Please do something for me

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>

I could be wrong, but at the moment it looks probable that the people on the other end will have to answer for what you've done. It looks like your plan to keep this under the rug may have failed. I hope that I am not wrong and time will tell.

I called atrium today to get an appointment for a second opinion on my adderall. This is the medication that you took away as part of your campaign of abuse. I really need this back. It eases my suffering greatly.

I ask that you do something for me. At least let me have my meds back. A settlement offer would be very nice.

If I am not helped, I would put the odds as follows;

-the people on the other end never have to answer. What happened is completely under the rug - 20%

-the people on the other end have to answer and I live to see that day - 40%

-the people on the other end have to answer, and I die before that time comes. The people on the other end will have to answer also for why they murdered me with this cruel torture - 40%

So there you have an 80% chance that you have to answer to the public for what you've done.

It would be really nice if we could start working together as friends. I need my suffering to be lessened and ultimately I need my suffering to be put to an end.

This is obviously not a threat. I'm just telling you how I see it. If you help me, I will have some good things to say about you if and when the day comes that you answer for what you've done.

It is the right thing to do, to help me, no matter how powerful you are. I am very simply a human being who is suffering extremely and I never did anything to anyone to deserve any of it.
