I don't want to die. I don't want to lose my fight. I am going to however. I could afford a decent amount of comfort and quite a few nice things if they paid me $8 million. Think of what I could have. You have to account for, however, the fact that this money would have to last me the rest of my life. I would still not be so helpless and I could relax and be happy for the first time in 2.5 years. 2.5 years have been torment and unbearable hell. Please make things right for me. I am not sure that I will live past the end of this week.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
