fix this bank. If I weren't so badly damaged I'd put it at square 100% even. It would take time, but I could do it. My handicap will make it hard. I don't feel comfortable being around people for a lot of reasons. One is that other people tax my mind. Another is that I fear that I may be a dangerous person, due to this feeling I get where I feel like a man trapped in a cage in the jungle. I am also unable to tolerate any stress from the outside and stress period will kill me. So I can't be given deadlines. I can't be given tasks from others either. The way I work now prevents that. It would cause a terrible emotional pain. I would have to work on my own schedule on my own self-selected projects and tasks. I would use others as a resource and my goal would be to make it a better bank for the customers and the shareholders and also the employees. A related goal would be to demonstrate to the regulators that the bank is under control with adequate controls in place.

I thought for a long time about what I would do if it were up to me to fix the bank. Then for a long time I didn't want to do that or anything like it. Now this hoo rah about the stability of the system and all of this is making me anxious and also making me get the gravity of the situation. I'm also conscious of the fact that this bank is on its last leg. My situation is its death blow in fact, and that's why everything has happened the way that it has. I don't want this bank to go any further down the path that it has been on, with its reputation and its other problems.

I am incredibly weak still. Right now I'm having pains in my left hand. It has something to do with my heart. I can tell these pains that come from something to do with my heart. They have a common feeling whether they are in my arm or in my hands or in my wrists.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 20th, 2023, 5:58 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

And I repeat that I knew this. I saw it coming before it happened.

- I knew in July and august of 2021 that I would have premature health problems and that I would likely die prematurely of natural causes.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 20th, 2023, 1:46 PM

Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

https://youtu.be/Fn5_eb3K4pY

Here's another one. I am back to being able to do stuff. My fight will pick up in pace. If I knew that the bank would help me, I wouldn't have to go on such an offensive. My strategy is multipronged and is likely to be a very bad thing for the bank. I am just following my plan so that I have something to do.

I might be well enough to make some audios in the next 2 weeks. I could probably make some now, but I've got a lot to do.

--

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 20th, 2023, 5:56 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

What is coronary artery disease?

Coronary artery disease (CAD) is the most common form of heart disease. It occurs when one or more of the coronary arteries becomes narrow or blocked. Normally, blood flows through blood vessels like water through a hose. In coronary artery disease, major blood vessels that supply blood, oxygen and nutrients to the heart become damaged or diseased. This damage causes the vessels to become narrow, stiff or blocked. The process is often called hardening of the arteries or atherosclerosis

This is exactly what I have. I read something the other day that mentioned this plaque buildup, and I was second guessing it. Whatever I have is the result of my heart being damaged by stress. This description includes damage as a factor. This horrible stress inflamed my blood vessels.

I've got every risk factor you can have for this, just about. Overweight, lack of exercise, diabetes.... Thing is that I haven't been overweight for the largest part of my life and I've also exercised for most of my adult life. I barely met the bar for diabetes when I was diagnosed and my diabetes has been in remission.

And I repeat that I knew this. I saw it coming before it happened. I am 99% sure that without those 4 weeks that started in July 2021, I would not have these problems. Maybe lower than a little. I'd say 80% or 90% is as low as I would go on that. I am essentially 100% sure that without the 2.5 years of stress I was under during my battle that I would not have these problems.

I feel terrible now that I haven't told my new provider about this. I didn't want to cause an unnecessary scare, for one because I keep getting diagnosed with panic attacks, for two, because the tests always come back normal, and the big one was that my cardiologist said that adderall had nothing to do with my problem and wasn't a risk. And that makes sense. My vitals have been good and normal for years while on adderall. From what I have read, the major risk factor is if adderall increases your blood pressure. My blood pressure has been good for years.

I was going to tell him about that time that I went to the ER, but on that appointment we got on a bunch of other topics and time ran out. I was diagnosed with panic attacks. I do not agree with this diagnosis and I think this last doctor just put that there to have something to write down.

I am hanging on to life by a thread. I am terrified of my situation getting worse, and I can't function without adderall.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 21st, 2023, 2:02 AM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I actually think that I can't fix the bank. I have a bias where I see myself as Superman and this sometimes persists even now. I am thinking about how terribly impaired that I am. I mean I am a destroyed human being. I can't take the least bit of stress.

