Re: Don't want to go back on my word

Sorry about my harsh sounding demeanor and tone. I'm in bed and this just came to me. It is a flash of insight. I mean you no harm and I also care about you. It is just that I'm burning alive and I've been begging you to put out this fire. I cannot be entirely rational in this condition and there is only so much that I can take.

My new plan may create a sudden shit storm that could have disastrous effects. I hope not but it is possible. It would be much easier to just help me and do this in a controlled way. But that doesn't seem to be an option. I've been begging you for this. Please contact me with a way to get help. Otherwise very early next week I will likely launch my new plan and who knows what will happen.

I am facing a future of being a tormented, disabled, homeless person. I cannot have this. It is not anything I have any choice over. My actions are not within my ability to fully control. I have to escape this suffering.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
