Re: Please please please help me

I have been severely damaged by this abuse. There is something very bad wrong with me. It is dangerous for me to be around people all the time. I am a firecracker at times and my emotional pain comes with a hostility that makes me unsafe. Life feels like it pummels me. Everything that happens, every demand on me, however small, feels like a hammer blow on a helpless man. I suffer as bad or worse than many terminally ill people. My suffering is unbearable. It is killing me and is why I will die. I can't do anything. I am so helpless. Wells Fargo could make things so much better if they paid me a settlement. I don't mean to be a bastard or to impose on you by telling you that I'm going to die. It is just the morally relevant thing. It is the cost of me not getting help.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
