I need your help and I want to be your friend

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

It meant so much when you got AU girl for me. That was such a good time. I am severely handicapped and I need you to help them me. I hope you understand that I never mean anyone any harm. It is just that there is only so much hell I can take, and I hurt extremely.

I want a constructive outcome from this. I want everyone to win.

I ask that you help me. We can talk about what a fair settlement amount would be. I have been so good to this bank and so good to so many people in my life. This is a good man writing you.

I will never have a life without your help. I am completely handicapped, especially without my medication.

This nightmare that I have lived, no one should have to live this. I understand that the bank has its priorities and its problems. Even understanding that, I offered a consequence free chance to end this many times over. I have asked for less than I deserve at every step of the way. My point is that I have done no wrong.

You are good people. You are possessed of ordinary human nature. That is my belief. You have reasons for behaving the way that you do. I try to not take it personal, even though it sometimes hurts me extremely.

I want to be your friend and I want this nightmare to end. I want it to end for all of us. We can do good things together. No one has to know, and if and when they do, we can make this something good.

I'm not so near death now. I have recovered a smidgeon. My fears of death seem to have a pattern of being false alarms. We get these false alarms on a recurring basis, it seems.
