I'm doing very badly

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

There is something terribly wrong with me. I know that it is from this battle and the relentless stress of my life tanking. I have a feeling like I'm going to have a heart attack soon. My arm went numb for at least 45 minutes last night. I have been very weak and short of breath. I've told you this before. It is an ongoing thing and the day is coming.

I cannot afford medical care and I need medical care for this. I need this bank to be made to make it right with me. I have been so severely damaged. I felt my system being fried during this battle, and I correctly anticipated that I would have premature health problems.

You could have stopped this. If you would have helped me when I asked you to get me $5,000 to relieve my stress, that would have worked. A few months in a row of $5,000 would have given me time to heal. If this sounds outrageous to you, you are from another planet. I'm asking for a $2 trillion bank to give me $5,000, to save my life after it injured me and left me a disabled, dying man.

The rightful cost of these crimes is to prosecute the bank and tank the global economy in the process. Is it worth $5,000 to keep the entire economy of planet earth running? Given that it is running at my expense, at the cost of me being denied justice, is it too much for me to ask for $5,000?

Relative to my condition as this battle progressed, I was still fresh in January 2021. You could have saved me from this massive damage to my body and mind. Now we have reached the point where there is no good outcome possible for me. My health is deteriorated to an extreme and it continues to deteriorate.

The right thing to do would be for you to help me, but I'm getting pissed as I'm typing this. I just deleted about 27 sentences where I tell you off. I'm not sure about this being in the media. I'm lowering my odds from 50% to probably 30%, for the next 2 months. I will eventually give up on them and try to get attention myself. That will be an uphill battle, due to the fact that I'm damn near dead. I was so incredibly weak yesterday. I'm still feeling very weak today. I have a feeling that I will die in not too long.

Anything you could do to help me would mean a lot. I would actually like to die, and I'm scared of having a heart attack and surviving. Life is unbearable for me, and if I have a heart attack and survive, I will be in that much worse condition. In re dying, I also do not want to die until I have had the crimes of Wells Fargo and of the various entities that Wells Fargo has induced into criminal behavior brought to light. The justice department is included as well, in the entities whose crimes I aim to expose.

What you have done to me is terrible. You have allowed this bank to become a murderer right before your eyes, and you have also participated in the murder. It may be hard to see yourself this way, but this is reality. This battle has killed me. There is still a chance for you to do the right thing for some of this. I don't think there is turning back with this murder. I could be wrong. But you could at least make this bank pay me so that I can have some comfort and maybe some medical care.
