If I get $30 million out of this + inflated fees for software/training, I will probably be the largest payout that the bank has ever issued to an individual. The $30 million will be what we put on paper, if that's the figure we go with. My idea for how to justify this, while having no adverse affect on the bank, will get us far. I will have to flesh it out on ChatGPT.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
