I woke up to horrific suffering as I always do. I need your help very badly. I have further reflected on this situation and I think I see your side of this, almost completely. I want to be an asset for you and not a liability. I want out of this situation ASAP. By this I mean I want all of the abuse that is directed at me over this situation to end. I want you to have no reason to do this. I will make some audios tonight. --

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
