Please help me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

I need the abuse to cease. I need help. I am having terrible withdrawal symptoms right now. This is torture.

I have contacted 3 additional media companies. I see very little chance that any of them amount to anything. I also have a very low probability lead that has arose from my previous outreaches a few months ago. I'd put it at 1% that anything comes from it. Total odds from all 4 are less than 5%, I would estimate.

In the unlikely event that I get traction, I will try to make this a win/win/win. Please follow my lead in that case.

I want to believe that there is some positive motivation behind your behavior. I see the DOJ as fundamentally good people. I believe that you have had concern for me.

Your recent behavior, however, is very troubling. You appear to be holding nothing back and you appear to be quite alright with the life I cared so much about, with this life being completely destroyed. I still want to believe in you, still yet.

I cannot believe what has happened to me. It is utter cruelty at every turn. Every time I try to get help it ends up just more cruelty for me.

Please be the exception. Please do something good for me. I miss AU girl so much.
