I just checked it again. It was 113 over 80 even. 80 is stage 1 hypertension, just barely. I do think I can get the average way down. I think if I'm pegging below 80 consistently, I can get my dose upped. I don't think that he will go above 40 unless it is recommended by a neurologist. Possibly not even then. I really need 60, but I will be happy with whatever help he will give me. I hate being impaired. I used to be such a beast.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
