Re: another audio

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

I do apologize. I'm listening to this and it is hard for the other person to listen to. I am lashing out. I have a serious deficit in understanding how to be around people. I ask that you look over me and I ask that you take into account the damage and the terrible suffering and the hardship this has caused me. I will try to make subsequent audios be easier to listen to.

There seems to be a power play mentality on the other side. It is as if, if I offer something, we have to do something else. We can never give in to the way I want things to be or make the process sympathetic to me. I don't know what to say about this, except that i do not think in such terms, ever. It is likely a counterproductive strategy for all parties.

I want this to be over as bad as or worse than you do. I don't know what it will take at the moment. I can just say that I miss my AU girl. I apologize again for my tone, but please think of what it is like to be in my shoes.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
