After this one they get crappy. Again, please ignore this hostility that I have. It is an involuntary symptom of my condition. Part of what I am preparing for is if and when this comes out in the media, there may be a question as to why we are not prosecuting them. I am not sure what your plans are, but I tend to think that this would not be the best route from your perspective. If that is the case or if it is not, any decision to not prosecute these people can be based on my wellbeing. I am a completely pulverized human being. I am injured beyond belief and am not fit to live anything like a normal life. I will most likely never be able to endure one criminal trial for any of these people. Even the thought of it is terrifying.

What has happened to me can never be taken back. I never wanted the bank itself to fall, but I have terrible feelings and terrible pain attached to the individuals. If I were more able I would want them punished very harshly. It will always bother me that they got away with it, but I have no choice because I cannot endure a court hearing.

I talk about being at the bankruptcy court in some of these I am sending you. My condition is far far worse now than it was then. I do not have acute episodes like I did then, but my persistent symptoms are far worse.

I still need help from someone, and as I will continue to explain, this bank will need my help. I would like to do something to help them and wish them well and then leave this country.

Clint Williams
