What has happened has damaged me very badly. I don't know what to do. I need you to help me, for sure. There is something extremely bad wrong with me. I am in a trance like state and am picturing myself killing certain people. I have a feeling of extreme hostility and malice. It would not be safe for others to be around me while I'm like this. I can and would get violent, almost certainly. I don't know what on earth could be done to treat this. I may need to be institutionalized for life.

If you could get me enough money to live, I could just design my life so that I am not around others at unpredictable times. I need people to take care of me, at some point I will need that. I am extremely ill. I have been severely damaged by all that has occurred. That is what all of my symptoms indicate.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
