Overall, after I settle this, I think I will be much happier. There are positive things happening. My new medication regimen being a very big one. I will be able to get enjoyment out of life. Life will still be very hard, but the balance of positive and negative is being shifted. I can tell already that I am going to be able to read more. I could be wrong but I don't think so. If today is an indicator, I will be able to do my Kasina and read more. Once I get a bigger place, I will be that much more able. I haven't read any books today, but I can feel the lessened inhibition. Which by the way, inhibition is just the best way I know to describe what I experience. It is very much different than the ordinary experience people have that is called inhibition.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
