"I am a totally ruined human being"

- you have no idea. I thought you might be helping me get a neurologist, but held out that it was a scam. That's obviously the case. All you know how to do is scam. You claim to the world that the facts favor you, as you are burying and hiding your actions and fabricating evidence and narratives nonstop. You don't make your claims to the world at once, you do it to one person at a time, behind my back. I've got so much to hide, according to your horseshit spiel, and yet I'm the one who has been trying for years to get this in front of the world. You're narrative is a photo negative of reality and every action that you take confirms that. The only facts that favor you are the falsehoods that you pay for.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
