I might get it to you today. I've also got to do my mothers taxes. I told you that if you upped my medication, I would do some research and work with you, and I want to make good on my promise. This can be over.

There is a concern, probably, about the awareness I have created online. I tend to think we can explain this all away very easily. And in that last sentence, substitute "I" for we. "We" won't need to, most likely, because "I" can do it alone.

Hopefully we have no public hoo rah created from the settlement, and I can quietly make my profile about something else. I've got a lot of topics and causes that I'm interested in.

Warmest Regards,

Clint Williams
