Re: I live in such pain

To: "Division, Criminal (CRM)" <Criminal.Division@usdoj.gov>, civil.feedback@usdoj.gov

I live in such pain and my life is unbearable and not worth living. I feel my impairment every single day. I have some times that are better times, but it's not worth it. My life is also unsustainable. I will run out of money in the near term future and will be doomed. I cannot manage the affairs of living. My disability income isn't enough to pay for my own place to live, much less pay people to clean for me and do to all else that I cannot do.

I have not taken a shower in something like 3 weeks. My brain injury makes it very hard to do that. I get paralyzed mentally when I try.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