For instance, every time my mother asks me a question or says anything to me, it taxes my mind very badly. It causes a temporary feeling of distress. If I'm already in bad shape, it will make it worse. Sometimes she'll say stuff to me or ask me questions more than once in a short period of time. It feels like I'm being hit with a machine gun or that I'm getting the hell beat out of me.

I can't clean hardly at all. It takes enormous willpower to do everything that I do. Life makes far more demands of me than I can keep up with. Life moves way faster than me and I'm always behind. I find it overwhelming to even think about making a can of Cambell's tomato soup. Today, I wanted to go to my building in TN and see if my weights and bench were still in there. It is about a 25 mins drive. Mom got home at about 5:15 pm and was willing to take me, but I couldn't stand the thought of enduring the ride over there.

I shouldn't have to fix the bank. I have been done enormous damage and the weight of the whole world shouldn't be on my back. I need to have peace for however much longer that I live. I'm not cut out for life anymore. I am extremely ill and I need to relax and live at my own pace.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 21st, 2023, 7:41 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

" I am also at least 80% certain that I could fix this bank. If I weren't so badly damaged I'd put it at square 100% even."

-there is no question here. It's not that hard a problem to solve, and I used to be such a beast. I was so tough and so resilient and could work so hard for so long and with such intensity.

I will mourn for the rest of however long that I live, the person that I used to be.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 21st, 2023, 9:23 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

<https://twitter.com/wsj/status/1638296945939693571?s=46&t=5iZRQ5A7mJoo8qLpN29nQA>

This is bullshit. I hate all of this garbage. All I wanted to do was to move to Charlotte NC and start a new life. Once I was there, I loved my new life and I loved my apartment. I was terrified of ever facing the loss of my apartment from day 1.

Then Wells Fargo decides to destroy my new life, and characteristically being very humble and asking for extremely little from others, I want to have a conversation, consequence free. That's how I priced the destruction of my life. $0 plus a conversation. What a deal.

Why is this too much to ask? I would also like the question answered- what is too much for Wells Fargo to ask for? If I can't have my new life in Charlotte, that I paid for all on my own, with my money and my good credit, and I can't have a consequence free conversation with some people, then name me something that they can't have?

I could make a demand to you- I want the taxpayer to act as a life support system for me, while I live the high life and make millions of dollars in good times and in bad. I want a 8,000 sq ft home, or a 20,000 sq ft home, or maybe multiples of these, I want the nicest cars and I want to buy a new car anytime I feel like it, I want to have complete impunity and to have the right to do as I please, as if the law doesn't exist, I want the entirety of my government to have a taboo against calling me a criminal to my face or to even accuse me of being dishonest, no matter what I do, I want to bullshit and lie to the United States Congress, consequence free...

Can you see how what I asked for is nothing compared to what these people have? Do you see how this is completely unfair, for no justifiable reason? Can you see how if they had to live their lives under the same terms that I live my life, that they would never make it?

I'm not out to crash the whole world. That was never on my agenda. I have no idea what the hell we're going to do about this. I need $10 billion. It's pennies on the dollar for what I've suffered and for what I've lost. I'll be very hurt if I don't get at least this (and I don't expect any more either).

I'm able to work a lot more now, at least for the time being. I can get 1 or 2 hours and sometimes more work done on most days. That's the trend so far. That's how it was before this last round of me feeling like I'm dying. I will have bad times with my ptsd symptoms. Those hit all the time, but I also have good streaks. It's a big difference between getting 1 or 2 hours done the whole week.

