“ My stories check out, down to the finest details, in most cases.”

- my punctuation was off. It is “ My stories check out, down to the finest details in most cases.”

My stories always check out, I think. I’m not sure if there is a single exception in the past 10 years. I can’t remember every story that I’ve told. I just know that I’m extremely honest and that I value the truth. There may have been some time that fudged a story to help a friend, I’m not sure. For sure, everything that I have told you is extremely accurate. Right down to the finest details, as I have said, most likely and in most cases.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
