If I had my adderall upped, I could see how much better that I do with it. Adderall reduces my despair and my impairment. The despair that I feel is an automatic reaction to my impairment. My brain is broken and it has to work way too hard to try to do anything. This extra effort causes a feeling of helplessness and despair. It is not something that you can be talked out of. The only thing that has helped me with my ptsd related impairment is adderall. This is since may of 2019, when I first took an extra to try to work on my client's website. It worked and I asked for my dosage to be increased that month and for over a year following that. But no one wants to listen to me.

I would still be disabled, I am almost certain. I'm speaking of per the ss Admins Standards of not being able to make $1,470 a month. I'm not sure that there is anything that can be done to get me above that standard. I am very helpless to even work for anyone. I can do things on my own sometimes, when I am not being bothered.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
