I'm also doing a pclr test with ChatGPT. It's going to take me forever, but it is giving me insights into how I have overstated my score to quite an extreme for my entire life. Which shouldn't surprise me. John told me that I was way exaggerating and self-diagnosing myself with cancer the first time I brought this up to him. I am so obviously not close to being a "psychopath" to anyone who is competent to judge and has spent time with me.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
