I dont know why

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I don't know why you haven't helped me yet. One possibility is that you don't believe me when I tell you how bad off I am. I am telling the truth about everything that I say. I am extremely handicapped and I have a terrible brain injury. Another possibility is that you have been prejudiced against me by my healthcare records. I have explained those. They do not say anything about me being a bad or dangerous person. I am not a psychopath or a bad person or any of this stuff. Another possibility is that people have accused me of some terrible thing. There are a lot of rumors that go around and my life is complex, and these things you are told, whatever they are, are not true.

It is completely inhuman and immoral the way I am left to suffer. I am the victim of a set of terrible crimes and I suffer extremely. I am not able to make it in life. I need to be able to hire people to do the things for me that I cannot do myself. If you help me, we can make this situation over for everyone. I am in terrible pain as I write this. Please do what is right and do something to help me.
