Any way you could do it would work. I need money and I need my medication. I'm going to die. I am not fit to live, due to my handicap. I need money to pay people to do the things that I cannot do for myself. I need my own place. I need to have some comfort to offset my terrible suffering. Please help me. I am begging you to please help me. $8 million is nothing to this bank. I am humiliated living with my mother and I live in terrible suffering and pain. The bank was trying to defend its interests and I understand that. Its actions have massacred me, however. I need it to make it right.

I am going to try to be less a dick in my communications with you. I throw it up to your face too much, how you let the bank get away with crime, my healthcare records being a crime, etc. I do not know how to be and I get angry. I need the bank to help me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