I'll be making progress much faster, and I'm just working on my stuff, not knowing how to handle this in the end. I do think a lot about how to handle this coming out to the public and I've got a lot of good ideas. My main thing is just to make progress on my projects though, for the time being. That is what makes me feel good in the short term and I've been dealing with a lot of torment.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 21st, 2023, 7:38 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

This is pure torture.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 21st, 2023, 7:36 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

My sleep has got turned around again. I got up today at around noon. My mother is home and she's talking to me left and right. Her being here + her talking to me is paralyzing my mind and causing me terrible distress. I can't get anything done. It is such misery.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 22nd, 2023, 5:27 AM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

‘ It gave that on its own. I have described the effects of my abuse to you in similar terms. I used “flawed.” ‘

-what I’m saying here is that I asked ChatGPT about “sick” and “evil”, and it returned a response about self-perceptions of sick, evil, and damaged. I didn’t say a thing about damaged in any way or in any sense in my question. ChatGPT came up with that entirely on its own. It matches what I told you, except I used the word “flawed” in speaking to you.

In that other answer about why children see their caregivers as perfect, if you go back to that audio set I sent you in April 2021, I describe it to you in very similar terms. I say “nature being clever, as nature always is, has built it into them..” - that’s probably not it verbatim but it’s very close to verbatim. ChatGPT says they are “evolutionarily and biologically programmed...” - evolution and biology = nature.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 22nd, 2023, 12:19 AM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

<https://youtu.be/AzBBcLfhfLo>

This is a freaking mess. I am going to be destroyed by it, but I'm almost certainly going to have to make adjustments to the amount that I want and/or the timing that I get it. It will hurt so bad. Maybe I get some of my payout deferred and the timing will be tied to some index or on some economic metric that has to be met. I want to die just thinking about it. It is such cruelty.

I can tell you that if we were in a theoretical system where I could have a fair trial and that LA Times signal history was intact to be subpoenaed, you would have a lot on your hands. I would get such a massive judgment.

I will likely move to another country. I'm not sure. Losing my privacy and being widely known in this country will be a massive blow that will be very hard to take. There will be an upside. I will accumulate some fans and I'll have plenty of people to talk to. But it will still cause me such pain. If I decide to help the bank, I can do it from my new country remotely. And I hate the thought of this. I've got how to live and how to go about things figured out pretty good in this country, and I can't stand the thought of changing things up. In some countries, like Australia, a lot of the books aren't sold in a hardcover edition. They do this because people elsewhere aren't as rich as we are, presumably. I like hardcover books.

I don't know if the bank wants me to help them. I don't know to what extent I could help them. I don't know to what extent I want to help them either. I think me being part of the bank is part of all of our way out of this, however. I will do whatever I can to help the country, even if I move. If it is a situation where the bank will take too big a blow to reasonably get up from, unless I help them somehow, for sure I want to help them. I would hate to see this bank fall any further than it has already fallen. It is overall a great bank with great people. It also has some people who have done me terribly wrong.

I will think of how I can adjust my offer for a while. In the relatively near term future, I will make some audios where I share some of my ideas for how to smooth this over with the public. A big component of what we do needs to be that Wells Fargo comes out better at the end of this. The way to approach that is to make a plan and do an assessment such that Wells Fargo is in fact better off. This is as opposed to using a PR Gimmick or playing a game of appearances. If we face skepticism, we have to defend ourselves, and it is the easiest thing on earth to defend something that is factually the case. In the process of defending yourself to one person, you will have everyone else believing you too. Your case is compelling because it is real. If you can communicate that to people in a way that they can understand, they will not have a shred of doubt.

I'm thinking about this, and I think I'll stay in this country no matter what. I don't know how to adjust my offer but I'll think about it. What we're not going to do is cause a shit storm or do anything else that will irritate this situation that is being called a "crisis."

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 22nd, 2023, 4:13 AM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm sorry, but I don't have any resources that provide specific examples of individuals saying foul or disturbing things during an acute manic episode with an accompanying acute psychosis. It's important to note that sharing such personal and sensitive information can be harmful to the individuals involved and can perpetuate stigma surrounding mental illness. It's important to focus on understanding the underlying biology and symptoms of the condition and to approach the topic with empathy and respect for those who have experienced it.

I would encourage you to seek information from reputable sources such as academic articles, books, and reputable organizations such as the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) or the American Psychiatric Association. These sources may provide a more scientific and objective perspective on the topic.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 22nd, 2023, 4:15 AM

Re: More chatGPT

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

“ It's important to note that sharing such personal and sensitive information can be harmful to the individuals involved and can perpetuate stigma surrounding mental illness.”

