"The more desperately you search for the next big fat joker, the more you expose yourself as a corrupt pack of terrorists"

- you have an airtight case sitting in front of you, against the powerful company and the powerful people who did this to me. You have had this case sitting in front of you for years, in the form of my massive collection of evidence, the evidence they have delivered to you, that I am not in possession of, and their full confession. It is the worst crime spree in the history of American business, perpetrated by a mega felon bank, and its officers, who all but spit in your face, with the extreme disrespect they treat you with.

You massacre the victim (me) with years of cruel and indecent abuse, pounding him with brutal crimes that cause him enormous damage, when he is already disabled, and after he offered to help you repeatedly.

You let the the people at the bank, and probably yourself, get gratification out of torturing me, and out of me begging for my life in complete humiliation.

In your next move, if this is what you want to do, you can break your fucking necks, going through every milliliter of my existence, that Wells Fargo hasn't already gone through, to find what I have done wrong, according to the law, or otherwise, so that you can take shots at me.

The contrast, created by your neck breaking on one side, against a disabled man, and your coddling, caressing, and gratifying the egos and the sadism of, the powerful people at the bank, when there is absolutely 0 neck breaking involved in uncovering the crimes they have committed right under your nose, and that they have confessed to you, and that you have had a mountain of evidence for, for over 3 years....

Do you see how this adds up to you killing yourself, in an effort to find any and every reason you can, to terrorize the victim of the worst crime spree in the history of American business? Do you see how any claim you make, to take such actions, for the purposes of "enforcing the rule of law" or any other purpose you cite, is going to be obviously ridiculous and made up, in the eyes of others?

There is no reason to do this to me. You need to split the pie. The people at the bank can be satisfied with the 99.99999999% of the pie that they have already gotten.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
