I have been working on my website some more. It's actually been hours though, since I worked on it. I work in 5 to 25 minute blocks of time, sometimes a little more, I think. I don't time myself. It causes me to have distress and I will get up and pace the floor, sometimes for maybe 20 or 30 minutes, other times an hour or more.

I am impaired in working. All I can do now is work on my computer at certain times, and type on my tablet or phone. I can't work anything like enough to be gainful activity. I've been doing better lately. I have periods where I do better from time to time. Another huge impairment I have is in dealing with people. I can never, ever work a job where I am around people. This is things like working an office job or maybe being a real estate agent. The reason is that I would murder my coworkers and my clients. It is inevitable. I have said it a million times. I can make my situation work forever, as long as I'm in control of my life. Then I would have trouble working in a self-employment job, because of the necessity of dealing with people. I am very easily caused enormous emotional pain and horrible suffering that make me extremely hostile. People couldn't stand dealing with me. I would be cursing and screaming at them. If I have to deal with them in person, I would end up murdering someone. When you work, you are at people's whims.

Outside of working on my computer, I can't do anything. I can't cook. I can't clean. I wear the same clothes for months at a time. I am murderer from typing all of this.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
