These people mean well and they do not see the folly of their ways and it kills me. This stuff is pouring destruction all over innocent children's' lives. It is a tiny number of children getting plowed all over by the whole world. This is what happens when laypeople, who do not understand the complexity of medicine, try to take over people's healthcare. It is not "try to take over" in some places, it is just plain take over. I care about the condition of the world, and this trans people + gender dysphoria patients vs gender critical people + others has turned into something of just destruction. It is reckless harm.
