Why I do this

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

I make a good faith gesture, or rather several good faith gestures, to see the people on the other end of this in a better light. I see no signs that you are helping me. You do not respond in kind, at least in a blatant enough way. I take it very seriously when I retract a promise, but I am extremely unwell and am suffering horrifically. If you are trying to help me I appreciate it. It just seems like you may not be.

I want to make sure that you understand that I have no intentions whatsoever to hurt anyone else or myself. I am simply seeking help. The lawyer I called about discover bank wants a consultation fee. He got hung up on immediately. He's not an option for this or anything else.

Please help me. I want to see you in a good light and I want to be your friend. I am suffering like you cannot understand.

Clint Williams