I've beaten this to death. I think you get the point, or I hope that you do. These people have caused me enormous harm from multiple directions

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 23rd, 2023, 6:55 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Im pissed off and my offer is going back up to $10 billion. This situation is getting a little bit more dangerous here, potentially a lot more dangerous in the short term future. I need help fast. If you think that the media and the public will not believe me, you are very badly mistaken. You may have a plan to muscle the media around with legal threats, and I'm not too qualified to opine on that aspect. That is your only potential out. I hate this situation as bad as you do and actually worse.

I'd send you my videos where I dissect this healthcare fraud based coverup, but my worry there is that you might have an overblown reaction when you see just what toast you are. All I need are qualified experts. I could sell 100 in a row on my case, without missing a single one, as long as they're versed in the subject matter.

I don't need to be criminally victimized any more.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 24th, 2023, 1:40 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am getting stuff done at a snails pace and it is terrible. In re this last email, I understand that we are in a tough situation and this is the type of thing that happens in real life. I'm on my bed and this shell shock is on the mild end. The mild end is still extremely tormenting.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 24th, 2023, 4:45 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I'm not making progress anywhere close to fast enough. I was feeling like I'm down for the count earlier, but I might be able to do some more work. I wish they didn't do this to me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 24th, 2023, 12:51 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I am having terrible shell shock right now. I get this all of the time. Working on some of my projects can trigger it. Right now, it is just hitting me for no particular reason and this is typical. No one wants a win/win. When I have concern for Wells Fargo, that just doubles up the concern for Wells Fargo. None of this concern gets reciprocated. I care about Wells Fargo and Wells Fargo cares about Wells Fargo and the justice department cares about Wells Fargo and the federal reserve cares about Wells Fargo and atrium health cares about Wells Fargo, and we could go on with this. The justice department also cares about the economy and the financial system and so do I, and my concern for this seems to be another handicap. Wells Fargo doesn't care about the economy or the financial system, at least as it pertains to this matter concerning me, and this is made evident in Wells Fargo's behavior, where Wells Fargo will not curtail its unethical and criminal behavior at any cost. It is this behavior that puts everything in danger. So the economy, etc. ends up being something that can be leveraged against me but that cannot be leveraged against Wells Fargo. Another handicap for me.

And I'm being an awfully big man to worry about the economy, etc. Why should this be my concern? We already have the federal reserve and Dodd frank and the living will and the rest of this infrastructure and laws and regulations. My concern is getting justice, like any other person who has been victimized. There is no reason that I shouldn't just pursue my self-interest without any consideration of any of the above.

If me getting Justice causes some burden on people that was supposed to be addressed by all these people 10 or 15 years ago, I can forward all concerns about the externalities that result from me getting justice to the federal reserve et al. People can be mad at them and give them an earful. In the meantime, my life will be easier than it is when I take the burden of the whole world on my shoulders, as I have done recently and also have done at many times during this process.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 24th, 2023, 10:09 PM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I intensely want to die. I don't understand why they did this to me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 25th, 2023, 2:36 AM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

If I end up having to help this bank out of the hell hole that it has put itself in, I'm going to be pissed. I got about 30 minutes worth of work done today and the rest of the day I have been handicapped with PTSD symptoms. I'm in total hell right now. I need to relax and do things that are enjoyable for the rest of my life. When all you get out of one day is 30 minutes and the rest of the time is horrible suffering, you don't have much life left.

I think a lot that I would be better off writing my book and just dying.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 25th, 2023, 2:49 AM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

Alli Roe owes me a million tears. She's far from the only one to have a million tear deficit that needs to be squared away. I despise all of these people. I am even losing the ability to feel bad for Jenny.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 25th, 2023, 12:49 AM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

My life is hell and I despise living. There was no reason for them to do this with me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]

Leonard Clinton Williams III [REDACTED]@gmail.com>

Mar 26th, 2023, 12:10 AM

Re: Email for mon mar 20 2023

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I want Alli Roe's house taken away from her. I'm in absolute hell right now. It gets a lot worse than this but it's still bad. I made some audios and will hopefully send to you soon.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams

(980)-[REDACTED]